BYRD DIGS UP HODGEPODGE OF 'WAR' ACTIVITY

61 Co-ordinators in OCD Setup.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Pictures on pages 8 and 10.)

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Sen. Harry F. Byrd [D., Va.], chairman of a committee that is trying to learn how the Roosevelt administration is spending the public's money and what it is doing to win the war, was a busy man today.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd.

In a senate speech he revealed that the war effort includes not only a coördinator of bowling on the staff of the Office of Civilian Defense but a coördinator of ping-pong, a coördinator of horseshoe pitching, a coördinator of badminton and exactly 57 other varieties of coördinators.

Kelly Wants a Million.

To finance these myriad activities, Sen. Byrd said that Jack B. Kelly of Philadelphia, physical fitness director of the OCD, only yesterday asked him for an appropriation of $1,000,000.

"He said also that unless he received at least $300,000 in the form of an appropriation he would resign," Sen. Byrd continued.

At a separate hearing Sen. Byrd's committee inquired into shipbuilding costs, ascertaining that the Todd Shipyards corporation made profits of $5,000,000, or 20 per cent, on a $25,000,000 investment in the repair business last year and stands to make a profit of $4,070,000 in three years on an investment of $642,000 in a project to build 37 ships for the United States Maritime commission.

Chicagoans Coördinate.

Sen. Byrd asked the Office of Civilian Defense for the names of all 61 coördinators on the sports board of its physical fitness division and promised to present it to the senate "in 36 hours."

In the meantime, however, he revealed that the coördinator of horseshoe pitching is Harry T. Woodfield of Washington, D. C., the coördinator of badminton is R. Ward Starrett of South Dearborn street, Chicago; the coördinator of billiards is Charles C. Peterson of 629 South Wabash avenue, Chicago, and the coördinator of code ball is William E. Code of 2306 North Clark street, Chicago. Sen. Byrd has not learned what "code ball" is, but he expressed confidence that it is just as essential to the war efforts as bag punching, weight lifting, and other activities being sponsored by the OCD.

[Code ball was originated about 10 years ago by Dr. W. D. Code, 65 year old Chicago physician who still plays the game. In this game the ball, 6 inches in diameter and weighing 12 ounces, can only be kicked as in soccer. The outdoor game is similar to golf in that the ball is kicked off a tee, along a course and finally into an inverted cone-shaped bowl. Fourteen holes constitute the regular course of the outdoor game. The indoor game is played in a court.]

The employment of Jack Willem, another Chicagoan, as coördinator of an OCD project to organize some 25,000,000 bowlers to bowl for national defense, was attacked by Sen. Byrd earlier this week. An attack on Sen. Byrd by Kelly was read to the senate today by Sen. Joseph F. Guffey [D., Pa.].

Kelly, emphasizing that his sports coördinators serve without pay, termed Sen. Byrd's attack "a classic

Normandie in Color

Another of the Tribune's series of "Famous News Photos in Color" appears on the back page of this issue. It is a reproduction of a photograph taken by the Tribune Color studio, showing the great French liner Normandie lying on its side at its pier in the Hudson river. The vessel, which had been taken over by the United States government and renamed the Lafayette, capsized after having been ravaged by fire.

WPB Prohibits Manufacture of Child Sizes

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Regulations to compel bicycle manufacturers to limit their output soon to lightweight bikes of two standardized models—men's and women's—and eliminating entirely the junior sizes were announced tonight by the War Production board.

Other features of the order were: Only 42 per cent as many bicycles may be built as were made in 1941 [a cut of 58 per cent in production], all bright metal work of the usual type and all non-essential gadgets must be eliminated, and each tire must not have more than 7½ ounces of rubber.

The possibility that precious metals might be used in prettifying the new model was seen in the announcement that they may not contain any metals other than iron, unalloyed steel, gold and silver. The silver and gold are not considered critical in war production.

47 Pound Limit Fixed.

For administration purposes the WPB divided the near future into two periods, the first to end March 31 and the second June 30. For the rest of the month the 42 per cent limit holds, but manufacturers may turn out any type so long as it is limited to 47 pounds, or 10 pounds less than the regular weight bikes.

Beginning April 1, children's vehicles may not be built. The top weight will be 31 pounds, which will make the bikes look flimsy compared to the recent sturdy type. Men's bicycles must have a diamond shaped frame [the camel backed frame with a steel tube from the front hanger to the rear wheel is forbidden]. Women's models will remain unchanged in frame. Frame measurement must be not less than 20 inches, and no balloon tires will be allowed.

H. D. Moore, head of the WPB bicycle division, said the board recognized the growing importance of the bicycle as a transportation factor now that auto use is severely reduced by tire rationing and possible gasoline curtailment.

Expect Use in Defense.

Defense workers and others needing substitutes for autos are expected to take many of the new bicycles. Last year the industry manufactured 1,800,000 units, but 85 per cent were for juveniles. It was estimated that the new output beginning in April would be at a monthly rate of 63,000, compared to a monthly production in 1941 for adults amounting to only 22,500.

Manufacturers of parts and accessories must, under the order, limit their output to 100 per cent of the 1941 rate and must use no critical metals like chrome steel except for joining hardware.

Moore said that it was expected that the use of steel by the bike makers would be cut from a normal 62,500 tons to 30,000 tons in 1942. Many bike makers have already converted their plants to handle war materials. A new order will be issued for the rest of the year before the April-June period expires.

Kentucky Abolishes All Except 3 Legal Holidays

Frankfort, Ky., March 12 (AP).—All legal holidays in Kentucky except Independence day, Labor day, and Christmas day were abolished for the duration of the war by a bill that Gov. Keen Johnson signed today. It becomes effective May 31.

THE OLD ARGUMENT BETWEEN SKILL AND SIZE

May Call Draft Registrants to War Industries

Selective service and United States employment officials in Chicago disclosed yesterday that all men registered in the 20-44 draft will be required soon to fill out questionnaires to show whether they have special abilities that can be used in war production industries.

In addition Paul V. McNutt, social security administrator, announced in Washington that the questionnaires eventually might reach all male Americans up to 64 years old. Such a listing would make available for some form of war service an approximate 40 million men. McNutt added that altho 7 million workers are in defense production, 10 million more will be needed when the output of war goods reaches the anticipated peak.

May Register Women.

Further, a bill introduced in congress yesterday by Rep. Priest [D., Tenn.] would permit the President to assign those deferred from armed service to civilian work vital to military supply. Priest said it was possible that women as well as men capable of working might be required later to register.

Louis Levine, acting chief of the reports and analysis division of the federal employment service, estimated that 251,000 skilled workers will be needed for war industries between now and July 1. Most of the new workers will have to be trained for their jobs. He indicated there were shortages of labor in most skilled trades.

Levine told a group of midwest field representatives that the first of the work questionnaires would start coming from the presses within two weeks. Local draft boards are to be the distributing agencies, and indexing of special skills is the task of the employment service.

An Occupational Inventory.

Lieut. Col. Victor A. Kleber of the Illinois selective service headquarters described the new system of questions as an occupational inventory of the United States.

All the government officials said they were confident a large part of the added labor needed might be found in the registration rolls. It is expected that the registrants with the necessary skills will, after classification has been completed, be offered specific defense jobs by the employment service.

U. S. TAX COLLECTOR PUTS THE BITE ON $150 A DAY FILM DOGS

Hollywood, Cal., March 12 [Special].—With the income tax collector just around the corner, tax filings today revealed that scores of dogs, mules, and other four footed animals and even birds make lots of money in the movies—for their owners.

Daisy, a male dog in spite of his feminine name, earned $150 a day when he worked last year, and with his kennel mates, Zero, Park, and Punkin, netted Owner Rennie Renfro about $14,000 for the year. Asta, another dog, seen in the "Thin Man" series, earned just about as much as Daisy, but his owner, Henry East, wouldn't say how much.

The police dog, Cyclone, took in $125 a week, and with 34 other dogs and eight cats, gave the Weatherwax brothers a reportable income of $4,400. Horses aplenty earned up to $10 a day, and a few, like Blackie, $15 a day, for their owners. Jim, the talking raven, did right well by Owner Curly Twiford, who wouldn't say how well in dollars. Big individual leader probably was U-No, the old mule, who brought in $9,000, raising to about $300,000 his screen and stage earnings for Red Donahue over 30 years.

WORKER CHARGES JOB FAKED FOR KNUDSEN VISIT

San Diego, Cal., March 12 (AP).—Charles Anderson, aircraft worker, testified today before a state senate committee on economic planning that the Ryan Aeronautical company had made its employés do faked work to give an appearance of operating full blast when William S. Knudsen, then associate director of the OPM, visited the plant last summer.

"Foremen stationed men at finished wings and instructed them to act as tho they were working," Anderson said. "For two days before that, there had been practically a standstill in work on wings, but that day we looked busy for the benefit of Knudsen."

Anderson, employed in the Ryan wing assembly department, told the committee the Ryan plant recently had reduced its work week to five days to avoid wholesale layoffs and "to stretch out its work to the next contract." State Sen. Robert W. Kenny of Los Angeles, chairman of the committee, said he understood there was a "great deal of idleness and slowup" in defense industries.

Pinza, Opera Star, Seized as Enemy Alien

New York, March 12 [Special].—Ezio Pinza, leading basso of the New York Metropolitan opera for 15 years, today was arrested by federal bureau of investigation agents and sent to Ellis Island as an enemy alien.

P. E. Foxworth, assistant FBI director in charge of the New York district, refused to discuss the case.

Served in Italian Army.

During the World war Pinza served in the artillery with the Italian army. Altho never openly identified with any pro-Fascist organizations in the United States, the opera star some time ago said he was Mussolini's "friend."

Pinza was born in Rome in 1892 and made his debut in New York in 1926. He is said to have taken out first United States citizenship papers. On Nov. 28, 1940, he married Doris Neal Leak, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William H. Leak, of Larchmont Manor. They have a daughter, born last September.

Wife Sued Mme. Rethberg.

In March of 1935 in New York his first wife, Augusta, upset the theatrical and musical world by suing Mme. Elizabeth Rethberg, Metropolitan soprano, for $250,000, alleging that Mme. Rethberg had wrecked the Pinza home. Mme. Rethberg said Signora Pinza's charges were a lot of nonsense and that her association with Pinza was purely the result of mutual artistic admiration. Signora Pinza dropped the suit two months later but she obtained a divorce.

That fall, in San Francisco, Pinza was the target of a suit brought by Octavia Picchioni, who said Pinza had promised to marry her; then, after a year, told her he did not want to see her any more, and she learned he was married. Pinza said the $200,000 suit was all the fault of Miss Picchioni's father and that "I shall smash my fist upon his nose when next I see him." That suit also was dismissed two years later.

SANG HERE OFTEN.

Pinza's first singing introduction to Chicago came in 1934, when he appeared with the Chicago Grand Opera company in both basso and baritone rôles.

Pinza's last appearance in Chicago was on Nov. 26, 1940, when he sang the Don Juan of Mozart's "Don Giovanni," in which he conquered no fewer than 1,003 women of Spain alone.

SINKING OF FOUR BRAZILIAN SHIPS STIRS CROWDS

Kill Nazi 'Traitors,' Throngs Cry.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, March 12 (AP).—Furious throngs of Brazilians assaulted big German department stores and other axis enterprises on Rio's main avenues today in hours of rioting after this largest Latin American republic had advanced to the edge of war by seizing many assets of German, Japanese and Italian subjects.

Inflamed by the sinking of four Brazilian ships, screaming crowds shattered the show windows of German department stores, ripped out window and counter displays and forced other German firms to run up Brazilian flags.

Thousands milled in the broad thorofares, shouting, "Kill them!" "Traitors!" "Dogs!"

Police Fire Shots in Air.

Police at first did little to stop the attacks, firing a few shots in the air, but after two hours truckloads of red capped special police rumbled up with submachine guns and sawed off shotguns.

The demonstrations started shortly after noon before the "Casa Lohner," owned by Germans. Passersby snatched up paving blocks and hurled them thru a show window. Suddenly a customer appeared in a doorway and shouted: "Viva Allemanha!" ["Long live Germany!"]

This set off a spreading mêlée. While many Germans huddled inside, the "Casa Lohner" put up its shutters and other German houses followed suit.

The crowd then ripped away latticed metal window covers from the blacklisted "Casa Alema," smashed glass and tore out window dummies and other properties.

Hoist Brazilian Flags.

Crowds descended also on the big buildings of Hermann Stoltz & Co. and Hasenclever company. Employés of the two German firms were forced to hoist huge Brazilian flags.

A sudden rainstorm and some 2,500 civil and military police finally dispersed the crowds in late afternoon after they had also stormed Japanese businesses.

Police still guarded two big German banks and about 50 other axis owned or controled business establishments which were attacked.

Earlier, President Getulio Vargas, declaring Germany, Japan, and Italy were "united in aggression," ordered various percentages of axis assets confiscated in reprisal for the ship sinkings. Yesterday the president served notice that he had the personal power to declare war.

Cites "Acts of War."

The preamble of today's decree said the confiscations were based on "acts of war practiced against the American continent," Germany's failure to pay admitted damages for bombing the Brazilian ship Taubate in the Mediterranean last March, and the fact that Germany was responsible for sinking unarmed Brazilian ships.

Axis subjects with funds or credits of more than $100 were directed to surrender 10 per cent of amounts up to $1,000, 20 per cent of funds up to $5,000, and 30 per cent of all greater sums. These funds will be held as a guarantee of indemnity for Brazil's losses.

Axis subjects and firms were prohibited from transferring property to others except in the line of normal business transactions. On those transactions they will be required to pay profit taxes on the same basis as on their bank deposits.

[Noah Van Cleef, chemical manufacturer and member of the Chicago Association of Commerce, will be interviewed over W-G-N at 6:30 o'clock this evening. Mr. Van Cleef, who has traveled in South America, will discuss certain aspects relating to the rioting in Rio de Janeiro.]

British Battle Tribesmen in India; 16 Die in Clash

PESHAWAR, India, March 13 [Friday]—(AP).—British troops and Indian constabulary were reported to have killed eight or more hostile tribesmen in a clash along the rugged northwestern frontier near the Khyber pass. British losses were put at eight dead and 14 wounded.

[Mohandas K. Gandhi termed British imperialism the "greatest crime against India." Details on page 2.]

DIGEST OF MAJOR WAR NEWS FROM FIGHTING FRONTS

Latest war developments:

The German air force sent waves of dive bombers against soviet troops concentrating for attacks on the Russian central front, destroying 26 tanks, according to Berlin radio reports. The Nazis, however, admitted that the Reds had broken thru their line northeast of Orel. London said 1,500,000 Red troops had launched an attack against the Nazis on the southern front and claimed that other offensives had broken the German line at vital points all the way up to the Lake Ilmen sector, 140 miles south of Leningrad.

Order Ceylon Evacuated.

British authorities ordered civilians to evacuate the Island of Ceylon, important Indian ocean naval base site at the southern tip of India, because of fear of a Japanese attack, said a dispatch from London. They acted as British and Chinese troops were reported to be consolidating Burma defense positions in an effort to prevent a Japanese invasion of India.

U. S. Sub Sinks 4 Ships.

The United States navy announced that an American submarine had sunk three cargo vessels and a passenger cargo craft in Japanese waters. It also revealed that a four engined Japanese seaplane had been shot down near Midway Island, 1,300 miles northwest of Pearl Harbor, when American airplanes intercepted two of them in that vicinity. The Australians reported no new military action in Japan's drive toward that continent.

[Details on pages 1, 2, and 3.]

CANADA EXPLAINS ROAD CLOSING TO U. S. WAR TRAFFIC

OTTAWA, Ont., March 12 (AP).—Permission for American trucks to carry goods thru Canada would be possible only by an amendment of the customs act and no consideration is being given at present to any change, an official spokesman said tonight.

Commenting on a protest made by Harvey J. Campbell, vice president of the Detroit commerce board, officials recalled that an application to allow American trucks to take a short cut thru Canada to the east was considered and turned down last fall.

Campbell, in a telegram to President Roosevelt, said Canada was impeding the war effort, and placed the blame on Munitions Minister C. D. Howe. Goods are at present carried by railways from one American point to another thru Canada in bond. But the government has held that goods in bond on a truck are not as subject to control as on railways.

5 PLY WOODEN TIRES SURVIVE ROAD TEST AT 75 MILES AN HOUR

Boonton, N. J., March 12 [Special].—Claude Habberstad of Sheep Hill demonstrated a set of wooden automobile tires today. He got the speed up to 75 miles an hour on the smooth concrete highway. Vibration increased but not to an annoying degree.

After the smooth run, Habberstad, a building contractor, tried the tires on a side road surfaced with jagged rock. Here he kept the speed down to 20 miles an hour. A small segment of one of the tires chipped off.

Habberstad used only front tires for the demonstration. He thinks they should give a car from 12,000 to 15,000 miles on good roads if the speed is held to around 30 miles an hour but doubts whether they would serve as well on rear wheels, because of the heavier traction.

Habberstad has applied for a patent for his wooden tires. They come in four sections, each section bolted to the rim. The tires are five ply, the layers running the long way. The wood is chemically treated to minimize contraction and expansion. The tires would cost around $10 each, less under mass production.

AMERICAN SUB SINKS 4 SHIPS IN JAP WATERS

Enemy Plane Shot Down Off Midway.

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—An American submarine venturing deep into Japanese territory was reported officially today to have sunk three enemy freighters and a passenger cargo ship, raising to 149 the total of vessels of all types damaged or destroyed by United States forces in the western Pacific. No other details were given in the navy department's communique.

A simultaneous announcement by the navy said that two Japanese four engined seaplanes had been intercepted by American fighting planes west of Midway Island Tuesday and one was shot down. One American plane was damaged and its pilot wounded, but he managed to return safely to the base on Midway.

This was the first word of enemy activity in the vicinity of Midway, 1,300 miles northwest of Pearl Harbor, since Jan. 29, when a navy communique said two Japanese submarines had been driven off by artillery fire which damaged one of the raiders.

Sea Becomes "No Man's Land."

The impression in naval circles here, however, is that the whole vast area of the Pacific lying west of the Hawaiian Islands and east of the area where Japan is now dominant has become something of a "no man's land." Enemy air and sea patrols and American planes and ships are constantly on the rove, feeling out each other's strength and seeking the advantage of surprise for sudden thrusts against the islands which dot that part of the ocean.

The waters close to Japan are profitable hunting grounds. On Jan. 17 the navy reported that a submarine had sunk three merchant ships off Tokio bay and a month later said that a 5,000 ton cargo ship had been sent to the bottom in the East China sea.

All together the four ships reported today raised the total of ships announced as sunk by American submarines in the western Pacific to 17 of all types. In addition nine have been reported probably sunk and four damaged.

Dislocate Jap Timetable.

CANBERRA, Australia, March 12 (AP).—The Japanese, having suffered heavy losses among their initial invasion fleets in the waters of New Guinea north of the Australian mainland, appeared today to be taking breath for new efforts to consolidate and extend their positions on that island.

[The Tokio radio today broadcast a report from Saigon, French Indo-China, which said that Melbourne, Australia, had been bombed for 35 minutes Thursday morning by Japanese planes. The broadcast was heard in London by Reuters news agency. The Australian radio, heard previously in New York, had said that Melbourne had observed a 35 minute "realistic daylight air raid test" Thursday morning. Melbourne is on the southern coast of Australia.]

Allied air power, which was declared here to have dislocated the enemy's timetable in two days of a strong, running counteroffensive, meantime was being marshaled for heavier attacks, particularly in defense of Port Moresby, the southernmost major New Guinea harbor, lying only 300 miles above Cape York in Australia proper.

Thirteen Jap Transports Hit.

A recapitulation indicated today that at least 13 enemy transports had been knocked out off New Guinea and nearby New Britain. [Washington, D. C., on Thursday reported that American bombers had sunk or damaged seven Japanese vessels at Salamaua, New Guinea.]

An air ministry communique reported that allied aircraft attacked both Salamaua and Lae yesterday, destroying buildings on the Salamaua airdrome and shooting down a Japanese interceptor plane.

Port Moresby again was raided by the enemy yesterday, it was added, but anti-aircraft guns kept the attackers at a high level and there were no casualties.

Nine Ships Hit, Japs Admit.

TOKIO, March 12 [From Japanese radio]—(AP).—Japanese imperial headquarters admitted today that three Japanese warships were damaged and six other ships sunk, beached, or damaged in Tuesday's landing operations at Salamaua and nearby Lae.

TOKIO CLAIMS 130 UNITED NATIONS WARSHIPS SUNK

7 Battleships, 3 Aircraft Carriers Listed.

TOKIO, March 12 [from Japanese broadcasts] (AP).—Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo told a special session of the Japanese diet [parliament] today that Japan has captured more than 210,000 prisoners in the Pacific war.

To the diet, summoned to celebrate the conquest of the Netherlands East Indies and hear reports on the first three months of the war, Tojo repeated the claim that "the main fleet of the United States and Britain already has disappeared from the surface of the Pacific," and that "all enemy strongholds in the southwest Pacific are in our hands."

"Japan must win further brilliant victories and continue her military operations to smash the United States and Britain and to establish the new order in greater Asia and thereby secure world peace," Tojo declared.

Minimizes Jap Losses.

He asserted that "Japan's defense position along the northern border [the frontier with Russia] is solid."

Japan's navy minister, Adm. Shigetaro Shimada, claimed 130 united nations' warships had been sunk. He declared that the Japanese navy losses were "only four destroyers, four submarines, five special submarines, one special vessel, five minesweepers, and 27 transports."

Shimada said united nations naval losses included seven battleships, three aircraft carriers, 12 cruisers, 22 destroyers, 44 submarines and 42 other warships sunk, and four battleships and 72 other warships damaged.

He said 128 merchant ships had been sunk, 92 ships damaged, and 502 ships captured.

Names Two U. S. Cruisers.

Shimada reiterated Japanese claims that the United States cruisers Houston and Marblehead were sunk during naval battles for Java.

Shimada said units of the naval air force had made a followup attack on Pearl Harbor, bombing a United States naval arsenal there on March 4.

Premier Tojo claimed Japanese planes and guns had shot down or destroyed on the ground more than 1,600 planes, and Japanese forces had captured 2,100 pieces of artillery, 180,000 rifles, machine guns, and pistols, and 28,000 tanks, motor cars, and railway cars.

Threat to India, Australia.

BERLIN, March 12 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—Premier Tojo, addressing the Japanese diet, declared today that Japan was determined to wipe out the last vestiges of British control in India, and warned Australia to fall in line with the "greater east Asia sphere" or be conquered, dispatches from Tokio said.

The dispatches gave this summary of the premier's speech:

Tojo said that if Australia did not "change her attitude she inevitably would follow in the tracks of the Netherlands Indies."

"Australians," he continued, "must be aware of the fact that it will be impossible for Australia, with her very scanty and scattered population and great distances separating her from the United States and Great Britain, to defend herself against our invincible forces.

"I hope that Australia, unaffected by her ancient relations and other considerations, will take stock of the situation and resign herself to accepting the decrees of providence."

8 Killed, 21 Hurt in Labor Disorders at Indian Mills

MADRAS, India, March 12 (AP). — Eight persons were killed and 21 seriously injured today in labor troubles at the Buckingham and Carnatic mills here. Police fired on some workers who attacked them. Authorities said the situation was under control.

AUSTRALIA HEARS AMERICA'S STORY OF RAID ON SHIPS

MELBOURNE, Australia, March 13 [Friday]—[Australian Associated Press to AP].—Dispatches reaching Australia today said the American press widely published an Australian communique giving the royal Australian air force credit for damaging seven Japanese ships off Salamaua, New Guinea, on Tuesday. Early today came news that the United States war department had issued a communique claiming the same seven ships for American bombers.

Behind those reports lies a story of official confusion which cannot yet be explained. The American communique was released in Canberra, the Australian capital. It was carried by the Australian press and radio. It is being repeated in today's newspapers. However, for reasons known in Washington, D. C., the Australian air ministry is unable to mention American participation in the attack in Australia's communique.

It is said that there was no desire on Australia's part to seize credit for the exploit, that the credit was forced on the RAAF, which, however, also participated and shared the honors.

U. S. OBJECTS TO VATICAN'S TIES WITH JAPANESE

Washingon, D. C., March 12 (AP).—The state department disclosed tonight it had made representations to the Vatican objecting to the establishment of relations between Japan and the Holy See, asked by Japan.

A spokesman said the department's communication was to inform the Vatican this country would regard such relations with suspicion because Japan had no interest in Catholicism and the state department believed that such a move was made solely to stir up trouble.

The spokesman said only one such representation had been made, and that it was not known here whether Great Britain had made similar objections.

Nazi Flees, Tries to Steal Canadian Plane, Is Seized

OTTAWA, Ont., March 12 [Special].—Admitting that he was trying to steal a trainer airplane and fly to some little inhabited part of the United States, Lieut. Frederick Oeser, a German prisoner of war, was recaptured today after less than 24 hours liberty. Oeser was caught by a flying instructor as he was stealing a flying outfit. Another escaped German airman, Lieut. Sigivard Fiedig, was captured near the Bowmanville camp, from which the two had escaped.

END IMPERIALISM IN INDIA, GANDHI EXHORTS BRITAIN

Calls It 'Greatest Crime' Against His People.

WARDHA, India, March 12 (AP).—Mohandas K. Gandhi exhorted Great Britain today to confess that her imperialism "has been the greatest crime against India" and to undo it, but he added sadly:

Mohandas K. Gandhi.

"Of the undoing there is yet no sign visible in the Indian sky."

The thin little supreme leader of the Indian Nationalists refused to make "impertinent suggestions" as to the practical steps which Britain and her new missionary to India, Sir Stafford Cripps, should take to bring into being an independence plan satisfactory to the diverse elements of India's 390,000,000 people.

Instead he said:

"Their conviction of the wrong will show the way."

Churchill Omissions Criticized.

Otherwise, Indian Nationalist opinion, as expressed in the press and by individual leaders, was remarkably unanimous on these points:

1. Disappointment because Winston Churchill, in his statement of Wednesday, did not announce specific reforms contemplated in the British war cabinet's new plan for ultimate dominion status for India.

2. Enthusiastic approval of the selection of Cripps as the man who is to come to India to attempt to get approval of the plan from Hindu and Moslem alike. India has 77 million Moslems and 240 million Hindus.

Warns Indian Princes.

Cripps perhaps is the most popular of all Britons in India, because of his championship of Russia, his radicalism and his known sympathy for the Indian national cause.

India's best authority on India states' treaties, Sir Kailis Kaksar, at Bombay warned the Indian princes that Victorian days are over and that they must make terms with the coming popular government if they want any place in the "India of tomorrow."

Moslem leaders clung to their original position. Mohammed Ali Jinnah, president of the All-India Moslem league, reiterated that his group would accept no solution of the Indian problem which did not provide for separate and autonomous Moslem and Hindu states.

British Decorate 2 Yank Flyers for Burma Defense

LONDON, March 12 (AP). — Robert Neale and Jack Newkirk, American volunteer air squadron leaders fighting in Burma, have been honored by the British government, dispatches from Mandalay said tonight. Neale, a former United States army pilot from Seattle, was awarded the distinguished flying cross, and Newkirk, a former naval flyer whose home was not given, received the distinguished service order.

Mexico to Ration Tires; Priorities Will Be Set

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, March 12 (AP).—Mexico City ordered tire rationing today, providing sales can be made only on certificates of priority issued by the national government, effective five days after publication in the official gazette in about two weeks.

CEYLON ATTACK FEARED; BRITISH EVACUATING ISLE

Civilians Ordered to Quit Indian Ocean Base.

[Copyright: 1942: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, March 12.—Preparing for a possible attack on Ceylon, British naval base in the Indian ocean, off the southern tip of India, Vice Adm. Sir Geoffrey Layton, commander in chief, today announced plans for its evacuation. Many civilians already have been evacuated from danger zones to various camps prepared in other parts of the island.

All persons not normally resident in Ceylon who are not employed in essential war work must arrange to leave as soon as passages are available. This includes the wives and children of naval, military, and air force personnel.

British and Chinese Consolidate.

LONDON, March 12 (AP).—A comparatively small British army in Burma sped efforts today to consolidate with Chinese forces a barrier to Japanese invasion of India via central and northern Burma.

A current lull in fighting is expected to be followed soon by clashes with the invaders in central Burma, whither the British took up positions after retiring from the Irrawaddy river delta.

[The German radio, quoting Japanese sources, said an allied detachment consisting principally of Indians had been wiped out or forced to surrender in a "heavy battle" north of Letpadan, 125 miles north and east of Rangoon. A DNB news dispatch from Bangkok, Thailand, reported that "enemy" troops had been repulsed after driving into Japanese occupied Thailand north of Chiengmai from Burma. Both British and Chinese troops are in that section of Burma.]

Heavy Fighting in China.

CHUNGKING, China, March 12 (AP).—The Chinese command reported tonight that heavy fighting still was going on in the Shansien-Tingtao-Hotseh area in southwest Shantung province, in north China, with both sides suffering heavy casualties.

Ten thousand Japanese troops attacked Chinese positions northeast of Tingtao, and the Chinese are resisting stubbornly, it was said.

SWEDEN SEIZES 10 NEWSPAPERS; STIRRED NAZI IRE

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, March 12 (AP).—Ten Swedish newspapers, several of which recently published matter to which the Germans objected, were seized today by order of the minister of justice.

Among them was the Goeteborgs Handels och Sjoefarts-Tidning, which aroused anger of the Germans last week by suggesting that Sweden take the initiative in getting Norway and Finland out of the war.

No official explanation was given for seizure of the newspapers, but today they all published articles on prison conditions in German-occupied Norway.

All Quiet on Bataan Front for 4th Consecutive Day

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—The war department in one of the briefest communiques of the war reported today that the lull in fighting continued on the Bataan peninsula front in the Philippines. It was the fourth consecutive day that the department reported absence of activity.

WAVES OF PLANES HIT REDS GIRDING FOR DRIVE: NAZIS

Troops, Tanks, Supplies Reported Blasted.

BERLIN, March 12 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—The German air force has sent waves of dive bombers against soviet tanks and infantry concentrating for attacks on the central Russian front, it was announced tonight. The dive bombers destroyed 26 heavy tanks and silenced two artillery batteries, it was stated.

Southeast of Lake Ilmen, it was said, dive bombers and fighters made ceaseless attacks against Russian troop concentrations, supply columns, and tanks. The German flyers were said to have destroyed planes on airdromes, 50 motor vehicles, and an ammunition dump.

The German air attack forestalled a Russian onslaught, it was stated.

Continued Red army attacks against German positions along the eastern front were reported by the high command, which said that all the soviet thrusts were repulsed.

The high command said several localities were captured by German forces in shock troop operations and counterattacks. The air force bombed the Crimean harbors of Sevastopol and Kerch.

Big Russian Drive Reported.

LONDON, March 12 (AP).—The soviet southern armies 1,500,000 strong were reported tonight attacking all along the front from the Sea of Azov northward to Kharkov in the Ukraine. Other great Russian offensives were reported breaking the German lines at vital points all the way up to Lake Ilmen on the front 140 miles south of Leningrad.

In the south, Marshal Simeon Timoshenko was declared to have hurled more than 90 armored and infantry divisions into the great struggle, his immediate objectives being Kharkov, Stalino, and Taganrog.

Tonight's soviet communique said "our troops . . . continued to advance and in certain sectors of the front occupied several populated places."

Smash at Orel Sector.

Advices from the front said the Russians had broken strongly-held German lines at several places and seized two large junction points in two days of deadly fighting that forced the Nazis to call on reserves. The locations were not identified.

Simultaneously, heavy soviet tank forces were smashing ahead in the Orel sector 250 miles north of Kharkov. The German high command admitted over the Berlin radio that the Russians had broken thru the line northeast of Orel.

On the central front, Red army dispatches said heavy offensive blows had endangered the German positions in a vast area north of the key city of Smolensk, costing the Nazis tremendously in lives, munitions and food.

Move Up Near Rzhev.

London sources expressed belief that the Russians finally had breached the defense works of Rzhev, one of the keystones of the whole elaborate system by which Hitler had hoped to hold a deep salient aimed toward Moscow.

Pravda, the communist party paper, said the 16th German army, caught in the Staraya Russa trap south of Lake Ilmen, lost additional thousands of men when the Russians captured 11 more communities. Other Red army units smashed ahead just north of Lake Ilmen.

HEART ATTACK FATAL.

Mrs. Minnie Howe, 60 years old, died of a heart attack in her home at 2026 North Tripp avenue yesterday.

3 BRITISH CRUISERS HIT IN MEDITERRANEAN CLASH, ITALY REPORTS

ROME, March 12 [from Italian broadcasts]—(AP).—Three British cruisers were hit, one probably was sunk, and other ships were damaged yesterday in an attack on a large British naval formation in the eastern Mediterranean, the Italian high command said today. Torpedo bombers carried out the attack, the war report declared, adding that German planes and U-boats followed up the assault and hit two more British naval units.

The German account of the Mediterranean battle claimed damage to five British cruisers—three hit by Italian torpedo planes, another by German bombers, and the fifth hit twice by torpedoes from a German submarine.

In Libya, the Italians said, there were patrol clashes near El Mekili. Six British planes were reported shot down over Malta.

British Tell Patrol Activity.

CAIRO, Egypt, March 12 (AP).—The British communique today reported only patrol activity and fighter plane operations in Libya.

LONDON SAYS RAF IS BOMBING NAZIS ON 'FULL SCALE'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 12.—The RAF has begun full scale bombing attacks on Germany, authoritative London sources said tonight, adding that the recent attacks on Essen, Germany, were considerably heavier than the Nazi bombing of Coventry.

The RAF, it was stated, is determined to continue and expand its sustained air offensive over Germany, as well as to bomb factories producing munitions and war equipment for the axis in France and other occupied territories.

At the same time it is stressed that, if Germany decides to return to mass attacks on British targets, some of the Nazi bombers are bound to get thru.

The air ministry said a German plane was shot down off Wales.

Claim Two Ships Sunk.

BERLIN, March 12 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—The high command today stated that in the English channel German speedboats attacked a British convoy and sank two steamers totaling 5,000 tons. Off the Scottish east coast German bombers were claimed to have damaged a merchant ship of medium tonnage.

AMERICAN SAILOR TELLS OF VOYAGE TO RUSSIAN PORT

Women of Murmansk Help Unload U. S. Supplies.

New York, March 12 (AP).—Norman Slade, 23 year old printing salesman of Belle Harbor, N. Y., always had wanted to go to sea. Today he told of his first voyage, as able seaman on a Panamanian merchant ship carrying American war supplies to Russia.

In an interview at the office of the Russian war relief, Slade said the long voyage was made without any unusual incident or direct attack on his ship.

Eighteen united nation ships arrived at Murmansk with cargo in the two weeks he was there, he said, and Americans were extremely popular in the port.

"Stand Treat" for Americans.

"They were wonderfully happy about America," he said. "If you said you were 'Amerikansk' they practically kissed you. I didn't have to spend a ruble outside of the price of a haircut and shave."

Slade said he was told that a few weeks before he arrived, German and Finnish troops had been pushed back from positions near the city and altho the port was not bombed during his stay there were evidences of other bombings.

Women Help Unload Ships.

Harbor installations were poor but the Russians, working 24 hours a day, speedily unloaded the cargo from his ship, and started it out on its railway journey. He said all the winches were operated by women and there were several women foremen among the longshoremen.

Slade said he gained the impression from some of the Russians that while British aid was impressive American supplies were arriving too slowly. He said he saw British pilots and tank technicians, many ready to return home after having instructed the Russians in the use of British weapons.

Japs, Clandestine Radio Seized by Mexican Army

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, March 12 (AP).—The Mexican general staff today announced several arrests had been made and a clandestine radio operated by a Japanese had been seized in the United States border state of Coahuila near Nueva Rosita, a mining town. The Japanese operating it were imprisoned. Military authorities of Yucatan were ordered to investigate the reported discovery of parts of a torpedo along the coast of the peninsula.

BRITISH MOTORISTS TOLD THEY'LL GET NO GAS AFTER JULY 1

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 12.—Private motorists in Britain, where visitors have been amazed by the heavy volume of wartime traffic, will get no more gasoline after July 1, it was officially decreed today.

During April, May, and June, the present basic "petrol" ration will be cut in half. This means, for example, that owners of automobiles of nine horsepower or less will be entitled to only six imperial gallons [seven and one-fifth American gallons] per month.

The decree was one of several made public today. A further cut of 10 per cent in newsprint consumption takes effect Monday. Horse racing will be limited to 13 per cent of prewar track schedules and restricted to five courses. Dog racing will be allowed only on Saturdays, and spectacular boxing events will be discouraged.

4 MORE SINKINGS IN THE CARIBBEAN REGION REVEALED

One a U. S. Ship; Believe Sub Supply Boat Seen.

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—Sinking of four additional vessels in or near the Caribbean area was disclosed today and survivors of one told of seeing a craft which they believed was a supply ship for axis U-boats.

The lost ships were the American tanker Oregon, two vessels identified only as a medium sized British tanker and a small Swedish freighter, and a fourth described merely as a "vessel."

The craft identified only as "a vessel" was torpedoed Friday off the Bahamas. British authorities at Nassau announced 38 survivors of the crew of 40 reached there Saturday, to be met at the docks by the duke and duchess of Windsor. The duke is governor of the colony.

Save 26 from U. S. Ship.

Cuban authorities permitted disclosure that the Oregon had been shelled and sunk some 50 miles off Puerto Plata, Dominican Republic. Ten survivors were landed at Baracoa, Cuba. Sixteen others were reported landed at Puerto Plata. Eleven crewmen are believed to be missing.

In Washington the navy department announced the torpedoing in the Caribbean area of the British and Swedish vessels. Subsequently, district naval headquarters at San Juan, Puerto Rico, authorized publication of further details, including the arrival there Monday of 83 survivors—the entire personnel of both ships.

Mother Ship Believed Sighted.

Capt. A. Henney, master of the British tanker, was quoted as saying he had seen what perhaps was a submarine mother ship.

The tanker's company got away in lifeboats and the following morning Henney sighted a ship less than five miles away. Using a small radio in his life boat, he called for help. The ship approached, then veered away. The tanker's master said he was convinced she had a rendezvous with the submarine which sank his ship.

The 49 officers and crew members of the British vessel were in lifeboats for 60 hours before being rescued.

Reveal Sub Sank 2 Lifeboats.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 12 (AP).—Four survivors of a crew of 38 aboard a United States tanker tonight said that a submarine sank their ship with shellfire and then ran down and sank two lifeboats and a liferaft. The attack came without warning at 4:15 a. m. on Feb. 28, a naval spokesman said. The survivors estimated the U-boat fired 200 shells. They said the ship was not torpedoed.

The vessel went down within 5 hours. The survivors drifted on two liferafts for nearly a week before being picked up by another ship on March 5 and landed here Tuesday night. Altho a naval spokesman here said Capt. I. J. Nielson and 33 members of the ship's crew were unaccounted for, other information indicated 26 of them were landed in Caribbean ports.

The navy, under a new policy, did not disclose the name of the medium sized tanker, but indicated its sinking previously had been disclosed in dispatches from a Caribbean port, so the announcement did not add to the submarine toll.

Ship Captain Beats Sea Death; Is Killed in Taxi

Newark, N. J., March 12 (AP).—Capt. Bennett D. Coleman, 73 years old, who escaped death last week when his schooner foundered in a storm, was killed tonight when a taxicab in which he was a passenger was in collision with an automobile. Capt. Coleman of Falmouth Heights, Mass., was in command of the four-masted schooner Anna R. Heidritter when the vessel foundered off Cape Hatteras. He and his crew were rescued by the coast guard.

Stimson Leaves Panama After Inspecting Canal

BALBOA, Canal Zone, March 12 (AP).—Secretary of War Stimson departed by plane today after an inspection tour of the Panama Canal Zone defenses.

WORKS ON AUTO; GAS FATAL.

Lawrence McMullen, 39 years old, was found dead yesterday in the garage behind his home at 1427 South Kilbourn avenue. The police reported he had apparently been overcome by gas when he was working on his automobile.

A Hero's Medal

Daniel Lockard (left), 11, inspects medal awarded to brother, Staff Sergt. Joseph L. Lockard. Their father, George M. Lockard, looks on.

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—The distinguished service medal was received today by Staff Sergt. Joseph L. Lockard, who delivered the unheeded warning of the approach of planes to Pearl Harbor shortly before the Japanese attack Dec. 7.

Undersecretary of War Robert Patterson presented the medal to Lockard with the declaration: "May the warning of danger to your country never go unheeded again."

Lockard will enter the officer's training school at Fort Monmouth, N. J., tomorrow.

BRITISH PROTEST FAILURE TO HIT NAZI BATTLESHIP

Compare Jap Attack with Tirpitz Escape.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on page 10.)

LONDON, March 12.—Failure of British torpedo bombers to hit the German battleship Tirpitz in their encounter Monday off the Norwegian coast resulted in widespread criticism here today from press and public. The Tirpitz, it was reported, fled toward the Norwegian coast in safety under a smoke screen.

Unfavorable comparisons were drawn between the action against the Tirpitz and the sinking of the British battlecruiser Repulse and the British battleship Prince of Wales Dec. 10 off the Malayan coast by Japanese torpedo planes.

Disappointment Is Keen.

Despite explanations by naval observers that the seaborne British planes could not possibly have attacked the Tirpitz with the intensity the Japanese land-based planes employed against Britain's ill-fated capital ships, keen disappointment persisted over the performance off Trondheim.

Successful use of a smokescreen by the escaping Nazi battleship resulted in questions as to why the British battleships were not shielded from their Japanese attackers in that manner. It was pointed out that the Tirpitz, like the British ships, lacked a protective "umbrella" of fighting planes.

Convoy to Russia "Saved."

The British torpedo plane attack, critics asserted, apparently served only to tip off the Tirpitz that British battleships are in the vicinity. However, dispatches from the Stockholm correspondent of the News Chronicle indicated that the attack was successful in that the Tirpitz "failed to get within 300 miles of its prospective prey"—a convoy bound for Russia.

Meanwhile, the admiralty reported that the German battleship Gneisenau and the cruiser Prinz Eugen had sustained considerable damage in their recent dash thru the English channel from Brest. Aerial photographs of the Gneisenau in drydock at Kiel, it was stated, reveal a long gaping hole in the bow, extending virtually to the waterline, and other damage astern. Reports from Stockholm said the Prinz Eugen was badly hit aft, with damage to steering gear, propellers and engine room.

Members of parliament whose demands for an inquiry into the fall of Singapore have been staved off by Prime Minister Winston Churchill were told today that the government has asked for a full report on the Malayan campaign by Maj. Gen. Henry Gordon Bennett, commander of the Australian forces, who has escaped to his homeland.

BRITAIN CANCELS BEAVERBROOK'S MISSION TO U. S.

Hint He Has Dropped Out of Government.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 12.—Political observers in London tonight believed that Lord Beaverbrook may have dropped completely out of the government, following Prime Minister Winston Churchill's statement in the house of commons that the production coördination mission to the United States, which Beaverbrook was to have headed, has been canceled.

In his statement to commons, in which he admitted it was doubtful whether Beaverbrook would go to Washington, D. C., Churchill said Oliver Lyttelton, Beaverbrook's successor as minister of production, also would "direct the work of the British representatives on the combined body set up here and in the United States," the job to which Beaverbrook was assigned in a cabinet revision on Feb. 20.

Beaverbrook has been ailing with asthma for some time and is said to have refused a new cabinet position because of his health.

Making his first statement on the production ministry, as headed by Lyttelton, Churchill said the new minister "will organize, in coöperation with the dominions and other empire governments, the joint planning of production of raw materials, machine tools, and finished munitions."

Churchill also said the production and labor ministries will share responsibility in allocating Britain's labor. The labor ministry still will be responsible generally for the supply of labor, he said, but the production ministry will determine which calls for labor should be given precedence.

WESLEY W. STOUT QUITS SATURDAY EVENING POST

Philadelphia, Pa., March 12 [Special].—Wesley Winans Stout resigned as editor of the Saturday Evening Post today, effective next Monday, because of a "firm but friendly disagreement with the Curtis Publishing company on policy."

The company said Stout's place would be taken by Ben Hibbs, who has been editor of Country Gentleman, another Curtis publication. Robert Reed, associate editor of Country Gentleman, will succeed Hibbs.

There was nothing in the statement by the company to indicate the nature of the disagreement. Stout could not be reached for comment.

It was taken for granted by most of Stout's friends that the resignation stemmed from his rigid isolationism, a belief which had not squared with that of the magazine since the entry of this country into the war. Others in the Post editorial offices, however, said they were convinced that that had nothing to do with his resignation.

Lower California Road Fund Allotted by Mexico

MEXICO CITY, March 12 (AP).—The public works ministry today set aside 2,000,000 pesos [$500,000] for work on the proposed defense highway the length of the peninsula of Lower California. The highway is designed to connect the 800 mile long peninsula directly with the United States west coast.

South Africa Bolsters Coastal Air Defenses

BERNICE WIEGERT.

After almost five years and a million miles of flying, Stewardess Bernice Wiegert of United Air Lines is about to leave the airways for a new career as housewife.

On March 18 she will become the bride of Lieut. Lee Haas of the United States Quartermaster Corps. The ceremony will take place at the Thorndike Hilton Memorial chapel on the University of Chicago campus.

Miss Wiegert, a graduate of the Columbia Hospital School of Nursing at Milwaukee, Wis., has been flying the Chicago-New York section of United's coast to coast route since 1937. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Wiegert of Forest Junction, Wis. Haas, a graduate of the University of Illinois, is the son of Mrs. Leon Haas of Independence, Kas.

BOMBER CRASH IN TEXAS KILLS SIX ARMY FLYERS

San Antonio, Tex., March 12 (AP).—Six army flyers—three officers and three enlisted men—were killed last night in the crash of their B-25 medium bomber nine miles east of Yoakum, Duncan field officials disclosed today. The machine burned.

The dead, all from Camp Beauregard, La., were: First Lieut. Angus M. Johnston, 23 years old, Taft, Cal.; Second Lieut. Dana W. Bradford, 24, pilot, Los Angeles, Cal.; Second Lieut. Ronald C. Hocking, 22, co-pilot, Absaraka, N. D.; Master Sergt. C. G. Frazier, 37, San Rafael, Cal.; Technical Sergt. Earl F. Ricks, 42, Bridgeport, Ind.; Sergt. Stanley A. Smith, 23, Bison, S. D.

Interceptor Plane Crashes.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 12 [Special].—An army interceptor P-38 plane crashed tonight a mile northeast of the Douglas plant in Long Beach and caught fire. The pilot was critically injured, police reported. Army officials withheld identity of the pilot pending investigation of the crash.

BILL FOR OPEN SHOPS ON U. S. JOBS OFFERED

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—Sen. Clyde M. Reed [R., Kas.] today introduced a bill to prohibit requirement of membership in a labor, political, religious, civic or fraternal organization as a condition to obtaining government employment or work on government financed projects.

The bill sets out that "all qualified persons who are citizens of the United States, or who have declared their intention to become such citizens, are entitled to equal opportunities with respect to employment in the service of the United States and employment resulting from expenditures made by the United States."

"If the taxpayer's money taken from the public treasury is to be used in government activity, no requirement for employment can fairly be imposed except as stated, namely: Competency and citizenship," Reed said.

U. S. WILL CARE FOR CIVILIANS HURT BY ENEMY

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—Civilians injured by "enemy action," including sabotage, will be given free hospitalization at government expense, under plans announced jointly today by Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator, and Civilian Defense Director James M. Landis.

The treatment, described as "temporary aid," will be furnished by so-called casualty receiving hospitals—presumably institutions and hospitals in cities attacked—and later, if necessary, by "emergency base hospitals."

Existing institutions outside of cities, perhaps within a 20 or 30 mile radius, will be designated as base hospitals and staffed with local doctors and surgeons who will be commissioned in the public health service reserve corps. These staff members will receive rank, pay, and allowances comparable to those of the army medical corps.

CHICAGO TO GET U. S. AGENCY WITH 1,100 EMPLOYES

F. D. R. Approves Shift of Alien Assets Office.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—President Roosevelt has indicated his approval of a plan for locating the administrative offices of the alien property custodian in Chicago, it was learned today.

This will involve the transfer of approximately 1,100 government employés from Washington to Chicago. These have been employed in the treasury and justice departments. Branch offices are expected to be maintained in New York, San Francisco, and possibly other cities.

Officials said they have not determined how much Chicago office space will be required, but a survey will be made in the near future to determine the need and select a location.

[The government is considering moving headquarters of the Social Security board to Chicago, it was reported yesterday after it was learned that inquiries had been made regarding space in the Merchandise Mart. Story on page 29.]

Seven Billions Involved.

Leo T. Crowley is the new alien property custodian, charged with broad powers to control and manage approximately 7 billion dollars in foreign assets, which have been placed in trust until the end of the war.

Crowley will continue as chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation and also as chairman of the Standard Gas and Electric corporation, from which he receives $50,000 a year. He takes no salary from the government in his official posts.

Crowley has resigned his directorships in Lehman Brothers corporation, a New York investment banking firm, and Pan American Airways, because he thought these positions might conflict with his new job.

During the 1917-'18 World war irregularities in the alien property custodian's office plagued the Wilson administration. Wishing to avert a repetition of such scandals, it is understood that President Roosevelt insisted that Crowley assume this office on the basis of the former Wisconsin banker's efficient handling of the FDIC.

Helped Arrange Setup.

Crowley helped plan the new office as an independent agency, but didn't intend to stay in it, it is reported. Crowley's appointment also resolved a fight between the treasury and justice departments for control of foreign assets.

One of the duties of the custodian will be to reorganize and Americanize three important companies formerly controled by enemy aliens. These are the General Aniline and Film corporation, the Schering corporation, and the American Bosch Magneto company.

Crowley told reporters today at a press conference that he will continue reorganization plans started by the treasury while the assets were under Secretary Henry Morgenthau's control. Crowley said he will devote most of his efforts to the operation of alien industrial plants and business, leaving supervision over frozen foreign funds to the treasury for the present.

MEANS 10,000 NEWCOMERS.

With establishment of the alien property custodian's office in Chicago, this city will be the center of five government agencies with staffs totaling 3,350 employés. This is calculated to mean 10,000 to 15,000 new residents for Chicago, counting families of the employés affected.

Offices which will be centered here, according to plans announced thus far, are:

Office of alien property custodian, 1,100 employés; fish and wild life service of the interior department, 375; office of Indian affairs, 300; Railroad Retirement board, 1,600; National Park service, 175.

Former Aurora Sailor Lost in Wrecking of Destroyer

Relatives of Coxswain Joseph A. Buck Jr., a former resident of Aurora, have been informed that he was lost when the destroyer Truxtun was wrecked in a storm in the North Atlantic last month. Buck, a graduate of the East High school in Aurora, was serving a second enlistment in the navy. He was 22 years old. His mother, Mrs. Mona Buck, lives at 5523 Kenmore avenue. His wife, Mrs. Jane Funk Buck, is with her parents at 311 North Highland avenue, Aurora.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 12 [Special].—Girls employed in the Philadelphia ordnance district headquarters have designed and adopted a uniform of their own. It is of khaki wool gabardine. The shoulder, sleeve, and front buttons are army type. The sleeve insignia is an ordnance bomb embroidered in ordnance red in the center of a white felt background encircled by blue silk stars. Wearing of the uniform is optional, and they are purchased by the girls with their own funds.

U. S. ARMY UNITS PREPARE TO MAP ALASKA HIGHWAY

More Soldiers Moving Across Canada.

DAWSON CREEK, British Columbia, March 12 (AP).—United States army reconnaissance units, led by experienced northern bushmen and equipped with dog teams and essential paraphernalia, soon will leave Fort Nelson, 300 miles north of here, to map the route over which the Alaska highway will be built, officers here said tonight.

Meanwhile, hundreds of United States troops who will work on construction of the highway moved northward from Edmonton by train.

En route here they arrived at the Alberta capital aboard 10 coaches earlier today. They will bolster Americans who have already arrived at this rail end town.

Bring Big Trucks, Trailers.

The men, representative of 38 of the 48 states, brought heavy ten-wheeled trucks and gasoline trailers.

Preparations for the trip from Fort Nelson are well under way and dog teams already have been ordered. Guides are being sought.

Military secrecy shrouds the exact route over which the units will travel. The land in this north country ranks with the wildest on the continent.

Race Thaw, Ice Breakup.

The biggest job at present, it was stated, is to get a force of men and equipment into Fort Nelson before the spring thaw, which will render useless the winter road from Fort St. John, 30 miles north of here, to Fort Nelson. The roadbed becomes too soft to allow travel in the spring or summer. The spring thaw, expected about mid-April, also brings the annual Peace river breakup and there is a delay of several weeks before the ferry service can be started.

The engineers at Fort Nelson will have no contact with the outside world except by airplane for 150 days.

American army men here are working feverishly to get supplies into Forts St. John and Nelson before the river ice goes out.

ICKES ASKS U. S. TO LET F. D. R. DIRECT THE WAR

New York, March 12 [Special].—Calling on all Americans to fall in behind President Roosevelt as their commander in chief, Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes tonight also said the President should be left to decide whether the United States should strike first against Berlin or Tokio.

"It is his to decide where and how the blow must be struck that will the soonest and most completely shatter the enemy's morale and destroy him," Ickes added.

Ickes spoke at "America's Town Meeting of the Air" in the town hall here on the subject, "Are the American People Preparing Themselves for Total War?"

SUGAR IS SCARCE, BUT HOUSE VOTES GROWERS SUBSIDY

Screw Loose Somewhere, Critic Comments.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—As the nation prepares for a strict rationing of sugar to consumers the house today approved an appropriation of $47,962,910 which will be handed over to sugar growers in the form of subsidies.

"There's a screw loose somewhere when we pay farmers money to raise sugar," declared Rep. Robert Rich [R., Pa.]. "This is the sort of thing which grew up under the New Deal which has to be stopped if we're going to win this war without putting the country into bankruptcy."

Representatives of cane and sugar beet states, however, mustered their forces to defeat an amendment to the $695,000,000 agriculture department appropriation bill which would have eliminated sugar subsidies. The decision was by voice vote.

Rep. Joe Hendricks [R., Fla.], sponsor of the amendment, noted that the sugar act of 1938 was passed at a time when there was an over production of sugar, in order to keep prices up. There is now a shortage, he remarked.

Difficult to Explain.

"It will be difficult to explain to the nation," he told the house, "when sugar rationing cards are being handed out and the housewife permitted to buy half a pound per week, why we should be spending 48 millions of dollars in benefit payments to sugar growers."

Hendricks pointed to the appropriation subcommittee's own report as evidence that the appropriation was not needed.

"The committee can see no sound reason for the continuance of this program of benefit payments to growers who are free to produce without restriction for a market in which the demand is certain to be substantially in excess of the supply for some time to come," the committee report stated. "The subcommittee believes the legislation should be suspended under present conditions."

Fund Reported Anyway.

Nevertheless, the committee reported the big fund to the house.

Rep. Ross A. Collins [D., Miss.], spoke for the sugar bloc. He noted that a federal tax of a half cent per pound on sugar finances the subsidies. If the sugar act fund should be eliminated, the administration would have to raise the present price ceiling of $3.74 per 100 pounds on sugar, he said, and the consumer would have to pay one or two cents more a pound.

Collins was supported by Rep. Harry B. Coffee [R., Neb.], who said that sugar beet farmers would grow other crops if they were not given subsidies. He said the Hendricks amendment was not in the interests of economy.

"There are vast areas in the west and Florida where sugar could be grown," retorted Hendricks, "while housewives will shortly stand in line to get their sugar cards."

The areas available for sugar but unused, according to his argument, are mute evidence that the sugar subsidy actually is a waste because it has failed to encourage production of the vitally needed commodity in the present emergency.

Economy forces won a victory, however, when they succeeded in lopping off $21,250,000 from the fund in the bill for the conduct of the farm tenant act. Administration leaders insisted that a total of $47,500,000 was essential for administrative expenses and loans to farmers under the act, but a combination of economy minded Republicans and Democrats put over by a vote of 120 to 104 an amendment slashing the fund also in half.

Accused by OPA

[TRIBUNE Photos.]

Louis G. Kailer, part owner of an automobile agency at 5050 Broadway, was arraigned yesterday before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker, accused of misrepresenting to the OPA the number of tires on hand in the agency.

Arraigned with him was Frank Switall, alias F. G. Stutz, 4030 Clarendon avenue, a stock clerk. They were charged with filing false reports concerning matters over which the government has jurisdiction and were released on $1,000 bonds for hearing April 2. Kailer's partner, Herbert Youngquist, surrendered and was released in $1,000 bond. Switall was arrested Wednesday night in his home at 2030 McDaniel street, Evanston.

Federal agents said they found 10 new automobile tires in Kailer's home. Kailer, according to the agents, said the tires were taken off used cars sold by his agency in November and that he and Youngquist intended to keep them for personal use, and didn't think it was necessary to register them. This was believed to be the first case of such a nature in this district.

GARDEN WARDEN NOMINEES ARE SOUGHT IN CITY

Nominations for community garden chairmen and block garden wardens were accepted and forwarded yesterday by district defense commanders to the central defense offices in connection with the campaign to plant victory gardens in back yards and on vacant lots.

There will be one chairman in each community and one warden in each block where gardening possibilities exist. Candidates for the positions must possess knowledge of gardening. Active officials and members of gardening clubs are considered especially suitable.

Gardening classes are being conducted at 8 p. m. Mondays in the Museum of Science and Industry and in eight park district fieldhouses.

WARNS OF SOCIAL UPSET FOSTERED BEHIND WAR TALK

Woodruff Hits Planners for Arms Plant Lag.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—The nation's battle for survival is being shackled by New Dealers, high in government posts of trust, who are pushing their social, economic and political theories at the expense of the war effort, Rep. Roy O. Woodruff [R., Mich.] charged today. He warned that the American people have been given every reason to believe that administration radicals are attempting to conduct "a social revolution in this country under cover of the bloody war abroad."

Rep. Woodruff.

As an example of the "spirit" of administration officials, Woodruff quoted Attorney General Francis Biddle as declaring recently that, regardless of the war, the New Deal must go on.

Guest of Leftist Magazine.

Biddle's statement, the Michigan representative explained, was made at a dinner party in Washington, given by the leftist magazine, New Republic, and attended by many prominent government officials who gathered to observe the 9th anniversary of the New Deal amid speech-making and the clink of glasses.

Woodruff said a representative of the magazine, presiding over the party, struck the theme of the evening when he told his guests that the New Deal is "more dynamic than Fascism and more revolutionary than communism."

Incidents such as this, Woodruff warned, are making the hearts of American mothers and fathers heavy with fear while their sons are fighting on foreign battlefields "or crouching in the mud trying to hide from enemy airplanes."

Arms Should Come First.

"These same mothers and fathers would feel much happier," Woodruff cried, "if men like Mr. Biddle and government officials of similar standing were devoting their attention to bringing about much speedier production of the machines and implements of war so sadly needed by our troops and our sailors instead of holding Washington dinners to plan how to push the New Deal theories regardless of the war.

"The people want to believe the administration will do its best to preserve our form of government and our way of life and our free economy after this war is over—yet they are made to doubt it by such incidents as this New Republic dinner and the Biddle speech."

NAVY WILL INDUCT 10,000TH RECRUIT IN STATE ST. CEREMONY

The 10,000th Chicagoan to join the navy since the attack on Pearl Harbor will be inducted into the service in a patriotic ceremony Wednesday at State and Madison streets—the world's busiest corner. The induction will highlight special defense stamp day. Sailor No. 10,000 and his family will be fêted by the city, State Street council and various other organizations thruout the day.

Sales of defense bonds thru the federal reserve bank of Chicago now total $699,548,000, it was announced yesterday. In addition, postoffice officials report total sales of stamps and bonds at $38,638,289. Chicagoans purchased $317 in stamps and bonds at the Tribune's two public service offices yesterday, bringing the total of sales thru the Tribune since Dec. 30 to $342,517.

SOW DANDELIONS IN APRIL AND REAP TIRES IN OCTOBER!

Solved Russian Rubber Problem, House Told.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—The lowly dandelion may solve the rubber shortage problem in the United States.

This was the contention today of Dr. Paul J. Kolachov of Louisville, Ky., a Russian born scientist, before the house agriculture committee, which is considering a bill to stimulate the breeding of crops which this nation has heretofore imported.

Kolachov cited the vast potentialities of rubber production from koksagyz, a Russian cousin of the American dandelion, which he said is now supplying the bulk of Russia's rubber needs. The plant can be grown in 42 of the 48 states, he declared.

Seed Request Refused.

The United States tried some years ago to obtain seed for this plant from Russia, but the request was refused. Now that Russia is our ally, Kolachov said, she should be willing to give us seed in gratitude for our lend-lease aid. Committee members said the state department would be asked to forward the request thru diplomatic channels.

In 1938, Kolachov told the committee, Russia had 170,000 acres planted in koksagyz and it contemplated expanding to 2,500,000 acres.

200 Pounds per Acre.

"This plant will produce from 150 to 200 pounds of rubber per acre of equal quality to the rubber which we have heretofore obtained from the Dutch East Indies," he declared. "The plant averages 12 to 27 per cent of rubber latex. In contrast with guayule, the growth of which congress is now encouraging and which will take four years to come into production after planting, the dandelion plant will produce in one season.

"You can plant in April and have tires in October. This plant will grow in 42 of the 48 states—or in every state where there is 20 inches of annual rainfall. Its potentialities for the United States are beyond description, once we get plantings started.

"Russian scientists consider koksagyz superior to guayule because the latex it contains is much more readily extracted than from grayule. It contains very little waste and other interfering materials and in addition it can be cultivated in a temperate climate."

50,000 Tons Produced.

Russia produced 50,000 tons of synthetic rubber in 1939, Kolachov said, while Germany produced 20,000 tons. The United States produced only 4,000 tons in that year altho it plans to be producing 120,000 tons by the end of 1942.

Government scientists have been cold to the possibilities of the Russian dandelion, he remarked, adding:

"The information which Washington possesses on koksagyz is of the same degree of accuracy as the information the world had about the Red army."

He exhibited to the committee 131 different varieties of imported seeds, now unobtainable because of the war, from which the United States has been dependent for many essential oils used in the drug, foodstuffs, perfume and beverage industries. All can be grown in this country if farmers are encouraged and shown how it can be done, he said.

Milkweed Is Utilized.

Dr. Boris Berkman, a retired Chicago physician, also told the committee of a process he had developed to make life preserver and heat resisting jackets out of milkweed plants for use by men in the armed forces.

Dr. Berkman said he was authorized by the navy to say that he had been asked to supply 1,000,000 pounds of floss from milkweed pods this year to the bureau of ships. He estimated that 300,000 jackets could be made from that amount of floss.

He explained that all parts of the milkweed plant could be utilized. He mentioned insulation material from the floss, which he described as a substitute for kapok, and rubber and wax from the pod shells; writing paper and cellulose from the stalks, and use of the roots in preventing soil erosion.

AIR RAID WARDEN FALLS DEAD IN BLACKOUT TEST

Worcester, Mass., March 12 [Special].—A practice 20 minute air raid blackout tonight in 56 cities and towns in the Massachusetts industrial area resulted in the death of one air raid warden and injury to three other persons. About 40,000 wardens as well as police and firemen were on duty thruout the area.

Leslie E. Cyphers, 60 years old, of Natick, Mass., an air raid warden, fell dead of a heart attack. In other towns a warden was slugged when he rang a doorbell of a home that had not been blacked out; a Boy Scout fractured his skull on a beam after he had extinguished the lights in a building, and another warden was bitten by a dog. In the town of Auburn wardens stoned out a light which couldn't be extinguished otherwise.

Two babies were born in hospitals here during the blackout.

DIVORCEE FREED ON $2,000 BOND AS DRUNK DRIVER

U. S. Probes Shooting at Fort Sheridan.

A charge of driving while intoxicated was placed yesterday against Mrs. Ruth S. Hunt, wealthy Highland Park divorcée, whose attempt to drive past a Fort Sheridan sentry Wednesday night resulted in a soldier being shot and critically wounded.

Assistant State's Attorney George W. Field said that Col. Fredrick C. Rogers, commandant of Fort Sheridan, informed him that a report of the incident would be made to federal authorities, who may take charge of the case.

Four Lawyers Appear for Her.

Mrs. Hunt, for whom four attorneys appeared, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Harry Hoyt in Waukegan and freed in bond of $2,000. A further hearing was set for March 20, but Field said the matter probably will be taken into County court before that time unless federal authorities ask jurisdiction. A federal statute provides for a possible maximum fine of $500 or six months' imprisonment for entering an army post without permission.

Mrs. Hunt, who lives at 803 Roslyn lane, drove into the Walker avenue entrance of the fort, disregarding a sentry's order to halt. When the sentry fired, Private Armand Marshick, 22 years old, of Dearborn, Mich., a bystander, was hit.

Three Previous Arrests.

Mrs. Hunt, daughter of the late A. E. Staley, Decatur starch manufacturer, has had several previous brushes with the law. She paid a fine in 1940 for driving while drunk, and was twice arrested last June, paying a $100 fine in one case.

Mrs. Hunt was divorced in 1939 from Floyd P. Hunt, member of the board of trade. She is a golfer and skeet shooter.

APARTMENT LOOT WORTH $250.

A portable typewriter, clothing, and jewelry, all valued at $250, were stolen yesterday from the apartment of Abraham Greenberg, 1011 East 62d street, he reported to police.

INVENTOR OFFERS U. S. HIS NON-EXPLOSIVE BOILER USED BY NAZIS

New York, March 12 (AP).—Mark Benson, inventor of the nonexplosive marine boiler, said today he had offered to turn over to the United States government the rights to his invention, heretofore exclusively held by the Germans.

"Had I foreseen the present war developments, I never would have disposed of the world patent rights as I did," he said in an interview, explaining that in 1923 he sold them to the Siemens-Schuckertwerke in Berlin, one of Germany's largest industrial firms.

"I have been an American citizen for 15 years and my services are primarily my country's."

The Benson boiler is explosion-proof, he continued, because there is little heat energy storage, compared with the old type. A crack in the shell of one of the old type would cause the energy, stored in the boiler water, to burst in violent explosion.

2 FRENCH SHIPS RELEASED FOR U. S. WAR JOBS

Los Angeles, Cal., March 12 (AP).—Two French ships, impounded in Los Angeles harbor by litigation, were made available to America's war effort today.

Compagnie Generale Transatlantique, French shipping firm, posted a $119,000 check with the county clerk to cover possible judgment and costs of a suit by the Asiatic Petroleum company, Ltd., a British concern, for a $99,216 fuel bill.

To free the vessels for use of the United States Maritime commission, Superior Judge John G. Clark accepted the check and signed a stipulation by opposing attorneys agreeing to the ships' release. The vessels are the Vannes and the Wisconsin. They have been tied up since last June.

41 IN HOSPITAL UNIT ARE GIVEN COMMISSIONS

Forty-one of the fifty-five medical and dental officers of United States general hospital No. 13, Presbyterian hospital unit, have received commissions, according to word received yesterday from the surgeon general.

Altho no date has been set for beginning active service, the newly commissioned officers are awaiting further orders. The authorized strength of the unit will include 48 medical officers, 7 dental officers, 120 graduate nurses, of whom 80 have been enrolled to date, and 400 enlisted men to be trained at an army medical center and assigned to the hospital at the time of mobilization.

Chief of the medical service of the unit, Dr. Homer K. Nicholl, and Dr. Edwin M. Miller, chief of the surgical service, were commissioned lieutenant colonels. Both were officers of the original Base hospital No. 13 in World war I.

CLOSE NEW YORK QUIZ ON BURNING OF NORMANDIE

New York, March 12 (AP).—The house naval affairs subcommittee investigating the burning of the former French liner Normandie completed its hearings in New York today and announced it would reconvene next Tuesday in Washington.

Rep. Patrick H. Drewry [D., Va.], chairman of the seven man subcommittee, said the group had heard 75 witnesses and received the "fullest coöperation" from Rear Adm. Adolphus Andrews, commandant of the 3d naval district. "No conclusions have been reached and will not be until we have finished," he added.

Rep. Drewry said that the committee had received valuable suggestions on improving safeguards against waterfront sabotage and that they would be included in findings of the subcommittee.

MEDDLING BY U. S. BLAMED IN MESS AT ARTHURDALE

All Industries Met with Failure.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Arthurdale, W. Va., March 12.—Homesteaders of this government planned utopia think Arthurdale could have been made a going concern if there had been less meddling and regulation from Washington.

They charge that the administration fell down on its part of the bargain and that government interference was responsible for the lack of industries which the New Deal had promised would flock in after the homesteaders and give them employment.

Time after time industries paraded up to Arthurdale, inspiring the people with the belief the promised boom was right around the corner. But each time their hopes were dashed as the manufacturers encountered difficulties and marched away, leaving behind them a trail of financial failure and dejection.

Lacked Sufficient Help.

The failures of a vacuum cleaner plant and a shirt making venture were directly attributed to government interference. Only homesteaders were allowed to be employed in the plants and there was not sufficient help on hand to carry out economically sound operation. The protests of chamber of commerce officials of nearby Morgantown, who trekked to Washington, were made in vain.

Consequently, many of the 150 families now living in the community, who were persuaded to come into these West Virginia hills during the early experimental and social planning days of the New Deal, now are unable to see their way clear to buy their homesteads for sums ranging only from $1,000 to $1,500.

The total sum asked for the homesteads is $175,000, a drastic deflation from the $2,679,157 the goverment has officially admitted sinking in the project.

History Is Sad One.

The history of Arthurdale's attempts to hoist itself up by its own bootstraps is a sad one. The views of Harry Robinson, member of the board of directors of the Arthurdale association, which runs the community enterprises, that the administration failed to keep its part of the bargain, is shared by other homesteaders.

Shortly after Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt had picked the site and Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes started building Arthurdale thru his division of subsistence homesteads in the fall of 1933, a vacuum cleaner assembly plant was persuaded to move into the community.

This was a small subsidiary of General Electric. The Roosevelts have large stock holdings in the company and the President's wife personally pleaded with Gerard Swope, head of General Electric, to do something for Arthurdale. The deal was closed in the summer of 1934.

All Is Confusion.

Next arrival was the Phillips-Jones corporation, which set up a men's shirt plant in the Arthurdale factory buildings.

It was pointed out that at least 125 workers were required for the shirt manufacturing operation. Less than half that many homesteaders were available. The shirts were cut in a Pennsylvania plant, sewed at Arthurdale, and then sent back to Pennsylvania to be ironed and packed.

The vacuum cleaner parts were made in Cleveland, sent to Arthurdale to be assembled, then sent back to Cleveland where they were shipped out.

When the government refused to relax the limitations which were strangling the two operations from a competitive business standpoint, General Electric and Phillips Jones, not being charitable institutions, got out of Arthurdale.

Meanwhile, the community was being passed from hand to hand. The interior department handed Arthurdale over to Rexford Guy Tugwell's resettlement administration lock, stock, and barrel in 1935. Then the project and the people were finally placed under the wing of the Farm Security administration in 1937. But troubles continued to plague the place.

Venture in Tractors.

Arthurdale's third factory was erected in 1939 for the purpose of assembling tractors. The Arthurdale Farm Equipment corporation was organized by the homesteaders to lease the factory. The government lent the corporation $125,000 for building the plant and $200,000 to purchase the company's capital stock.

The American Coöperative Tractor company was lured here from Battle Creek. The tractor venture flopped after about a year. Only a few tractors were turned out.

When the tractors moved out in 1940, cotton picking machines moved in. Six of the machines, the Rust cotton pickers, were completed in a year's time. Arthurdale lost $25,000 and the enterprise was abandoned.

Furniture Building.

Thru the years, Arthurdale residents have been building furniture, reproductions of early American pieces. The craft is languishing today because the wood workers are making radio cabinets.

The management contract was recently given to the Radio and Television corporation of New York. Ninety-three persons are employed in the furniture factory but outsiders have at long last been permitted to come in and only about half the workers are homesteaders.

Now that the war program is curbing the manufacture of radios, Arthurdale is facing a new headache. The people hope to turn again to furniture. They want government contracts for defense housing furniture.

$770 SILK HOSIERY STOLEN.

Thieves stole $770 worth of silk hosiery from a Bata Shoe company truck in front of 2714 North avenue, Charles Tambrello, the driver, reported to police.

CAA TO DOUBLE PILOT TRAINING FOR AIR CORPS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Pilot training facilities of the Civil Aeronautics administration will be devoted to the war program under a plan of coöperation with the army air forces announced by the war department today.

First priority in training will now go to students who can meet the requirements of the army for appointment as aviation cadets and who are members of the air corps section of the enlisted reserve.

Students must agree to serve in the army air corps or if they are unable to meet military requirements to contribute their future effort to a field of aeronautics adapted to the national interest, which means, it was said, they will be called upon to qualify as flying instructors.

Program to Be Doubled.

At the same time it was announced the civil aviation program will be doubled in size in primary and secondary flight training. The present capacity of 25,000 students per year in elementary pilot training will be raised to 45,000 and the number of secondary students will be raised from 10,000 to 30,000.

In addition, training will be provided for ground technicians—a new activity for the CAA. It is planned to provide this course for about 31,000 students annually.

Applicants for training as ground technicians must be able to meet requirements for entrance into air corps technical schools, and must be members of the air corps section of the enlisted reserve.

580 Centers in Colleges.

While undergoing the CAA training, reservists will retain inactive status.

The civilian pilot training program, administered by the CAA, is being carried out at about 580 college centers and 135 noncollege centers.

Each center consists of a college or responsible civic body which conducts the ground school and a nearby commercial flying school which gives the flight training. Both are under government contract and supervision, and give controled courses designed by the CAA. The government pays them according to the number of students. The only costs to the trainee are for registration, medical examination, and insurance.

ANOTHER 'HUMAN ENGINEERING' JOB JOLTS TAXPAYER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Wasteful expenditures by the New Deal in the name of "human engineering" experiments were denounced today by Rep. Paul Shafer [R., Mich.] who disclosed the details of a resettlement project in Tennessee in which American taxpayers were forced to invest four times as much as its true value.

The Tennessee undertaking, similar to the Arthurdale, W. Va., project, is located near Crossville, Cumberland county. It was recently disclosed that taxpayers will lose $2,471,000 on Arthurdale, which cost $2,646,000 and is now being sold to the tenants on credit for $175,000. This project is famed for the interest Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt took in it.

Known as the Cumberland homesteads, the project in Tennessee came into being under the old resettlement administration during the régime of Rexford Guy Tugwell. The 27,814 acre site cost $339,653.86, Shafer told his colleagues. An added sum of $2,928,093.65 was spent in development, making a total captal investment of $3,267,345.10, or an average of $12,500 per family. The place now is valued at only $809,943.

PHOTOGRAPHERS WARNED TO SHUN MILITARY WORKS

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—The censorship office reminded amateur photographers today that, while picture taking in general is not objectionable, cameras should not be pointed at military objects.

"The government has no intention of discouraging picture taking," Censorship Director Byron Price said, "but there are many good photographic subjects besides fortifications, airports, troop transports, and equipment of the armed forces."

example of boondoggling in congress instead of focusing attention on what is happening in the South Pacific and in Europe."

F. D. R. Enters Picture.

Earlier, the senator's joint congressional committee on nonessential federal expenditures heard Lowell Mellett, director of the Office of Government Reports, to the effect that President Roosevelt personally selected the site and ordered the construction of a $600,000 temporary war building to house the staff of an information service to coördinate all the other government information and publicity services.

Mellett defended the $600,000 center now being constructed on a Pennsylvania avenue public square in the heart of Washington. He intimated that Washington newspapers do him an injustice when they refer to the project as "Mellett's monstrosity," "Mellett's madhouse," or "Mellett's great boondoggle." It was the President's idea, not his, Mellett said.

Frank Walker's Idea.

"Well, who in the world gave the President the idea?" asked Sen. Carter Glass, Virginia's senior senator.

Mellett said Postmaster General Frank C. Walker, former head of the National Emergency council, predecessor of the Office of Government Reports, conceived the central information center.

Mellett testified that his staff will be expanded from 633 to 974. It has 168 employés working in the press intelligence division, clipping newspapers. It has its own division for the training of personnel. Among other things, it coördinates the preparation of government films and government radio scripts and prepares reports for government departments and agencies. One of the functions of the new information center will be to direct business men and other visitors to departments and agencies having jurisdiction of their particular problems.

Sees Move at Evasion.

For the current fiscal year the OGR has an appropriation of $1,093,000 and President Roosevelt is forbidden by law to give it more than $800,000 from his own blank check fund. A few weeks ago the administration asked congress to remove this restriction but congress refused. The Public Buildings administration, nevertheless, allotted $600,000 for the building.

"It is very evident that here is a purpose to by-pass congress," commented Sen. Byrd.

Charles F. Strenz, treasurer, and James E. Barnes, Washington representative of the Todd Shipyards corporation, appeared before the Byrd committee for further testimony regarding the profits of their much investigated company, a holding concern for a string of shipbuilding and ship repair yards. The company had filed a brief attacking testimony previously given by Barnes before the senate naval affairs committee.

Raises Profit Figure.

Barnes testified today that he made a mistake when he said the company made a profit of 62 per cent on one contract. Actually, he said, it was 72 per cent.

Strenz told the committee that his company had voluntarily agreed to return to the navy department all profits in excess of 10 per cent of the cost of performing its contracts. He said the profits on the company's ship repair business last year were $14,000,000 on a $25,000,000 investment before taxes, and $5,000,000 after taxes.

Strenz testified that the company has construction contracts from the navy and the maritime commission aggregating $446,000,000.

As an example of its shipbuilding work, the committee inquired into the program of the Houston Shipbuilding corporation, a wholly owned subsidiary.

"Some Profit," Says McKellar.

The Houston company invested $642,000, including a noninterest bearing loan of $500,000 to the maritime commission for the construction of ways. The maritime commission put up the money for the other facilities and equipment. The company is building 37 "emergency cargo ships" at a cost of $1,750,000 each, a total of $64,750,000. Its base fee is $110,000 a ship, or a total of $4,070,000. Assuming that the $500,000 loan will be repaid, the net profit before taxes on a cash investment of $142,000 will be $3,828,000 over a period of three years. This is more than 2,800 per cent.

Sen. Kenneth McKellar [D., Tenn.] commented that this would be "some profit!" Strenz replied that the government would get most of it in taxes.

FIRST SABOTAGE WARRANT ISSUED IN CHICAGO AREA

Claude Eldo Hester, 20 years old, a former employé of the Tuthill Pump company, 939 East 95th street, was held yesterday by federal agents in Indianapolis on a charge of sabotage. His bond was set at $2,500 pending proceedings for his removal to Chicago for trial.

Hester was arrested by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation at the home of his parents at a farm near Veedersburg, Ind. The action was taken on the first sabotage warrant issued in Chicago since the first World war.

Hester, who was born in Danville, went to work for the Tuthill company, which has defense contracts, six months ago after receiving training in the National Defense school at Attica, Ind. The government charged he deliberately set the cutting edges of a turret lathe to ruin pumps which were under construction and delayed production several hours.

A warrant was issued by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker in Chicago. Agents decided to return him to Chicago for trial.

Teacher Accused as Red Ousted from Bronx School

New York, March 12 [Special].—The board of education yesterday voted to dismiss Alfred J. Brooks, a public school teacher in the Bronx. He was suspended nine months ago on charges of communistic activity as a result of the legislative investigation of subversive activities in the school system. Brooks denied he was a communist.

MIDWEST GIVES 4 CO-ORDINATORS TO WAR SPORTS

Codeball to Get Place on OCD Program.

The brawny middle west is furnishing the Office of Civilian Defense with its national coördinators of four major sports—codeball, badminton, billiards, and bowling.

The four coördinators, recently appointed by Jack B. Kelly of Philadelphia, director of the OCD physical fitness division, are:

Dr. William E. Code, 2306 North Clark street, coördinator of codeball.

R. Ward Starrett of Kenilworth, coördinator of badminton.

Charles C. [Show-Me-a-Shot-I-Can't-Make] Peterson of St. Louis and Chicago, coördinator of billiards.

Jack Willem of Chicago, coördinator of bowling.

Dr. Code invented the game of codeball and is, naturally, a believer in its efficiency as an OCD builder-upper of muscle and skill. Last night he was reported on the way home from a Florida vacation to cope with his coördinating.

Object: Kick Fewest Kicks.

Codeball has its points. It is something like playing golf with the feet as clubs. Fourteen truncated metal cones are set up on the greensward and the player must kick his ball into each in turn. The object is to kick the fewest possible kicks.

Indoors the game can be played on any standard handball court 40 by 40 feet and the player is allowed to play with his head too, if he likes. He can return the ball on the second bounce. The truncated cones are not used. The 21 point score is the method used for tallying. Both indoor and outdoor versions employ an inflated ball six inches in diameter. The game is played by several local athletic associations and is recognized by the National Amateur Athletic Union.

Plan Novice Tournament.

Badminton's coördinator, Starrett, is president of the American Badminton association. He said the association was glad to coöperate with OCD. A novice tournament will be held in the parks and playgrounds of the city and suburbs next month.

Starrett added that there is no lack of materials for the game; that there are plenty of Czecho-Slovakian goose feathers for the "birds" and that even if these run out there are domestic geese that might develop badminton feathers.

Most of Peterson's billiard coördinating in the past had been with Willie Hoppe, the national three cushion champion. Charley is now practicing fitness on the green baize tables down south and Willie is exhibiting in the plains states.

All for Better Billiards.

They are expected to show the men in camps and in the colleges how to make those hard shots, so that much credit will adhere to OCD for better billiards.

Willem, a Chicago advertising man whose firm handles the contract of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender company, said he is having his troubles as coördinator of bowling. There are 14,000 bowling league secretaries and Willem has the job of contacting them and getting their members to wear Hale America buttons.

GRAND JURY QUIZ SLATED ON WORK AT FLYNN HOME

New York, March 12 (AP).—A "John Doe" inquiry into the paving of the private courtyard of Democratic Nation Chairman Edward J. Flynn at Lake Mahopac, allegedly by city laborers, will be conducted by District Attorney Samuel Foley of the Bronx within a week or 10 days, Foley announced today.

The grand jury will sift evidence to ascertain if there were any illegal phases in the use of city labor at the Democratic national chairman's estate.

Commissioner of Investigation William B. Herlands, meantime, said that on Feb. 20 he had reported to Mayor Fiorello La Guardia the "unlawful use of municipal employés, materials and equipment" in the paving of the Flynn courtyard. This, he pointed out, was 16 days before Paul J. Kern, ousted head of the municipal civil service commission, had "broken the story."

The full 11 page report made public today by Herlands said that "employés of the Bronx borough president's office, using city cars, tools, and material, performed an elaborate paving job at the country estate of Edward J. Flynn at Mahopac, N. Y."

N. U. SHOWS OFF POWER OF HUGE TESTING DEVICE

A public demonstration of a huge new testing machine was given yesterday in the Technological institute of Northwestern university, which built it. The machine is two and one-half stories high.

The machine, built at a cost of $90,000, was put to work crushing a concrete column one foot thick. Present at the demonstration were Dean Ovid W. Eschbach and Profs. George A. Manney, L. T. Wyley, Maurice B. La Gaard, and R. S. Hartenberg.

According to the institute, the machine can exert a pressure of a million pounds and has the largest transverse testing capacity of any in the world. It can crush, stretch to the breaking point, or twist large and weighty objects. Yets its operation can be so delicate that it can crack an egg shell gently or measure loads to an accuracy of 1-10 of 1 per cent.

Ends Her Life with Gun; Trainman Discovers Body

Mrs. Caroline Kloske, 48 years old, 5152 South California avenue, was found shot to death, apparently a suicide, in a clump of bushes east of a railroad viaduct on 55th street at Leavitt street yesterday morning. The body was seen by James Kirkwood, 6918 South Ada street, engineer on a passing train. Mrs. Kloske's husband, William, unemployed, said his wife had been ill.

RENT INCREASES AVERAGE 7 PCT. IN NEGRO HOMES

Half of Families Affected, Tribune Survey Shows.

Approximately half the colored families on the south side are facing rent increases. The increases average 7 per cent. These are findings of a survey completed yesterday by a corps of Tribune reporters.

In the territory bounded by State street, Cottage Grove avenue, 26th and 63d streets, the reporters visited 123 apartments at random and talked with tenants and renting agents. They saw one room apartments renting for as much as $25 and also found seven rooms renting for as little as $17. They saw six room flats in which as many as 20 people lived. They were told of raises as high as 25 per cent, and others as low as 2 per cent.

Average Lies Between Claims.

THE TRIBUNE'S survey indicated that the average increase in rents lies between the claims made by real estate men and complainants. Complaints have been made that increases of 10 per cent or higher are common. Real estate men have denied these claims and some have contended that raises have averaged only 5 per cent.

Operators and owners of apartments contend that rent raises are necessary because of increasing maintenance costs and operating charges, such as higher taxes and increased cost of coal. All insist that they have tried to limit their boosts to 4 or 5 per cent.

Of the tenants interview 57 per cent have had their rentals raised in recent weeks or have been informed of a boost on May 1 by their landlords' representatives. The average increase is $3, with a maximum of $10, and a minimum of $1.

The greatest percentage of increase was found in four room apartments, where, in some cases, flats formerly renting at $37.50 are now $45. At the other end of the scale are increases which are comparatively slight, from $40 to $42.50.

The following table illustrates the extent of the increases for the prevailing types of apartments thruout the district:

| No. of Rooms. | Highest Raise. | Lowest Raise. | Average increase. |
|---|---|---|---|
| One | $ 2.50 | $1.50 | 8.2 per cent |
| Two | 1.50 | 1.50 | 4.3 per cent |
| Three | 2.50 | 1.00 | 6.2 per cent |
| Four | 7.50 | 2.00 | 13.5 per cent |
| Five | 10.00 | 2.50 | 8.1 per cent |
| Six | 5.00 | 2.50 | 5.9 per cent |
| Seven | 2.50 | 2.50 | 4.6 per cent |

Gradations in rents and their increases are as varied as the quality of the thousands of dwellings in the district.

450 Apartments up 4 Per Cent.

In the Michigan Boulevard Garden apartments, covering nearly a square block from 47th to 46th streets and Michigan avenue to Wabash avenue, a flat 4 per cent raise has been made in every one of the 450 apartments. Sizes of the flats range from three to five rooms and rents from $41 to $67.50. This is the first boost since 1937, according to W. Harry Scott, renting agent.

Tenants in a 21 apartment building at 44th street and Vincennes avenue complained to reporters about excessive increases. Several who were paying $40 for five and six rooms now are paying $50. Other tenants have had increases of 20 per cent in their rents. In several nearby buildings, which have been remodeled into furnished apartments, no rent boosts have been made. The payments run from $3.75 to $7 a week for one room and from $9 to $12 weekly for three rooms.

Apartments on South Park way are higher than in other sections, many residents paying $75 for six rooms.

Plea Made in Washington.

In Washington yesterday a plea for the imposition of rent ceilings in Chicago was presented to the Office of Price Administration by the Rev. D. V. Jemison, president of the National Baptist convention, and Edgar G. Brown, director of the National Negro council. They bore with them three suitcases of petitions signed by 4,600 Negroes whose rents have been raised $2.50 to $22.50.

Carl Borders, director of the rent division of the OPA, said the petitions were something "the division can sink its teeth into." He also was given a copy of the resolution introduced in the city council last week asking for the placing of a rent ceiling in the city. Officials of the Chicago Real Estate board are opposing the suggestion, arguing that rents can be controled by voluntary cooperation.

THE QUESTION.

Did you ever do a favor for somebody else that didn't turn out so well?

WHERE ASKED.

The Builder's building, 228 North La Salle street.

THE ANSWERS.

Evelyn Behm, information clerk, 3538 North Claremont avenue—Everybody likes the frozen dessert I make. A friend of mine was having an important party and I told her she could depend on me to bring the dessert. At the last minute I noticed the dessert hadn't been freezing in the refrigerator and we had to serve canned fruit cocktail.

J. E. Jackson, engineer, Peoria—As a friend and I were driving down a deserted road in Oregon we noticed a woman hopelessly stalled with a flat tire. Like any two gentlemen we stopped and changed the tire for her. She sped away after saying we ought to learn how it's really done.

Lauretta K. Finn, psychologist, 7100 South Shore drive—There were some reducing exercises in which I had a lot of confidence. I was down on the floor showing my friend how it was done. She went thru the routine with me but for days she was so sore she couldn't indulge in any exercise. I'm sure she gained weight from that prolonged inactivity!

Ida Miller, saleslady, 544 Briar place —When my brother passed away I suggested that friends of his live in his house until we decided what to do with it. A young neighbor couple offered to stay there for two weeks while they were looking for a new home. When they moved out they helped themselves to more furniture than they left in the house.

William J. Wagoner, bank messenger, 10 South Madison street, La Grange—My young friend's bike wasn't running as smoothly as it should. I offered to grease it. I took the bike all apart and did it up right. Now every time he rides the bike it squirts oil and grease all over his leg. He had to have it done over by an expert.

Dr. Helen Howe, director of music, 5555 Sheridan road—Two high schools were very eager to obtain a set of books. I undertook to get a set for each school. Only one set came, however, and the school which I was compelled to neglect never forgave me. My only reward was to stir up antagonism between the two schools.

TORTURE STRAP DEMONSTRATED IN ASYLUM QUIZ

Racine, Wis., March 12 [Special].—District Attorney Richard G. Harvey Jr. late today was bound in "torture straps" to demonstrate methods used to restrain insane patients at the Racine county asylum, during the preliminary hearing of charges brought against Ezra Overson, superintendent of the asylum.

Harvey submitted to the test in an effort to prove that use of the straps constituted abuse. He had two former asylum attendants who are state's witnesses, bind him in the straps. They were removed after five minutes, and left him in a limp condition.

Dr. William F. Lorenz, mental and nerve specialist from the Wisconsin General hospital and the University of Wisconsin, former clinical consultant at the Mendota State hospital, and considered one of the country's most eminent psychiatrists, testified that use of the straps, as demonstrated on Harvey and testified to by patients and attendants, was "not an approved method of restraint" and amounted to "abuse of the inmate and improper and ill treatment."

FIREMEN, POLICE ARE DIVIDED ON VACATION ISSUE

Many Are Willing to Forgo Furloughs for Defense.

Inquiries among some of the city's 9,000 policemen and firemen disclosed yesterday that they are divided in their reaction to a proposed war measure ordinance that would cancel their annual 20 day furloughs. Those questioned characterized themselves as loyal Americans first and public servants second. Many said they were ready to give up their vacations without protest.

Others declared, however, that elimination of vacations would impose an unnecessary hardship on them. They said furloughs are needed to break their routine, and added that few workers in defense industry are being asked to make such a sacrifice.

Needed in All Departments.

The proposed ordinance, which would cancel vacations of 11,000 city employés in addition to the policemen and firemen, was presented to the city council Wednesday and was referred to the finance committee. Mayor Kelly said Police Commissioner Allman and Fire Commissioner Corrigan had suggested cancellation of furloughs in their departments and the mayor's belief was that if such action was needed in those departments, it also was needed in other city departments.

The proposal, in addition to calling for cancellation of the 20 day police and firemen furloughs, would eliminate 11 day vacations of skilled laborers and 15 day vacations of office workers. It also provides for cancellation of all 15 day sick leaves but the mayor said he probably would not cancel those leaves.

200 Guard Defense Plants.

There are 6,381 officers and patrolmen in the police department and 2,795 officers and men in the fire department. The mayor estimated yesterday that canceling the furloughs would in effect add 430 policemen and 200 firemen to the forces. At present there are 200 patrolmen assigned on full time guard of defense plants, 180 assigned to bridges, and 45 to pumping stations.

The mayor was asked whether he planned to call in retired policemen for defense work.

"They would want full pay as policemen," he said, "and the city can't afford that."

He emphasized the proposed ordinance is in the form of a suggestion and that expressions on the subject are sought.

Willing to Give Up Vacation.

"I'm an American first and a policeman next," declared one patrolman whose beat is on Michigan avenue. "I'm too old for the army in this war, but I'll do my part right here. I'll be glad to give up my furlough if the order comes out."

"If this is the only sacrifice needed, it will be a cinch," said a desk sergeant. "Many of my buddies at this station have enlisted and the least I can do is give up my vacation."

"I don't like it," said a patrolman in an outlying district. "We work eight hours a day, six days a week. We have to work in all kinds of weather and put in a lot of overtime if we're stuck on cases or have to go to court. Sometimes we get the time back, not always. Why should I give up a vacation when some guy working 40 hours a week in defense industry and making more money than I, doesn't have to give up his two weeks?"

"It's a dirty trick," said one fireman. "We put in a lot of overtime and never get it back. Some people may think we loaf around the firehouse, but we're always tense for the gong."

Plans to Protest Proposal.

William S. Johnston, president of the Firemen's association and chairman of the joint council of police and firemen's organizations in Chicago, said he would appear at the finance committee meeting to protest the proposal.

Reaction to the nonvacation proposal also was divided among the public, altho a majority of those asked believed policemen and firemen should forego their furloughs.

TWO BROTHERS DIE IN CHAIR AS POLICE SLAYERS

Ossining, N. Y., March 12 (AP).—Anthony, 37 years old, and William Esposito, 29, so emaciated from their semi-hunger strike that they had to be wheeled into Sing Sing prison's death chamber, were electrocuted tonight.

Guards wheeled Anthony into the death chamber at 11:03. A chaplain accompanied him, but there were no prayers. The elder of the "mad dog" killers of a policeman and a holdup victim kept his gaze directed at the floor. He was declared dead at 11:06. William likewise refused to look at the witnesses and was pronounced dead at 11:11, three minutes after he was placed in the chair.

BODY OF KNIFE VICTIM FOUND LYING IN ALLEY

A man about 63 years old, dressed in workman's clothes, was found slashed and knifed to death early today in an alley behind 5040 South Elizabeth street. He apparently had been thrown out of an auto two or three hours before he was found.

In a pocket was a Chicago Surface lines employé's card, bearing the name George Roschetsky. The Surface Lines have an employé of that name living at 5029 Elizabeth street. The left side of the face and neck had been slashed repeatedly. He was found by John Lipinsky, 5035 Elizabeth street, when Lipinsky went to get his car to drive a son to work.

FASHION CONTEST RULE SETS READY FOR MAILING OUT

Requests for Entry Blanks Pour Into Tribune.

In reply to a flood of letters requesting information concerning THE TRIBUNE'S third annual American Fashions contest, printed sets of rules have been drawn up and will be mailed out upon request beginning today, directors of the competition announced yesterday.

Since the announcement of the contest last Sunday, letters, bearing the postmark of states thruout the middle west, have poured into Tribune Tower requesting early entry blanks and contest requirements. The response has proven that wartime has increased rather than diminished interest in fashions for American women.

Expect Unusual Treatments.

The contest this year promises to be more beneficial to the American public than even the last two successful competitions, fashion experts assert. With the theme, "What Will Women Wear in Wartime?" it is expected to encourage unusual treatments of available materials to take the place of those whose supply has been cut off by the war.

Unlike last year's competition, no invitations will be extended to previous winners. The contest will be open to both amateur and professional designers who have resided in the United States prior to March 1 of this year. No age limit has been set for entrants.

Youthful ingenuity is welcomed in this wartime competition and it is expected that amateur designers will rank high among the winners. Prizes, amounting to $7,500, will be awarded for the best original sketches. The first prize of $3,000 will be given for a costume designed for any season or any occasion. Selection of material and its availability will be an important factor.

May 1 Will Be Deadline.

A second prize of $2,000 and third of $1,000 will be awarded in addition to 30 prizes of $50 each to entrants whose designs are considered excellent enough to be made up into finished garments at Tribune expense. The completed outfits will be modeled, and winners selected, at a fashion show scheduled to be held the last week in July or the first week in August.

Entrants may submit as many sketches as desired, but each design should be drawn on a separate piece of white illustration board, 14x20 inches. Each design should be shown in front and back views. They may be in black and white, done by pencil or pen, or in colors. Names and addresses should be inclosed in envelopes attached to the backs of the sketches.

All entries must be submitted by the deadline, May 1, and should be addressed to "American Fashions, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, 435 North Michigan avenue, Chicago."

FLY DENIES PLAN TO DRIVE PAPERS FROM RADIO FIELD

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—James L. Fly, chairman of the Federal Communications commission, asserted before the house rules committee today that the commission has no preconceived plan to break up joint newspaper-radio ownership of broadcasting stations.

At the end of a hearing on a resolution asking for a congressional investigation of the FCC, the chairman requested an opportunity to be heard again to answer charges against the commission and was assured by Chairman Adolph J. Sabath [D., Ill.] that the opportunity will be granted, probably tomorrow.

"We haven't scratched the surface yet," Fly was told by Rep. E. E. Cox [D., Ga.], who is seeking the investigation.

The charges on which Fly said he would like to be heard included alleged mispractices in FCC administration and circumvention of the intention of congress.

Civilian Defense Leaders to Attend School Sunday

A one day school for civilian defense leaders from all parts of the state will be held Sunday in Springfield, it was announced yesterday by Capt. William F. Waugh, chairman of the civil protection committee of the Illinois state council of defense. Demonstrations will be held in blackouts and training in extinguishing incendiary bombs. Gov. Dwight H. Green is scheduled to address the school.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Acid Indigestion

What many Doctors do for it

When excess stomach acid causes gas, sour stomach or heartburn, doctors prescribe the fastest-acting medicines known for symptomatic relief—medicines like those in Bell-ans Tablets. Try Bell-ans yourself, at first sign of distress. They neutralize acid, relieve gas, and bring comfort very quickly—yet are not a laxative! Only 25c. at drug stores. If your very first trial doesn't prove Bell-ans better, return bottle to us and get double your money back.

Does Her Bit

DOROTHY CRONIN.

Mrs. Dorothy Cronin, 24 years old, 5556 Gladys avenue, did her bit yesterday by appearing before Circuit Judge Thomas Lynch to ask that her former husband, Raymond, 31, of 4955 West End avenue, be freed from an order to pay for support of their son, Raymond Jr., 4. Mrs. Cronin, thru her attorney, Powers McGuire, said Cronin wanted to join the navy but couldn't because of the support payments. Judge Lynch commended her for her patriotism and vacated the order.

Jury Trial Is Granted to Accused Arsonist, 15

George Bennett, 15 years old, also known as George Fairbanks, was granted a jury trial yesterday by Judge Frank H. Bicek in Juvenile court on a charge of having started a $250,000 fire in a building at 4735 Broadway in May, 1940. Bennett, who lives at 4455 Dover street, was not arrested until early this year. He has confessed tossing a match into a pile of rubbish.

BATAAN HEROISM DRAMATIZED ON W-G-N PROGRAM

Feats of the United States infantry on Bataan peninsula of the Philippines were dramatized on the program, "Americans at the Ramparts," over W-G-N last evening. The narration was by Carl Benton Reid, star of "Papa Is All," now at the Blackstone theater.

Also on the program was Lieut. Col. Estil V. Smith, who recently returned from the Philippines after commanding a battalion of Philippine scouts.

The orchestra and chorus, under the direction of Robert Trendler, played and sang a medley of patriotic songs including one written by Trendler and Ray Charles titled, "Men on Bataan." The show was produced by Morrison Wood from a script written by Sidney Gerson.

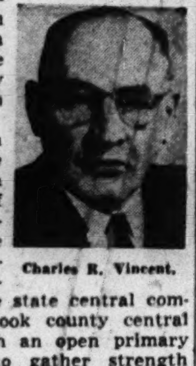
PUZZLE OF THURSDAY, MARCH 12, SOLVED

VINCENT TAKES G. O. P. FAVOR IN CONGRESS RACE

Military Record Cited by His Supporters.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Lieut. Col. Charles R. Vincent came to the front yesterday as a candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman at large in the Illinois primary four weeks from next Tuesday.



Charles R. Vincent.

His advance in a field of three candidates was a direct result of the definite indication that there will be no Republican slate making by either the state central committee or the Cook county central committee. With an open primary Vincent began to gather strength from which he might have been barred if there had been hand picking by the party leaders.

Sen. Wayland Brooks put an end to discussion of that possibility when he asked that the people be given a completely free opportunity to express themselves in the selection of their representatives in the national government.

Benefit Goes to Vincent.

Vincent benefited from the development because, if the party leaders had been compelled to make an early choice, an indorsement might have gone to the present congressman-at-large, Stephen A. Day, or to Denison B. Hull.

There has been considerable argument over Congressman Day. While his voting record in congress has conformed to Republican principles his name has been entangled in the affairs of George Sylvester Viereck, recently convicted of failing to register himself properly as a Nazi agent in Washington. Day and his friends contend he will be given a clean bill of health by the authorities, but political reasoning said he would be weakened by being constantly on the defensive.

Hull Fails to Gain.

Hull, a son of the late Morton D. Hull, who served several terms in congress, is reliably reported to have failed to gather strength since he recently began a downstate tour. County leaders have declined to rally to him and there has been no assurance of organization support among the ward organizations in Chicago.

Vincent has a record of military service and Americanism which is extraordinary in a candidate who two weeks ago was almost unknown politically. Since then he has had assurances from two state officers, leaders in several downstate counties, and from a number of Chicago ward committeemen that they would be with him all the way if they were left free to use their own judgment.

Served on Mexican Border.

Before the United States entered the last war he was identified with the organization of famous battery C which was recruited from the north shore suburbs. He completed the organization of Illinois' first battalion of artillery which, as major, he took to the Mexican border. In the World war he became adjutant of the 12th division, but the division did not go overseas.

Years after the war, in 1934, when communist riots disturbed the nation, he organized the Builders of America, composed of 28 separate racial groups, to inculcate Americanism among the foreign born and their descendants.

Friend of the Yanks

BY CLAY GOWRAN.

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and personally if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries. Persons are asked to keep their letters short because of the volumn of mail.]

PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS BY THE LOCAL DRAFT BOARDS.

"My draft board is unfair. When I was called for a physical examination I explained that I have ulcers. But the doctor didn't even examine me thoroly. Just a quick once over, and then he put me in 1-A [available for general military service]. Fine treatment."

This letter is typical of many received from disgruntled draft registrants in the last few weeks. These letters indicate, not that the local board physicians are neglecting their duties, but rather that draft registrants do not understand the new method of physical examination adopted by the selective service system last Jan. 1.

More Speed Required.

Prior to that date local board physicians gave each registrant a complete physical examination. Those who passed were given another complete exmination later by army physicians. This took time, and, with the speed-up in inductions necessitated by the outbreak of war, was no longer practical.

Under the new system, board physicians watch only for obvious physical defects—deformities, blindness, apparent ailments—and reject only men suffering from such defects. The remaining registrants, placed in 1-A, receive a thoro physical examination later from the army examining board. Here men suffering from ailments such as ulcers, various forms of tuberculosis, etc., are rejected and returned to their local boards with the recommendation that they be reclassified and placed in either 1-B [physically fit only for limited service] or 4-F [physically unfit for service].

Written Instructions Quoted.

To illustrate how limited the examination of the local board physician should be, here are the written instructions of selective service authorities to such physicians: "The physical examination should consist of observing the nude registrant while walking toward, standing before, and walking away from the physician."

Since Jan. 1 local board physicians have not given blood tests, until that time part of their examination. These tests have been given by the army examining board because, since Jan. 1, registrants have not been inducted into the army until at least 10 days after their army physical examination.

Next Monday, however, the army will return to the old system of inducting physically fit registrants on the same day that they take their physical examinations. At that time local board physicians will again begin taking blood tests in addition to their limited physical examination.

QUESTIONS.

J. M. writes: "I served in the 122d field artillery of the Illinois National Guard for several years, then resigned. If I were to enlist now, would I be able to go back to the 122d? And could I go in as a noncommissioned officer?"

ANSWER: Chances are that you very likely would not be reassigned to the 122d field artillery. However, with your training, it is quite possible you would be assigned to a field artillery regiment upon completion of basic training. You would enter service as a private.

Mrs. R. J. writes: "My husband is in 3-A. We have two children. Five years ago I went back to my old job so that we could buy a home. I had planned on resigning this spring, for my children's sake, but would like to know if it would be wise. Would my husband's draft board think it an attempt to keep him from military service? You see, if my husband should be called because I quit, my chances of getting my job back would be very slim, as I now am over the age limit for hiring. What shall I do?"

ANSWER: I suggest that your husband go to his draft board and explain his case to the board officials. I am sure that they will advise you to go ahead and quit your job without any fear of your husband being called. Your two children alone are grounds for deferment, whether you continue working or not.

J. W. S. writes: "I am in 1-A and fighting for deferment. If I cannot get deferment, can I beat the draft by enlisting and choosing some field of noncombatant service? I know the draft just pushes men in where they are needed, and I just don't care to stop lead in combat service."

ANSWER: It is difficult to frame a courteous reply to a letter like yours. Whether you enlist or are drafted, you have exactly the same chance of being assigned to combatant service. You are wrong if you think you can enlist directly into a noncombatant branch. As for stopping lead, do you think that any of the thousands of men entering the army have any great yearning to get in the path of a bullet or shell?

KELLY SUPPORT 'KISS OF DEATH,' DOUGLAS AVERS

Ald. Paul H. Douglas, Democratic candidate for United States senator, last night applied the expression "kiss of death" to Mayor Kelly's sponsorship of candidates in recent years.

The alderman said that the mayor's backing was fatal to Dr. Herman N. Bundesen as a candidate for governor of 1936, to Michael L. Igoe as a candidate for senator in 1938, and to Harry B. Hershey, candidate for governor in 1940. He spoke at the Sovereign hotel, which is to be his north side headquarters.

Formation of a Chicago area campaign committee to back Douglas and Frank J. McAdams, running for congressman-at-large, was announced. Walter Johnson, history instructor at the University of Chicago, is chairman. Mrs. Eric Stubbs, former president of the Cook County League of Women Voters, is chairman of a Douglas-McAdams women's committee.

FURY OF WOMAN SCORNED BRINGS HER A JAIL TERM

Confesses Faking Charge of Confidence Game.

"Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned."—William Congreve.

Mrs. Jennie Greenberg, a woman in her early forties, met an attractive man last summer. They saw each other more and more frequently and became close friends.

The man, Irving Cohn, 42, as Mrs. Greenberg soon learned, was a former convict. His police record dated to 1915 and included a three year term in Joliet for assault to rob. But Mrs. Greenberg was more interested in the present than the past. She and Cohn went to taverns and shows, and even journeyed together to the American Legion convention in Milwaukee.

Her Object Is Matrimony.

It was practically idyllic friendship, and for Mrs. Greenberg, at least, the object was matrimony. Then came a rift.

Mrs. Greenberg learned that Cohn had visited his ex-wife's home. He told her it was just to see one of his children who was ill, but she refused to believe him. There was a quarrel and a separation.

Mrs. Greenberg, torn between heartbreak and anger, yielded to the latter. She reported to the authorities that Cohn persuaded her to give him $1,500 by promising to marry her, and had then reneged. She was taken before the grand jury and repeated her story.

Cohn was charged with operating a confidence game and arraigned in Felony court. There Irwin Clorfene, an assistant state's attorney, recommended that the charge be dropped. Mrs. Greenberg, however, was implacable. She went to the crime commission and succeeded in having the matter pressed.

Called as Star Witness.

Yesterday Cohn was arraigned before Judge Ulysses S. Schwartz in Criminal court. Mrs. Greenberg, now living at 1436 South Ridgeway avenue, was called as the state's star witness. She was pale and ill at ease. Finally she asked that the case be dropped, terming it "a mistake."

Defense Attorney James M. Burke then took over and under his questioning Mrs. Greenberg admitted that the charge was a frameup induced by her belief that Cohn was about to leave her for another woman.

Prosecutor Frank D. Fitzgerald demanded that Mrs. Greenberg be punished for the deception. Judge Schwartz sentenced her to six months in jail for contempt of court. She fainted, was revived, and taken away to begin serving the sentence.

Plans Marriage

MARY CARLISLE.

Miami, Fla., March 12 (AP).—Mary Carlisle, blonde movie actress, revealed today that she and James Blakely, supervisor of army students at Embry-Riddle aviation school here, will be married Saturday. They met in Hollywood seven years ago. Miss Carlisle said the time and place for the ceremony had not been determined and would depend upon when Blakely could get away from his work. It will be the first marriage for each.

DIES IN COTTAGE FIRE.

La Salle, Ill., March 12 [Special].—John Petrich, 84 years old, died early this morning when fire destroyed his cottage here. It is believed he was overcome by smoke as he sought to crawl from the building. The fire is believed to have started from a kerosene stove.

DEMOCRAT FINDS LANGER GOOD AS REST OF SENATE

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—Sen. Ellison D. Smith [D., S. C.] told the senate today it would be unable to "get a quorum" it it applied the same tests to all senators now asked against Sen. William Langer [R., N. D.].

As the senate opened its fourth day of debate over the 13 to 3 recommendation of its elections committee that the North Dakota senator be excluded on grounds of "moral turpiture," Smith, dean of the senate, said "I don't like this idea of going back 30 years or more into a man's character."

"If we applied the same rule to every other senator, we'd never have a quorum," Smith said. "Some of us may be immune from attack, but let him who is without sin cast the first stone."

Sen. Smith declared he will answer remarks of Sen. Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.], presenting the committee's case, who criticized members who signed the minority report.

G. O. P. Primary Candidate for Congress Enters Navy

Maurice Washer, a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States representative in the 2d district, enlisted in the navy yesterday. Washer, who is 38 years old and lives at 7626 Colfax avenue, said he was not giving up his campaign for office.

THE PLAN FOR VICTORY IN THE PACIFIC.

Yesterday was Gen. Tojo's day to howl, but while the Japanese premier was exulting before the diet on the conquest of the Dutch East Indies Adm. Thomas C. Hart was outlining in Washington the strategy by which Japan can be deprived of the fruits of its initial great successes. Gen. Tojo's boast that the United States and Great Britain underrated the national strength of Japan was all the more galling because it is true. The cost of that error has been tremendous. But Tojo and his people make one of equal magnitude if they believe this nation incapable of throwing its great strength into the Pacific, which is so obviously our principal field of combat, to retrieve what has been lost.

Adm. Hart properly describes the Japanese campaigns as amphibious, a description for which THE TRIBUNE has been contending in the face of official propaganda that has held out recurring hopes, never materialized, of victories by naval force alone.

To make the diagnosis is, in this instance, to prescribe the remedy. The vastly extended Japanese lines of communication do not escape the admiral's eye, as may be judged by his recommendation of a flank attack as the easiest to carry out. But such an attack must be by the same sort of amphibious warfare, which Adm. Hart correctly appraises as the most difficult and least understood form of war.

We must not only produce in our factories but put on the fighting front in the Pacific enough planes to destroy the Jap air superiority which has been the principal reason for their successes to date. Air strength is not enough. To deprive the Japanese of their Pacific booty we need every weapon of modern warfare—submarines to harass their lines of communication, a powerful surface fleet adequately protected in the air to deny them the command of the sea which until now has permitted them to meet and divide their opponents in detail, parachute troops, air infantry, and specially trained amphibious forces to seize the island bases that must form the stepping stones of our advance.

This mixture of forces on land and in the air, over and on and under the sea, demands more than does any other type of campaign a unified command. Every weapon must be at the disposal of a single commander, and a commander at the scene of action and not back in Washington. The policy of dispersal and divided command which has prevailed to date has been responsible for all of the catastrophes in the Pacific. All of our man power and all of our industrial capacity will be incapable of reversing the tide unless the policy is also reversed and a unified command instituted.

ATHLETES IN THE WAR.

Bill de Correvont, the Northwestern half back, has joined the navy and states that his sole ambition is to be an ordinary seaman and help do the fighting. It is to be hoped that the Great Lakes Naval Training station football team does not need a good left half too badly next fall when the sailors go up against Notre Dame and some of the Big Ten teams. Otherwise, De Correvont might find his fighting career sidetracked.

A great many star athletes are going into the services, only to find that they might just as well have stayed back on the college campus winding the clock for their meals. When they get to learn the fighting trade is a bit of a mystery. Some of them, like Billy Conn, who gave Joe Louis a run for his money, have frankly disclaimed an overwhelming desire to see action. They think that they can best serve by conditioning the other men who will do the fighting, so they apply for jobs as physical instructors.

Louis himself turned up in Wendell Willkie's box for some affair the other night. When he entered the service, the army said that Joe should prove useful in promoting morale, and maybe he has improved Wendell's. The Great Lakes basketball team has played some 34 games so far and has been termed a recruiting attraction. The season will soon be over, but when an all-star club falls into a coach's lap, he may find it hard to let them go. There is always the next season.

The sports pages display photographs of the pitching staffs and the stars of the various ball clubs. These athletes, all apparently in the pink of condition, are not playing games for the army or navy, but for their bank accounts. Mr. Roosevelt also considers that they stimulate morale. The President not so long ago reversed a local draft board which had classified Ted Williams, the Boston Red Sox batting star, as 1-A, and told him to go on playing ball.

It would seem that many of these young men would hardly want to stand aside when their fellows, some of them frail, or undersized, or in need of glasses, are trooping off to fight the war. The stars of the athletic fields, with their magnificent physiques, would make élite fighting units. Other countries are not hesitant to make the best possible use of them. Norwegian and Finnish Olympic champions have died in action, and Max Schmeling, once the world's heavyweight boxing champion, is a German parachutist.

Our athletes who want to be physical instructors could quickly learn that the best way to whip a fighting man into physical condition is to put him thru hard maneuvers. They could learn this by participating in the maneuvers themselves. When Joe Louis thinks of the first Negro air squadron graduating he must want badly to share in the thrills and the glory that will be theirs. He should not be discouraged. Either as pilot, air infantryman, or parachutist he could use his split second reactions to go after Schmeling and all the other Schmelings.

When the service authorities think of parading such men to stimulate morale or promote recruiting they forget that our great athletes are heroes to all the youngsters of the nation who may later be filling up the ranks, and that the greatest hero to any youngster in these times is a fighting man who, like MacArthur's band, demonstrates in the heat of action that he is unbeatable.

THE DIES COMMITTEE.

By an overwhelming vote—331 to 46—the house of representatives has extended the life of the Dies committee for another year.

The committee has been immensely useful. The measure of its usefulness is to be found in the bitterness of those who have sought to destroy it. They know that but for the existence of such an agency they would have had little to impede them in their revolutionary activities.

The communists hate the Dies committee because it has exposed their purposes. So do the Fascists and the Nazis. So do all the assorted fellow travelers who wanted to work for their revolutions without running any risks. Some men and women in the burocracy in Washington resent the committee's lists of communists in federal office. Subversive elements all over the country share the dislike because the committee has been skilful in disclosing the real nature of organizations with innocent sounding names.

There was need for the Dies committee before the war, a need recognized by the house in repeatedly extending the committee's life. Today the need for the services of such an agency of the legislative branch is greater than ever. The war is forcing a vast extension of the powers of government over the people. It is now more important than ever to protect the people from the designs of those in and out of the government who are seeking to fasten alien notions of social and political organization upon us. Unless the people and their representatives are vigilant, the war will be made the occasion and excuse for destroying the very liberties for which we are fighting.

The enemies of the committee sought to make the case that the Dies organization was superfluous because other agencies of government such as the FBI could be trusted to check subversive movements. The vote in the house showed how feeble that argument was seen to be. It is the Dies committee and the fear of the Dies committee which have checked the growth of open and covert communism in this country. Only the Dies committee was interested in disclosing the activities of the commissars in the trade unions and the government. Only the Dies committee was concerned to disclose to the public the fifth column activities of the nations which are now our enemies.

Those were immensely important services for which the people of this country can never be sufficiently grateful.

GUNS OR BUTTER?

Lend-lease is now one year old, and the President has sent to congress a statistical summary of the year's transactions. The amount of the authorization equals 48 billion dollars. How vast a sum this is will be appreciated when compared with the advances we made to our allies in the first World war. Between April 6, 1917, and Nov. 11, 1918, we extended credits to our allies totaling 7¼ billion dollars. Thus our prospective engagements this time are more than six times as great as in the other war.

The amount of help given under lend-lease is far less than the total authorized. Only one quarter of the 48 billion has been allocated among the nations, and of the amount allocated but two thirds has been covered by contract. Actual expenditures are but 30 per cent of the contracts let, and actual exports total only 40 per cent of the expenditures. That brings the help actually given to a little over a billion dollars.

Divided among the nations of every continent, the aid doesn't mean very much for any of them—expressed in terms of dollars—and even of the billion and a fraction a large percentage has gone for other things than the implements of war. The President reported that there had been transferred to the lend-lease countries a billion pounds of grain cereals, 815 million pounds of meat and fish, 814 million pounds of fruits and vegetables, 664 million pounds of milk products, 128 million pounds of egg products, and large quantities of sugar, tobacco, and cotton. These articles will make living more tolerable among the nations of the world which receive them, but won't be of very much help in killing Japs and Nazis. It seems to have been forgotten that the purpose of lend-lease was not to raise the standard of living in friendly countries but to supply "to the democracies every gun, plane, and munition of war we possibly can."

Not only have these lend-lease transactions apparently been of little aid in fighting our enemies, but they may actually have interfered with the fighting. The agricultural products shipped abroad during the year under lend-lease amounted to something like 2 million tons. To move this amount of produce largely for civilian use would keep a hundred boats of 5,000 tons busy making four round trips a year. Here's where cuts will have to be made if we are going to get anywhere in the war. In view of the shortage of ships, we may no longer find it possible to maintain our foreign clients in the style to which we have recently accustomed them.

Editorials of the Day

THE COURTS MARTIAL.

[Bucyrus Telegraph-Forum.]

If Secretaries Knox and Stimson are sincere in ordering the courts martial of Rear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel and Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short, who were in command of Pearl Harbor at the time of the Japanese surprise attack on Dec. 7, they will follow up their order with an immediate trial.

Both public interest and safety would be better served by getting at the bottom of this tragedy as quickly as possible. An aroused people have been waiting for these orders. They want to know more of the facts. As matters stand now the two officers are accused by the Roberts report of dereliction of duty. In all trials the accused as well as the accuser has a side. The people want to hear the other side of the story. They want to know what dereliction of duty can be traced to Washington.

A fair court martial is a severe trial. It forces facts and lets quips fall where they may. It is altogether possible that these courts martial will reveal derelictions of duty in Washington as well as in Pearl Harbor. The time for the country to know of such derelictions is not after the war but today when corrections can be made for the security of our republic.

If the courts martial merely stand ordered and are not executed we will have reason to believe that the orders were issued as nothing more than a bluff to temporarily satisfy the people. If Washington is not afraid of the trials why delay them?

UNHAMPERED HEROES.

[Daily Oklahoman, Oklahoma City.]

Those Spartans at Thermopylae and those Texans at the Alamo and those riflemen at New Orleans certainly had it easy. They did not have to spend one moment protecting $11 a day workers who refused to work on national holidays for anything less than double wages.

LET'S GO TO A FIRE.

The Chicago fire of 1871 is world famous, but did you ever hear of the Chicago fire of 1874? That was a honey, too, but it has been neglected by the historians. It cleaned out almost everything on the near south side that had escaped its forerunner.

* * *

Andreas' "History of Chicago," in three huge volumes, condenses the story of the fire of 1874 into 200 words, mostly statistical. Apparently the city's emotional reaction to the enormous conflagration was slight. The young giant, furiously rebuilding on the ruins of 1871, took this affair of 60 acres in its stride.

* * *

The fire started in the afternoon of July 14 in a frame building at 449 South Clark street. By midnight it had destroyed almost every building between Clark street, Wabash avenue, Van Buren street, and 12th street. The total property loss was $1,067,260.

* * *

This scorcher ate up 812 buildings, with the following box score: One-story frame, 126; two-story frame, 471; three-story frame, 21; four-story frame, 1; one-story brick, 14; two-story brick, 99; three-story brick, 41; four-story brick, 31; five-story brick, 5; two-story stone, 3. Of these structures, 708 were stores and dwellings and 89 were barns. The public buildings included eight churches, four hotels, one schoolhouse, and one postoffice.

* * *

Henry Ericsson's "Sixty Years a Builder" says of this fire: "Altho of vast influence upon the development of the city, it has been virtually lost to memory by reason of being overshadowed by the great fire of 1871."

CHINKAPIN ROAD.

(Its name has been changed to Horner boulevard.)

Old road,
You who have a new name,
They cannot take from you your memories.
You wind across the corn lands
Over Sangamon;
Once a narrow Indian trail.
Hoofs of the Indian ponies knew you,
Tepees were pitched beside you,
Camp fires blazed.

Ox carts creaked along your way;
Our forefathers found you.
You held out your hand in welcome,
You guided them to the river,
You whispered, "On to the land of plenty!"
Indians were your friends,
White men were your friends—
You loved them all.

Now you are grown old
And wearied by the noise of many motors.
You dream and long for the early days. . . .
They would wrest your name from you, old Chinkapin;
They have dressed you in new finery,
But they cannot take your memories.

June Power Reilly.

The Plant We Persecute.

It won't be long now before the first dandelion slyly blooms on the sunny side of some fence or hedgerow. You'll see its golden-yellow blossom in my buttonhole. And the tender, early leaves will make delicious greens to be cooked with our pot-likker. Later on I'll gather wild mustard, but not even the monotonous, rebellious hours I've spent weeding our lawn have blunted my affection for the stubborn, ubiquitous Taraxacum officinale.

Wherever civilized man has established himself, the dandelion has followed him. The plant is almost insolent. Drouth doesn't affect it because of its large, fleshy taproot, delving perhaps 20 inches into the soil. It is a perennial and propagates by seeds that are parachuted to the four winds by their downy tufts, but any part of the root will sprout leaves if buried in warm, moist soil.

Persistent cutting-off of the root below the surface, or frequent mowing to destroy every bloom before it ripens, are two methods of control. On large areas, iron sulfate, arsenic, or other acids, and even kerosene are effectively used. But, yes'm, next spring you can do it all over again. They call it a weed, yet after all, what is a "weed" but a plant out of place? Buckshot, O. R. S.

NELSON'S BATTLE LAMPS.

Fronting the National Gallery's pomp of stone
And stateliness in old Trafalgar square,
Where thousands pass, intent each on his own
Concern of the hour, you see them shining there—
Two set octagonal on plinths of bronze,
And two still larger, propped on masoned towers,
That burn thru London's nights to London's dawns,
Of old renown her first and finest flowers!
These are the lamps that Nelson's flagship swung
When at Trafalgar into battle came
The fleet on whose defeat or victory hung
An empire's fate, a coming century's fame:
Lamps by whose ghastly battle-glare again
An even greater omen shapes for men!

Lister Alwood.

Told by a Parachute Trooper.

The country boy was receiving parachute instruction. The officer said: "When you jump, count 10, then pull the cord across your shoulder. If that should fail to work, then pull the ring at your belt and you will land safely. There will be a man with a motorcycle waiting in the field to bring you back."

At 5,000 feet they pushed him out. He counted 10, pulled the cord over his shoulder; nothing happened. He then pulled the ring at his belt; still nothing happened. He said, "Just my luck—I suppose now the guy with the motorcycle won't be there either." Adrian of Arizona.

Wait until 1943! The anti-axis democracies will have their offensives in full blast and Easter will come on its latest possible date—April 25.

WORRY ADDS FUEL TO ULCERATIVE COLITIS.

ULCERATIVE colitis thus far has presented a defiant challenge to medicine. The trouble is that the condition is quite likely to settle down into a chronic state. While intervals of improvement appear, all too often a gradual advance is observed.

Most physicians believe that many of these victims are their own worst enemies. In other words, an emotional upset may interfere with normal nerve impulses, the blood supply, and hence the nutrition of the colon.

We all know that unpleasant sights and smells may cause nausea—even vomiting. Most of us have felt the digestive tract turn "inside out" because of some powerful force such as fear or any type of mental distress. Naturally, it is logical to query the influence of constantly repeated psychic trauma upon a structure as sensitive as the large bowel.

A study of 100 or more cases will disclose the frequency with which an acute attack has followed shock. With the passing of the incident, or the healing effects of time, digestive symptoms vanish. But when the patient belongs to the "stewing" sort, with the nerves constantly on edge, the manifestations may persist until a chronic disease becomes established.

A recent report from Bart's hospital, London, of individuals suffering from ulcerative colitis reveals that the onset of the malady was often preceded by an emotional storm. In 28 out of 40 chronic cases, worry was considered powerful enough not only to usher in the ailment but to be responsible for its persistence.

Modern treatment takes advantage of all the help that the psychiatrist can offer, coupled with the best medical management. The latter includes eliminating most of the cellulose [roughage] from the diet and the addition of vitamins and relaxing drugs.

Sullivan considers the mental outlook of the invalid more important than his physical status. Sex problems enter the picture, as well as unhappy marriages, money difficulties, domineering relatives, fear of childbirth, etc.

The history of a 26 year old housewife is of interest. For three years, she had experienced regular seizures of abdominal pain and diarrhea, with the loss of large quantities of mucus and some blood. She had been hospitalized on several occasions, one exceeding two months. On her last admission, 20 stools a day were recorded.

The usual medical procedures were instituted immediately but relief came when she confessed to an unhappy relationship with the family of her husband. She had married at 17, against their wishes. While many attempts at reconciliation had been made, none was successful.

She was advised that safety lay in cutting off all contact with her in-laws. This was brought about and she is now much more satisfied than at any period in her adult life. Sufficient time, of course, has not elapsed to determine whether this program will be entirely curative. The chances are, however, that her marked gain in health will overcome the colon infection.

SKIN IRRITATION.

A. D. writes: My chest was taped with adhesive because of pain. Since then, it has itched constantly and there is a rash. What is the cause?

REPLY.

Your skin is slightly sensitive to the rubberlike plaster. Cleansing the parts thoroly with ether and keeping the cuticle well dusted with a nonirritating powder will bring relief.

MICROBES ON CLOTHING.

F. W. writes: Can germs be spread by means of the clothing?

REPLY.

Certain types, yes—those which are resistant to drying. Brush an overcoat in a sunbeam and watch the dust fly. Each particle may carry noxious bacteria. This explains why we shake rugs, garments, etc., out of doors.

SOME OTHER INFLATIONS.

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 10.—In his radio talk the President told the nation that if prices continue to go up we shall have an inflation of a very dangerous kind; that there will be a steep rise in prices and the costs of living; and that it will also greatly increase the cost of the war and the national debt, hamper the drive for victory, and inevitably plunge every one—city workers and farmers—into a ruinous deflation after the war.

With all that has been written about inflation, few know anything about it, and what those few know for sure is negligible.

We were taught in school that inflation was the cause of the Mongol decline in China in the 13th century under the war lord, Ghengis Khan, and that the deflation which followed was due to the over issue of paper money called the "lord's notes," of which so many were issued that it once took 10,000 to buy a cat.

The continental congress was obliged to issue so much paper money during the Revolution that the phrase was coined, "not worth a continental."

In France 400 millions of paper francs or assignats were issued as the "maximum," which issue was based upon "national wealth" growing out of the confiscated, immensely rich church property. France was still suffering from the effect of the inflationary experiments of John Law, but, as has been stated, "politicians have short memories, and drowning financiers clutch frantically at straws." Against his better judgment, Necker, who, in modern parlance would be called a "limited" or "controled" inflationist, was swept into this whirlpool. When his feet were once wet, he wanted to stay in office, because he thought he could control the torrent.

But, in 1791, when Mirabeau asked that the authorization be raised to 1,800 millions, the flood began. Authorization after authorization was asked and granted. Paper mills ran night and day. Printers forced to work 18 hours a day finally struck. Then such strikes were made treasonable offenses. With plenty of money, such as it was, spending ran wild. Thrift was forgotten. Speculation, stock gambling, and corruption throve. The king had a job, or a sinecure, or a pension for every politician. Palace sycophants and hangers-on had easy jobs and lived like the lilies unstained by toil. Upon the fall of the Bastille it was revealed that even Mirabeau, the idol of the masses, to whom he profusely distributed government alms and doles, had been regularly paid a retainer by the benevolent despot, Louis XVI.

Napoleon was deeply impressed with this runaway inflation. When he became consul, with the government bankrupt, the soldiers unpaid, and the people bled white from taxes, he was asked at the first meeting of his cabinet what he intended to do. He replied: "I will pay cash or nothing," a promise he kept to the letter.

FROM A DAIRYMAN.

Arcadia, Wis., March 8.—On March 4 your paper carried an item entitled "Put Argentine Butter on Sale First Time."

At the same time the Dairy Products Marketing association is buying and storing American butter to stabilize the butter market. And Argentina is the only country in South America that won't join the allies.

Good neighbor?

I am a Wisconsin dairy and stock farmer. Monday the farmers of this township were called to the town hall to hear an AAA committee member tell us that the government wanted us to produce more milk to make more powdered and condensed milk and more cheese. At the same time the government is searching for storage space right here in our own county for what is already manufactured, but can't find storage space of any kind. Our own plant is cleaning and airing any space we can find to store our own product, while a milk plant 20 miles away is going back to the manufacture of butter for lack of a market and storage space for its product.

The Lord help the small milk plants when this hysteria of food for the allies is over. F. B. MCWEENY.

EMBLEMS FOR BLOOD DONORS.

Chicago, March 11.—I read with much surprise W. W.'s article in today's TRIBUNE regarding lack of recognition for blood donors.

Last month I went to the American Red Cross and gave a pint of blood. Before leaving the place I was handed a small copper token showing I had been a blood donor. And yesterday—a month later to the day—I received thru the mail a small card bearing my name, showing that I had volunteered blood and giving the group to which my blood was assigned. On the reverse of the card are six lines. On the first one is typed the date I gave the blood, and each time I go there further notations will apparently be made. I also understand that the second time you give blood you are awarded a silver pin and the third time a gold one.

EDITH MAITLAND.

SET 'EM UP IN ANOTHER ALLEY.

Chicago, March 10.—Now the Office of Civilian Defense is going to spend millions to teach bowling. At last the grand strategy is revealed. While the "Little Brown Devils" are hypnotized watching Mrs. Roosevelt's little girls dance, the boys are going to mow them down with bowling balls. Boy, O, boy! What a blitzkrieg that is going to be.

RALPH PETERSEN.

SLOGAN.

Glencoe, Ill., March 10.—Suggestion for a slogan: "Save fewer faces in Washington and more American lives in the Pacific." F. HAMILTON GILLET.

A VETERAN ON BAYONETS.

Chicago, March 7.—In your recent editorial, "Bayonets in This War," you say that only .26 of 1 per cent of all American World war casualties were caused by the bayonet. That may be true, but you use an unfair way of judging, because to be a bayonet casualty a soldier had to be less than six feet from the enemy, while one anywhere up to 15 miles back of the front lines could become a casualty from gunfire.

With the bayonet to depend on, the doughboy fears no man, but take away his bayonet and you take away his confidence when he needs it most. Also the bayonet prevents the rifle from getting plugged from dirt when diving to the ground to avoid shell explosions [dirt in the end of the bore of the gun will cause it to burst if fired], and because in battle firing rifles are not cleaned sometimes for days and this greatly increases the recoil or "kick" which in rapid fire would spoil the aim, the extra weight of the bayonet on the end of the rifle cushions this and takes out very much of the unnecessary "hop" in rapid firing.

THE BEST DEFENSE.

Bay Pines, Fla., March 8.—I just bought another batch of "Defense" stamps. I like to think of them as "Offense" stamps and bonds. When the country in general and Washington in particular starts thinking in terms of Offense instead of Defense we will start to go places.

The other men with me in this Veterans' hospital agree that the best defense is a strong offense.

SHARE IN ESTATE.

Chicago, March 2.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—There are six children in our family. The parents and two daughters have a joint tenancy on the property.

1. Can the other children try and claim the property thru court after the parents pass away?

2. Do the parents have to make out a will leaving the property to the two daughters?

3. Do the parents have to leave something to the other children, for instance, one dollar each? V. A.

1. Of course they can try, but in general, they should not succeed unless they can prove undue influence or lack of mental capacity at the time of creation of the joint tenancy.

2. Not if the joint tenancy has been validly created.

3. No. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

SEEK LOW FARE BUS SERVICE TO TRAINING POSTS

Dollar North Shore Rides Called Too Expensive.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

Workmen employed on construction jobs at the Great Lakes Naval Training station appeared before the Illinois Commerce commission yesterday to support the application of the Central West Motor Stages for a permit to operate buses between Chicago to the training station and Fort Sheridan.

The proposed service would carry only soldiers, sailors, marines, and workers at the military establishments.

Capt. Robert E. Martin, representing Col. Fredrick C. Rogers, Fort Sheridan commandant, also testified and urged that some transportation service be provided to and from Chicago at lower rates of fare than the North Shore Line's $1 round trip. Soldiers' small pay makes the trip too expensive, Martin said.

Offer 65 Cent Round Trip.

Edward Casey, attorney for the bus line, said that the proposed service would consist of 31 buses daily and cost 65 cents for a round trip between Chicago and Fort Sheridan and 70 cents to Great Lakes. The buses would run from Roosevelt road and Wabash avenue along the outer drive and Sheridan road and would not make any stops between Chicago and Fort Sheridan.

Reino Paaso and Ray Hermanson, construction workers at Great Lakes, both living at 4800 North Kenmore avenue, told Examiners William J. Walsh and George Anderson that they board the North Shore Line at Wilson avenue and that trains always are crowded beyond seating capacity and sometimes beyond standing room.

Opposed by Rail Lines.

The application was opposed by Frederick Stout, North Shore Line attorney, and Weldon Dayton for the North Western railroad.

The Illinois Central railroad yesteday continued presentation of testimony to support its application for a 10 per cent increase in suburban fares. The I. C. is the first of 18 railroads being heard on requests for the increased suburban rates.

LADY SPEARMINT, A LINCOLN PARK BELLE, IS DEAD

Lady Spearmint, two ton hippopotamus, died yesterday in her apartment in the Lincoln park zoo. She was 23 years old [equal to about 69 in human years] and died of age. Since her arrival at the zoo in 1920 she had been gazed upon by two million persons yearly.

Director of Floyd S. Young said Lady Spearmint was bought from the Memphis zoo, her birthplace, by William Wrigley Jr. and given to Lincoln park. She was valued at $5,000 when in her prime 10 years ago. She was a spinster.

Young said the hippopotamus was extremely popular with visitors despite her obviously low I. Q. and her deplorable habit of sleeping most of the time, often entirely submerged in her swimming pool. They liked to watch her poke her head above water every two minutes or so, take a breath and duck down without even waking.

Girl, 12, Saves Mother Overcome by Gas Fumes

Mrs. Bessie Laub, 39 years of age, 6517 South Rockwell street, was saved from asphyxiation yesterday by her 12 year old daughter, Annabelle, who found her lying on the kitchen floor overcome by gas fumes from the stove. Annabelle pulled her mother to a back porch and called her father, Anton, a fireman with inhalator squad No. 9. He and other firemen under Acting Captain Joseph Gell revived Mrs. Laub.

OBITUARIES

Philip McGuire.

$7,350,000 MAIL FRAUD TRIAL IS NEARING CLOSE

Trial of six officers and associates of Resources Corporation International neared the end yesterday when defense attorneys concluded their case. A jury in the court of federal District Judge Michael L. Igoe has been hearing the $7,350,000 securities and mail fraud case since Jan. 12.

Leonard L. Cowan, an attorney and a defendant, was the last witness called by the defense. All the other defendants except W. L. Kellogg, a former president of the corporation, testified earlier in the trial. Much of yesterday's session was devoted to arguments on the admittance of some of the government's 1,000 exhibits.

SCHOOL GATHERS 12,000 BOOKS IN DRIVE FOR YANKS

Students and faculty members of Washburne Trade school, Sedgwick and Division streets, have collected 12,000 books, which have been delivered to the Chicago public library for distribution in army camps, naval bases, and marine posts. The drive was part of the national campaign for 10 million books which is sponsored by the American Library association, the United Service organization, and the Red Cross. Mrs. Dilla W. McBean, librarian for the board of education, is in charge of the Chicago schools' division of the drive. Adolph Kroch and Carl B. Roden are co-directors of the Chicago campaign.

Author of 'Monon Wreck' Dies in Indiana, Aged 85

Crawfordsville, Ind., March 12 [Special].—James B. Elmore, 85 years old, who achieved nation-wide recognition as the "Bard of Alamo," died today of a heart attack at his 800 acre farm near the village of Alamo. From a multitude of poems that came from his prolific pen, two in particular caught the public fancy—"The Monon Wreck" and "Sassafras."

Work Will Halt Traffic on Jackson Boulevard

Jackson boulevard, between State street and Wabash avenue, will be closed to thru traffic from 11:30 o'clock tomorrow night until 7 a. m. Monday during construction work by the Commonwealth Edison company.

EX-JUDGE NAMED TO HEAR 'L' PLEA FOR FARE BOOST

Charles A. McDonald, former judge of the Circuit, Superior, and Appellate courts, was named by Circuit Court Judge Cornelius J. Harrington as a special master to hear evidence in the elevated lines' suit for an injunction to increase "L" fares from 10 to 12 cents.

The injunction suit, which also seeks a boost from 10 to 13 cents in the rate for intercompany rides between the "L" and street car and bus routes, was started last month after the Illinois Commerce commission had denied the elevated road's petition for the increases.

Assistant Attorney General William R. Morgan, who is opposing the increases in behalf of the commerce commission, yesterday asked Judge Harrington to withhold the appointment of a master until Monday. Morgan said he wanted to file amendments to his answer to the "L" lines' suit. The court said amendments could be filed any time, but said the reference to a master should not be delayed.

COURT AWARDS DRY ICE BLAST VICTIM $3,750

Mario La Russo, 13 years old, was awarded a judgment for $3,750 yesterday by Judge Jacob Berkowitz of Mattoon, sitting in Superior court, against the Powell Brothers Trucking Lines, Springfield, Mo. A jury was dismissed and Judge Berkowitz entered the judgment by agreement.

Young La Russo, a newsboy, was seriously injured June 27, 1940, when dry ice which he put into a bottle exploded. Testimony showed that the dry ice was kicked to the pavement by a man unloading poultry from a Powell Brothers truck at a warehouse at 52 East Hubbard street.

The case is said to be the first involving damage from dry ice in Illinois and perhaps in the country. The plaintiff was represented by the firm of Chesrow and Hollowick.

WOMAN INJURED IN FALL.

Mrs. Anna Harding, 53 years old, 1932 South Kedzie avenue, was injured critically yesterday when she fell from a second floor flat at 1420 South Avers avenue where she had been employed to wash the windows.

PICK COMMITTEE FOR DELINQUENT TAX COLLECTIONS

Personal Property Levies First on List.

A special committee headed by County Commissioner Daniel A. Ryan was appointed by the county board yesterday to open a drive to reduce the 400 million dollar unpaid property tax accumulation in the county.

The first step by the committee, Ryan said, will be to attack the personal property tax delinquency which accounts for 260 million dollars of the back tax total. The remainder is unpaid real estate taxes.

County Auditor Lee J. Howard was instructed by the committee to start immediately to break down the unpaid personal property levies for the last 14 years as the first step in determining what items can be collected.

Recent Bills Come First.

Howard said his staff will deal first with unpaid bills for recent years, because these are more likely to be collected than the old items. He will make reports as the survey proceeds, and action to collect the unpaid bills then will be up to the committee.

In addition to Ryan and Howard the committee members are William Bussee, county commissioner; Andrew J. Kolar, assistant treasurer; Michael J. Flynn, county clerk; Richard J. Daley, deputy county controler; Assistant State's Attorneys William J. Tuohy and Marshall Kearney, and a representative from Assessor John S. Clark's office.

Plan Permanent Numbers.

Howard said his staff plans to assign permanent numbers to each personal property tax payer on the county's books, so that accumulations of unpaid bills over a period of years readily can be determined.

The task of pushing real estate tax collections will be discussed by the committee at a later meeting.

Personal property tax collections in recent years have averaged about 60 per cent of the levies which have averaged about 55 million dollars a year. Only about 30 per cent of the 250,000 residents who are billed for personal property taxes make any payment, county officials estimate.

Ald. Frank Keenan [49th], chairman of the city council taxation committee, attended the meeting and said the establishment of the special collection committee was a step which he and the city council recently have urged.

Recover Last of 7 Bodies from Submerged Plane

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 12 (AP).—The army announced today that searchers had recovered the bodies of all seven men who died in the crash of their plane in the St. Lucie river at Stuart a week ago. The seventh body, located today, was that of Corp. Clarence F. Ayres of Huntington, W. Va. The search had been prolonged by the heavy tidal flow at the spot where the plane fell. The plane was salvaged and brought to the army air base at Morrison field.

SIR WILLIAM BRAGG, NOBEL PRIZE WINNER IN 1915, DIES AT 79

LONDON, March 12 (AP).—Sir William Henry Bragg, industrial research scientist and 1915 Nobel prize winner, died today. He was 79 years old. He had published many works on radioactivity, sound, light, and the application of science in commercial fields.

The British scientist, a prominent advocate of the theory that religion and science tend to supplement rather than destroy each other, spoke in 1939 at the dedication of the new University of Illinois YMCA at Champaign. He also visited Chicago on that trip to the United States.

He was awarded the Nobel prize for his research work on the structure of crystals.

FOREMAN KILLED IN CAR COLLISION NEAR MUNDELEIN

Philip Brockner, 46 years old, of Elgin, foreman on a construction project at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, was killed yesterday when the automobile he was driving collieded with another at state routes 63 and 59A, west of Mundelein, Lake county. Archibald E. Girard, 36, of Antioch, the other driver, his wife, Mary, and three fellow workers of Brockner, were injured.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 166 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 129 were killed in Chicago, where 3,890 were injured in the same period.

17 YEAR TERM IS RECOMMENDED FOR KILLER, 19

After deliberating for 32 hours a Criminal court jury yesterday convicted John Falk, 19 years old, of the murder of John Grundstrom, 40, of 715 North Clark street. The jury recommended 17 years in prison, a sentence which appeared to be a compromise. Grundstrom, an unemployed carpenter, was found beaten to death in a trailer camp at Huron street and Fairbank court last April 6. Police said he was killed by a strongarm robber. All his ribs were broken. Falk said he met Grundstrom in a tavern, that they quarreled, and he fought in self-defense.

RESERVES RIGHT TO CONTEST WILL OF I. N. MORRIS

Mrs. Constance Lily Rothschild Morris yesterday filed her acceptance of the post of an executor of the will of her husband, Ira Nelson Morris, with the unusual proviso that by so doing she did not waive "my rights to renounce the will and my rights to contest the will." Her acceptance was given to Probate Judge John F. O'Connell by her attorney, Don Peebles. Morris, former minister to Sweden, died last Jan. 15 leaving an estate estimated at more than $2,000,000. The bulk of it is left in trust to the widow and to a son and daughter.

RAILROAD ASKS U.S. TO ENFORCE STRIKE RULING

Army Told Shipment of War Material Halted.

Peoria, Ill., March 12 [Special].—The long and violence studded strike on the Toledo, Peoria, and Western railroad reached a new crisis tonight when the management called for federal guards to enforce the law and the national war labor board issued an ultimatum to the management to arbitrate the dispute.

A public statement issued by the war labor board in Washington, D. C., "in the name of the government of the United States," called upon the management "for the last time" to submit to arbitration. Informed persons said they believed the case would be submitted to President Roosevelt if an agreement for arbitration was not reached.

U. S. Asked to Run Road.

Strikers previously had asked the government to take over the 260 mile railroad after George P. McNear, president, had refused to arbitrate the dispute begun last Dec. 28 when 104 men walked out to enforce demands for increased wages, seniority rights, and other working adjustments.

McNear, in a telegraphed request to the army quartermaster general in Washington for guards to enforce a federal court injunction against violence in the strike, said he had been informed that the department of justice had specifically ordered United States Marshal Robert Grant here not to enforce the court order.

However, Marshal Grant said tonight that was "news to me."

Charges AFL-CIO Conspiracy.

McNear further charged that CIO and AFL unions, whose members are voluntarily picketing the railroad altho they are not involved in the strike, apparently are conspiring with the striking members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen to halt the railroad's operations.

"For the past two nights," McNear told the quartermaster general, "large numbers of men have congregated at our yards, barricaded the entrance, prevented essential employés from entering or leaving, shot out lights, and burned buildings. As a result of their threats and interference, three railroads connecting with us did not deliver to us any cars yesterday. We are informed that many of these cars [he listed 154 cars tied up] contain war traffic."

McNear Charges Unfairness.

McNear said he had declined to arbitrate because the national mediation board "has consistently demonstrated its unfairness and its extreme partiality to the wishes of the railroad brotherhoods." He challenged the war labor board's authority to order arbitration under the railway labor act.

"The best and quickest way to eliminate all delays in war production and transportation," McNear said, "as well as to have our fighting forces feel that our country is really worth defending, is to have respect for law and order thruout this country and to reaffirm the fundamental principle of the right to work. Our situation will be immediately cured when proper respect is paid to the orders of the United States District court."

The war labor board's ultimatum flatly charged the railroad with defiance of the government and with having "raised issues far beyond the dispute."

LA VERNE DI PENTINO.

Judge Rudolph F. Desort in Superior court yesterday referred to the social service bureau a request by John Di Pentino, 2064 Kendall avenue, a store manager, that he be given custody of his son, Clifford, 4 months old. Di Pentino and his wife, La Verne, 20, of 1632 North Campbell avenue, are suing each other for divorce. Judge Desort took the custody question under advisement when Attorney Charles Gradman, for Di Pentino, said that Clifford was among the babies taken recently from an unlicensed boarding home for babies operated at 7341 South Hermitage avenue by Mrs. Lillian Schwenke.

RURAL DEFENSE PLAN TESTED IN TWO DISTRICTS

Springfield, Ill., March 12 [Special].—An organization of defense vigilantes, which is intended to include nearly every rural resident in Illinois, has been tested in Logan county. It is proposed the plan will be spread over the entire state.

The program for farming districts and small towns calls for watchfulness by the population to promote the part of agriculture in national defense. It is sponsored by the Illinois Sheriffs' association, working in conjunction with the state rural crime division.

As the organization has been tried out, residents of the school districts elect the district minute man. Under the district minute man are six detail chairmen, who will be in charge of work in connection with communication, observation, tractor registry, hired help, trespassing, and fire prevention. The communications detail chairman will work out plans of communication by signals, lanterns, or flags between those homes which do not have telephones,

DAY by DAY on the FARM by BOB BECKER

The Birds Fly North.

March, 12, 1942.

THE warm weather this week brought quite a heavy migration of birds to the Du Page county farm and to all the rest of Chicagoland. Wild geese came up from the south. The first migratory wave of robins [these first birds are males] reached Chicagoland. Quite a few meadowlarks swept into the open fields around Chicago and immediately began to sing their cheery spring songs.

Even the chipmunks got all excited about spring when the thermometer reached 40 and higher for a few days. They emerged from their snug underground dens much earlier than usual.

One Is Quite Tame.

One of these chipmunks has become quite tame as a result of our overtures. On March 5 he climbed up to his favorite observation post—the top of a wrenhouse near the driveway. There he sat in the warm sun, just about as sleepy a little animal as we've ever seen.

He could hardly keep his eyes open. This wasn't surprising, considering the fact that he had been doing virtually nothing except sleep, with occasional meals from his storehouse of food, ever since last fall. He was so groggy that he even refused to move when we passed close to him with one of our dogs.

We saw bluebirds in two farm fields, and farm residents reported that they observed these handsome new arrivals in two other sections of the farm, so there's little doubt that the bluebirds arrived on schedule. As yet they have shown little interest in the bluebird houses which have been put up on fenceposts around all of the farm orchards. We checked up on the houses early in the week.

A Chickadee Is Intrigued.

A chickadee seems to be intrigued by one of the bluebird houses. When we inspected these nesting sites early in the week we spotted a bird which first looked like a sparrow perched on the top of one of the bluebird houses. But when we put our field glasses on the house we found that the visitor was a chickadee.

Altho we never have heard of a chickadee taking over a bluebird house for nesting purposes, it wouldn't be unreasonable. Both species nest in holes or in small cavities and both nest at about the same time. Bluebirds prefer a lower nesting place, however.

All of the bluebird houses on the farm have the entrances not higher than 4 feet above the ground. We have had chickadees take over a wren nesting box in our yard, so there's reason to believe that these bold little birds also would take over bluebird houses.

CURBS ON SUGAR TO INSPIRE NEW COOKBOOK IDEAS

Chicago Women Prepare to Use Substitutes.

BY JUNE GESERICK.

Chicago women are preparing for sugar rationing and, as a result, out the window will go old preserving recipes and in their place will come new ones—recipes that call for less sugar or none at all.

The date for the beginning of sugar rationing has not yet been set, but Michael F. Mulcahey, city rationing chief, has announced that all sugar—even that put aside for canning—must be declared when war ration books are issued. He urged Chicago women to sell their excess sugar to dealers at current retail price.

Solutions Being Sought.

Chicagoans have contributed greatly in making the United States first among sugar using nations of the world, and now they are seeking solutions to the problems that will confront them when canning time arrives.

When asked how sugar rationing would effect her, Mrs. C. Leslie Counihan, president of the Hermosa Woman's club, said: "If we can't get any sugar for canning, the only thing left to do is to find a way to preserve fruit without sugar."

"Canned fruits are essentials—especially for children—but we can do without many of the jams, jellies, and preserves we have been using," said Miss Agnes Vogler, president of the Edgewater Catholic Woman's club. "With sugar rationing in effect, we must stop overcanning, and thereby causing a waste of material."

Honey Proves Effective.

Recent experiments have disclosed that several sugar substitutes will take the place of sugar in almost every case.

Fruits preserved in honey formerly have been considered luxuries, but now, with sugar rationing at hand and an apparently plentiful supply of honey, the product of the bees will gain a new prominence. Honey may be used in the baking of cakes, with recipes slightly changed to allow for the extra amount of liquid in honey.

Another item which is expected to become more popular when sugar rationing goes into effect is gingerbread. Gingerbread recipes call for the use of molasses instead of sugar.

Wholesale rhubarb dealers have reported a drop in sales because housewives are already limiting their use of sugar. However, it has been found that rhubarb cooked with honey is just as delectable, if not more so, than sugar cooked rhubarb.

Maple Sugar More Popular.

Maple sugar and sirup will be even more popular with cooks than they have been in the past, but with a great and rapid increase in the use of maple, there may eventually be a shortage in that field.

Dried fruits, which retain all their natural sugar and food value, will replace canned fruits in some homes. Other Chicagoans will can fruits without sugar, or with honey or a sirup as sweetener.

The sirup for peaches may not be as thick and sugary as it has been in the past. Men, who formerly used three lumps of sugar in their coffee will now call for one. But sugar substitutes will enable Chicagoans to keep cakes and pies on menus.

SMITTY—THEY'RE NOT SUCH BED BOYS

A Luscious Party Dessert

For a luscious party dessert, spread a creamy lemon filling, thinned with whipped cream, over sponge cake baskets and fill with balls of cranberry sherbet. To prepare the sherbet, break up 1 can jellied cranberry sauce with a fork; add 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind and 3 tablespoons sugar dissolved in 6 tablespoons orange juice. Freeze until partly set and fold in 2 stiffly beaten egg whites or 1 cup heavy cream, whipped. Then freeze until firm.

BROWNED RICE GOES WELL ON THE MENU WITH A BEEF STEW

A mound of fluffy browned rice goes well with any meat stew, and it offers a substantial touch to the vegetarian menu, too.

BROWNED RICE.
[Serves 6-8.]

- 6 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 cup raw rice
- 2 onions, minced
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- 1-16 teaspoon pepper
- 3 cups hot water

Wash and drain rice. Melt butter in frying pan over low heat. Add rice, onions, garlic, and seasonings. Fry until golden brown. Add water and bring to a boil. Cover and cook slowly for 30 minutes, or until rice is tender. Serve immediately.

AVERT CROWDING LUNCHEON PLATE BY HAVING SALAD

Overcrowded plates are seldom very attractive, so when you're planning on creamed chicken or seafood with potato chips for a simple luncheon, serve the vegetable in salad form like this one.

Asparagus Vinaigrette Salad.

- 1 No. 1 can asparagus tips
- 3 tablespoons vinegar
- 6 tablespoons salad oil
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon black pepper
- ¾ teaspoon paprika
- 1 teaspoon grated onion

Drain the liquid from the asparagus into a saucepan. Boil to reduce the amount. Combine vinegar, salad oil, and seasonings, and add to liquid. Heat slightly, then cool and pour over asparagus tips on lettuce or other greens. Garnish each salad with a strip of pimiento.

A Sugarless Sweet Sauce Can Be Made for Bananas

To make a sweet sauce for bananas that requires no sugar, combine 2 tablespoons cornstarch, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ cup corn sirup, and 1 cup any fruit juice. Cook, stirring constantly, for 8 to 10 minutes. Add lemon juice and serve over sliced bananas.

MUFFINS MADE FROM LEFTOVER COOKED CEREAL

If you have cooked wheat cereal leftover from breakfast, it can be used to make these tender, moist muffins for the next meal.

Whole Wheat Cereal Muffins.
[One dozen.]

- 1 cup sifted white or enriched flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 cup cooked whole wheat
- 1 egg
- ½ cup milk
- 1 tablespoon melted fat

Sift the dry ingredients together, add the cooked whole wheat, and mix thoroly. Beat the egg, add the milk and the melted fat, and stir into the dry ingredients. Pour mixture into greased muffin pans and bake in a hot oven [400 degrees] for about 20 minutes.

BOOKLET OFFERS FINE RECIPES FOR BREADS AND ROLLS

You'll Win Praise as a Cook with This.

You can build up your reputation as a cook, and have fun doing it, by making good yeast and quick bread. There are all kinds of good recipes for beginners and experts in Mary Meade's booklet, "Better Homemade Breads and Rolls." This booklet may be obtained for 20 cents at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street, and in the Tribune Tower, or it will be mailed to you for 23 cents in stamps.

Here's a Way to Make Deviled Eggs Extra Good

Deviled eggs are extra good when the yolks are mixed with prepared mustard, a bit of mayonnaise, grated onion, salt and pepper, chopped cooked bacon, and chopped Brazil nuts. You can even cut up the hard-cooked eggs and add them to the mixture for a tasty sandwich filling.

WEATHER REPORT

CHICAGO AND VICINITY: Warmer tonight with lowest temperature above freezing, followed by rain beginning Friday morning; gentle to moderate winds.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1942: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Judging from a preview of food prices for this week-end, your grocery bill shouldn't vary a great deal from last week's. You can save a few pennies, however, by selecting a few of the fresh fruits on the market that can well be classed as bargains.

Rosy red apples, Florida and California oranges, tangy grapefruit, and those big winter d'Anjou pears have all declined in price, and rhubarb is still very reasonable. If citrus fruits are included in the menu daily, as they should be, and healthful salads and light fruit salads appear at the table frequently, an abundant supply of these foods won't be wasted.

Cabbage Is a Good Buy.

A glance at the vegetable counters in neighborhood stores will tell you that hot, buttered cabbage or a crispy slaw would make an economical dish to serve the family sometime soon. Bunch beets are still reasonably priced, along with spinach, celery, and radishes. There's been a downward trend in the cost of cauliflower, but it can't be classed as a good buy yet.

The quality of curly endive is especially good for this time of the year, and it will make a good substitute for lettuce, which has advanced a little since last week. Since green beans, peas, broccoli, and peppers, aren't arriving in very plentiful quantities, their price tags remain a bit high. You'll have to splurge a little to share in the first lots of spring asparagus that will be on display, but the quality is very good. Better stick to tomatoes in the can, for the fresh ones haven't yet reached the moderate price level.

Some Lamb Cuts Featured.

Take your choice between a rolled rib roast of beef or leg of lamb for Sunday dinner, for there's little or no difference in their cost at most stores. Breast of lamb, rib and loin chops, neck cuts, and even lamb livers are being featured at reasonable prices, along with round, sirloin, porterhouse, and club steaks. [Don't ignore those inexpensive neck cuts for they'll make a very savory stew. If you prefer smoked ham, corned beef brisket, or a roasting chicken, they're still available with little chance in price.

The list of fresh water fish for the lenten menu includes lake smelt, whitefish, yellow pike, and lake trout. Salt water varieties are frozen halibut, frozen rosefish fillets [perhaps they're better known to you as sea perch], oysters, and shrimp. The shrimp are a little high this week, so oysters would be a better choice for economy's sake.

Hints on Cooking Fish.

Fish for frying is usually dipped into milk or beaten egg and then rolled in fine crumbs or cornmeal before it's put in the skillet. You can follow the same procedure for fish to be baked, pouring melted butter over it before placing it in the oven. Broiling is a simple method for cooking fish steaks and fillets. Just brush the steaks of fillets with butter, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and broil at moderate heat on a well greased rack until brown on both sides. Frozen fish may be cooked in the same way, but they'll require thawing first.

For patriotism's sake don't begrudge the fact that brown sugar and confectioners' sugar may be rather scarce in some stores. Honey and corn sirup will satisfy your craving for sweets just as well. They can be used in cakes and cookies, too.

A Delicious Dessert.

Add a few pieces of semi-sweet chocolate to gingerbread made from the prepared mix, bake, and serve with whipped cream for a quick but delicious dessert.

Fluffy Tuna Fish Puffs

These fluffy individual souffles are tuna fish puffs. To make them, roll 3 cups rice cereal into fine crumbs; combine with 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper, ¼ cup chopped celery, and 2 cups milk in a saucepan. Cook slowly, stirring occasionally for about 10 minutes. Beat 2 egg yolks and add to mixture slowly; cook over low heat 5 minutes longer. Add 1 cup flaked tuna fish (or other cooked fish). Beat 2 egg whites until stiff and fold into mixture. Pour into greased individual casseroles; set in a pan of hot water and bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) for about 30 minutes. This recipe will make 8 servings.

TODAY'S PRIZE RECIPE.

This simple and delicate rice pudding wins today's $5 prize for Friederike Baer, 1012 East 54th place, Chicago. Writes Mrs. Baer: "I don't know why it has been given this name. It is a German name, since it comes from Germany, and so do I, being a German [Jewish] refugee." Here it is:

Rice à la Trautmannsdorf.

½ cup crumbled coconut macaroons [about 1½ large macaroons]
3 tablespoons rum or arrack
4 tablespoons rice
2 cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
½ pint heavy cream, whipped
¼ cup granulated sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 or 2 cups cherries, strawberries, or raspberries, canned or fresh, and sweetened

Soak the macaroon crumbs overnight in the rum or arrack, possibly in the pudding dish from which the dessert will be served. Cook the rice in the salted milk until tender. Cool. Fold in whipped cream sweetened with the sugar and flavored with vanilla. Top macaroons with half the rice, then add a layer of fruit. Top with remaining rice. Garnish with remaining fruit.

That pet recipe of yours may also win a $5 prize. Write it in standard form, giving complete directions, and send it to the Mary Meade Recipe Contest.

MENUS TO WEAR THE GREEN FOR ST. PATRICK DAY

Emerald Colored Foods Lend Holiday Note.

There'll be shamrocks on the menu and a "wearin' o' the green" at the table when St. Patrick's day rolls around. Tiny silken top hats, clay pipes, and even blarney stones can be included in the setting for a party, and there are plenty of emerald colored foods in these menus to brighten up your holiday spirits.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY MENUS.

DINNER.

Chilled pineapple and lime juice cocktail
Crown roast of pork
Green minted apple slices
Parsley, buttered potatoes
Avocado and grapefruit salad
French dressing
Cloverleaf rolls
Pistachio nut ice cream Chocolate cookies
Coffee

LUNCHEON.

Cream of asparagus soup with croutons
Broiled lamb chops Minted pear halves
Shoestring potatoes
Salad of asparagus bundles on lettuce
Vinaigrette dressing
Parsley biscuits Lime chiffon pie
Coffee

PARTY REFRESHMENTS.

I.

Shrimp or crabmeat salad on watercress [garnish of green pepper rings]
Stuffed olives Radishes
Shamrock-shaped biscuits
Chocolate icebox cake with whipped cream [Top each serving with a minted green cherry]
Coffee Salted pecans

II.

Emerald salad on crisp greens
Cream cheese and parsley finger sandwiches
Black tea Lemon slices
Green fondant patties

III.

Irish Paddy cakes [Hollowed white cupcakes filled with scoops of pistachio ice cream and sprinkled with chocolate shot]
Minted lime punch
Shamrock gumdrop candies

PISTACHIO NUT ICE CREAM.

[Serves five.]

½ pound marshmallows
1 cup milk
Green food coloring
½ pint heavy cream, whipped
½ cup chopped pistachio nuts
½ teaspoon vanilla extract

Place marshmallows and 2 tablespoons of the milk in top of double boiler; heat until marshmallows are half melted, stirring frequently. Remove from heat and continue stirring until mixture is smooth and fluffy. Add a few drops of food coloring, blending well. Add remaining milk slowly. Fold in whipped cream, chopped nut meats, and flavoring. Pour into freezing tray and freeze firm.

LIME CHIFFON PIE.

[Eight inch pie.]

1 tablespoon plain gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 cup sugar
½ cup lime juice
½ teaspoon salt
4 egg yolks, beaten
1 teaspoon grated rind
Few drops green coloring
4 egg whites, beaten until stiff
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Soften gelatin in cold water. Combine half the sugar, fruit juice, salt, and egg yolks, and cook in top of double boiler until of custard consistency. Stir in gelatin and grated rind and add a few drops of green coloring. Fold second half cup sugar gradually into stiffly beaten egg whites. When custard begins to thicken beat with wire whisk and fold in egg whites. Turn into baked shell and chill until firm. Top with whipped cream when ready to serve.

EMERALD SALAD.

[Serves six.]

1 package lime gelatin
¾ cup boiling water
1¼ cups ginger ale
¾ cup diced pineapple
⅛ cup diced grapefruit
¼ cup chopped nutmeats
6 green mint cherries

Soften gelatin in boiling water. Cool slightly and add ginger ale. Chill until partly thickened and add fruits and nuts [except cherries]. Pour into individual molds and chill until firm. Turn out on greens and top with mayonnaise. Garnish with a mint cherry.

FROSTY FRUIT WHIP ATTRACTIVE TO BOTH EYE AND THE TASTE

This frosty looking fruit whip is decidedly good to look at and eat.

MARBLED APRICOT WHIP.

[Serves 4.]

¼ cup evaporated milk, chilled
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup apricot pulp
2 tablespoons sugar
1½ teaspoons vanilla
1 cup chocolate wafer crumbs

Beat milk until stiff. Add lemon juice and beat until very stiff. Combine apricot pulp and sugar and fold into milk mixture. Add vanilla and blend well. Alternate layers of apricot mixture and crumbled chocolate wafers in parfait glasses. Then chill.

Stuffed Haddock Makes a Dish for Lenten Meal

Stuffed haddock is a specialty for the lenten menu. Make the stuffing of 2 cups soft bread crumbs, 2 chopped pimientos, 1 small onion, minced, and ¼ cup diced celery cooked in 2 tablespoons butter until tender. Add salt and pepper to taste, and enough milk to moisten. Then stuff fish, sew up, and place in oiled pan. Brush fish with butter or oil and bake in hot oven, 425 degrees, allowing about 20 minutes per pound.

Black Line in Shrimp Is Perfectly Harmless

Some persons may object to the presence of the black line left in shrimp, but it's perfectly harmless, and contains plenty of iron and iodine.

THE Kitchen Kibitzer

BY MARIAN CARTER

A look over the shoulder of the kitchen manager in an attempt to speed, lighten and add some novelty to her daily routine.

All out of cookies for the kiddies' lunch boxes? Honey-flavored graham crackers, spread with butter and a raisin filling, make good, nutritious substitutes.

* * *

Breakfast will be a special occasion when you start it off with a combination of chilled orange and prune juices flavored with a little lemon juice and a speck of cinnamon.

* * *

Crunchy carrot sticks will be more welcome than ever when they've been crisped in ice water to which you've added a little onion or garlic salt.

* * *

Money-waster! Don't hoard those ground spices for they'll just lose flavor after keeping them for six long months.

* * *

Plain rennet custard can be sweetened with maple sirup instead of sugar. Prepare the custard as usual, substituting one-half cup sirup for the sugar in the recipe.

* * *

For a quick and economical dish, cook chicken livers in a little water or soup stock until tender. Season with salt and pepper and break with a fork. Pour, with the gravy, over hot buttered rice.

* * *

For those who like a hot beverage but don't drink coffee, there are plenty of substitutes on the market. Some are made from cereals, roots such as chicory, and others from fruits and vegetables.

* * *

If there are gingerbread squares left from lunch, spread them with applesauce, and heat for a few minutes in the oven. Top with sweetened whipped cream and a dash of nutmeg—and there's the dinner dessert!

* * *

Small Church Makes Plea to Sally for Help

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

A small church on the south side has asked assistance. Its members are anxious to utilize the basement of their building as a children's department, but lack funds to provide the necessary furnishings.

There are several large rooms which can be used for primary and junior classes, but a piano, a sofa, several bookcases, and small chairs of any kind are badly needed.

The church will arrange transportation on any items offered.

If any reader has a violet ray lamp which is no longer needed, Miss Y. would be glad to have it. She has had a long and expensive illness, and her physician has prescribed use of such a lamp, but it is impossible for her to buy one. She can afford slight repairs and will arrange to call for a lamp if one is available.

We also would like to locate an electric clipper of the kind used in barber shops. A man who is in the service would be able to earn extra money if he had such an instrument. All his salary now goes to the support of his family, and since that income is barely adequate for needs, he is anxious to supplement it.

Weddings

The marriage of Miss Eleanor Lee Farmer to Lieut. Franklin Carl Basler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Basler of Jackson, Mich., will take place tomorrow in the Drexel Park Presbyterian church. The bride's mother, Mrs. Grover C. Farmer of Union avenue, will give a reception in the Windermere East hotel. Miss Farmer attended Ferry hall and Northwestern university. Lieut. Basler, a graduate of the University of Michigan, is in the quartermaster department of the army.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Stowell to Lieut. Robert Brown Shanks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Shanks of Winchester avenue, took place on March 7 in the Episcopal church of the Holy Nativity in Beverly Hills. The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Leland Stowell of Plymouth, Wis., received her master's degree from the University of Chicago. Lieut. Shanks was graduated from the college of engineering at the University of Chicago and is serving with the army corps of engineers.

Miss Marian Helene Goldsmith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Goldsmith of Kenwood avenue, and Corp. Donald O. Reiman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Reiman of Harper avenue, will be married on Sunday in the Windermere East hotel. A reception will follow in the hotel. Miss Goldsmith and Corp. Reiman both attended the University of Illinois.

FASHIONS

By ANGELA

The old gray mare ain't what she used to be. She's better than that. While owning a horse is still in the luxury class, it won't be long before Old Dobbin will regain her former important position in society. There may be a horse in every garage as car by car is relegated to inactivity when its rubber can't be charmed into stretching over another mile.

However, you don't need to own the horse to be able to enjoy riding. Whether you do your riding thru the country lanes, along the city bridle paths, or over the western plain, you will want the proper costume. And perhaps the very thing you want will be found in the sketch above.

For informal riding as we know it around this part of the country jodhpurs are the popular breeches. Those illustrated are fairly high waisted, have the leather reinforcements at the knees, and a little bell shaped flare. Green twill are the breeches, green rayon gabardine the shirt, and green tweed the coat with a soft overplaid. A little soft derby completes the costume.

Off figure in the center is, first, a Tattersall vest. It is a light pinkish beige checked 100 per cent wool, well fitted, and nicely tailored. Under $6.

Reminiscent of the fringed buckskin worn by the trick riders of the west is the cotton gabardine or denim divided skirt and sleeveless jacket with fringed hemline. Comes in natural gabardine color, dark blue, and light blue. Under $4.

The dude in you will like the straight frontier riding pants in green, brown, tan, or black twill. Under $6. To wear with them we have chosen the high heeled western boot, a shiny rayon satin shirt available in yellow, red, or blue with contrasting piping on collar, cuffs, and pockets, studded leather belt, and 10 gallon hat. Well, it's 5 gallons, anyway.

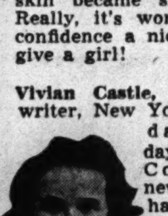
THE Inquiring Cosmetic Girl

THE QUESTION:
What do you do for Dry, Sensitive Skin?

THE ANSWERS:

Lucille Winston, 5050 Sheridan road—Being a normal, fun loving high school senior, I was very hurt to always find myself on the outer fringe of the social swing. I began to realize that my dry and blemished complexion was really the reason. Then my pharmacist gave me most helpful advice by suggesting Peau Seche Cosmetics and after a very short while my skin became smooth and clear. Really, it's wonderful what self-confidence a nice complexion can give a girl!



Vivian Castle, advertising copywriter, New York—I was getting data together one day on Peau Seche Cosmetics for a newspaper ad and had a sample kit to try out myself. I, like most people in my profession, have read so many claims about products, that I always say, seeing is believing. Well, after using the creams for a few days I did see a difference. My skin which once was dry from the cold winter weather and sensitive to temperature changes . . . became soft and smooth. Now I consider writing about Peau Seche Cosmetics not just plain advertising, but an exciting personal testimonial!

Banquet Opens Convention of Benefit Society

Mayor Edward J. Kelly joined the 300 members of Illinois units of the Woman's Benefit association who gathered at a banquet in the Morrison hotel last night to pay tribute to Mrs. Bina West Miller, founder of the organization and for 50 years its president. The affair was the opening event of the association's state convention, which will be called to order at 10 o'clock this morning in the hotel.

Using $150 of borrowed money and a little "not paid for" furniture as capital, Mrs. Miller founded the woman's fraternal organization in 1892. Campaigning from town to town, in Canada as well as in the United States, Mrs. Miller gradually increased the association's membership to its present 220,000.

Mrs. Victoria Potter of Waukegan, convention president, will conduct the convention, which will run until 4:30 o'clock today. Junior members of the organization will convene at 10 o'clock tomorrow at the hotel for their annual state convention. The presiding officer will be Miss Dorothea Nelson, Cook county Junior and Girls' club supervisor.

Girl Scouts Observe 30th Anniversary with Penny Parade

More than 3,000 Girl Scouts, their mothers, and Girl Scout leaders filled the grand ballroom of the Palmer House last night to celebrate the 30th birthday of the Girl Scouts. Representatives of each of the Chicago Girl Scout troops formed a "penny parade" to a large green and white cardboard birthday cake, dropping in the cake the pennies their troops had collected for the Juliette Low Memorial fund.

Among the speakers were Mrs. John B. Bremner, Chicago chairman of the Juliette Low fund committee, and Miss Ruth Daniels, assistant director of the Girl Scouts of Chicago. Vivian Brand and Phyllis Rohde told of their experiences at the Western Hempishere Girl Scout encampment at Springfield, Mass., last summer.

Because of the difficulties of world travel this year the Juliette Low fund will be used for scholarships for foreign Girl Scouts and Girl Guides in this country who wish to take Girl Scout leadership training. Before the war it was used to send girls to the international Girl Scout chalet in Switzerland.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Warden Laughlin Herd of Glenview annnounce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia, to Joseph Alten Langan, son of Mrs. Joseph Langan of Skokie, formerly of Evanston. The wedding will take place on March 28 at 4:30 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents. Mr. Langan attended Northwestern university.

Prof. and Mrs. Robert J. Delahanty of Hanover, N. H., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Margaret, to the Rev. Arlan A. Baillie of Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Baillie. Miss Delahanty was graduated from Wellesley college. Her fiancé was graduated from Chicago Theological seminary.

Patrick J. Mullin of North Bell avenue announces the engagement of his daughter, Anna May, to John J. Brogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Brogan of Oak Park. Miss Mullin was graduated from the Convent of the Sacred Heart and from Barat college. Her fiancé attended the University of Illinois.

Women in War Work

By India Moffett

[The Women in War Work department reports on women's activities in war and defense work and will answer questions of women wishing to take part in these activities.]

Does the labor shortage make it the patriotic duty of household employers to release their helpers for service in wartime industries?

Should the household employer make it possible for her employés to do "war" work?

How can employés be enlisted in the campaign against waste of paper, grease, rubber metals, etc., and against the careless use of household appliances? How can they be prepared to meet emergencies, such as air raids?

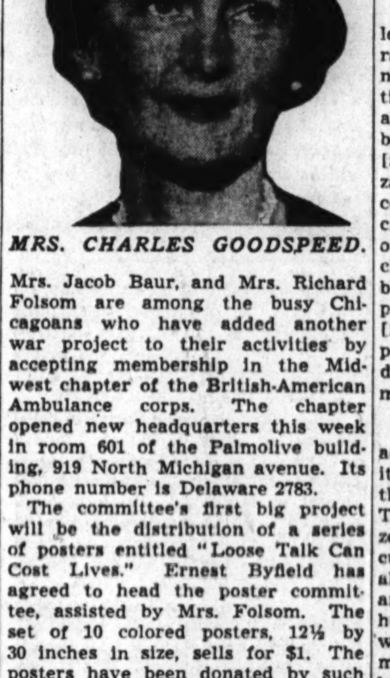
These questions, and others, will be discussed at a conference on "Wartime Adjustments in Household Employment," sponsored by the Household Employment committee of the YWCA, to be held at the loop center, 59 East Monroe street, at 11:45 o'clock next Tuesday morning. The meeting is open to the public, which will be permitted to take part in the discussion with a panel of experts. Reservations may be made by telephoning Franklin 0760 before Monday noon.

Mrs. Burleigh B. Gardner is chairman of the conference, which is the second one to be held this year. Its aim is to bring together employers and employés for a frank and free discussion of the problems which concern them both. The conference committee includes Mrs. James Luther Adams, chairman of the Household Employment committee; Miss Ernestine Sloan, Mrs. Louis Binstock, and Mrs. Ralph Chapman.

Four new vice chairmen have been added to the 16 previously announced by the committee on women's organizations, Illinois State Council of Defense, headed by State Rep. Bernice T. Van der Vries and Mrs. Frederic W. Upham. The new chairmen are Mrs. Sarah Ann Peterson, National circle, Daughters of Isabella; Miss Sarah E. Daily, registered nurse, president Illinois State Nurses' association; Mrs. Raymond Knotts, Garden Club of Illinois, and Mrs. Celia M. Howard, Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women. The chairmen will serve in an advisory capacity to minimize duplication of effort and overlapping of service by the thousands of clubwomen in the Illinois war effort.

More than 300 cakes baked by Austin and Garfield Park women will be collected at 3935 Washington boulevard this morning and then delivered to the Chicago Service Men's center, 176 West Washington street. The cakes are the west side's answer to the "Bake-a-Cake-a-Month" club organized last week by two west side community newspapers in coöperation with James Calkins of the Chicago fire department. The home economics class at Providence High school and the Delano PTA contributed to this week's collection of cakes.

Mrs. William H. Stanley, Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, Mrs. James McMillan, Mrs. Charles W. Wrigley,



MRS. CHARLES GOODSPEED.

Mrs. Jacob Baur, and Mrs. Richard Folsom are among the busy Chicagoans who have added another war project to their activities by accepting membership in the Midwest chapter of the British-American Ambulance corps. The chapter opened new headquarters this week in room 601 of the Palmolive building, 919 North Michigan avenue. Its phone number is Delaware 2783.

The committee's first big project will be the distribution of a series of posters entitled "Loose Talk Can Cost Lives." Ernest Byfield has agreed to head the poster committee, assisted by Mrs. Folsom. The set of 10 colored posters, 12½ by 30 inches in size, sells for $1. The posters have been donated by such artists as Soglow, Steig, Dohanos, Beall, Holmgren, and others. All the proceeds go to the ambulance fund. The committee will contact large offices and institutions in an effort to have the posters widely displayed. The corps' shop will continue in operation at 81 East Madison street, under the direction of Mrs. Florence Barrete.

When the past penny was counted from a fair last week, the Finish production unit of the Chicago chapter of the Red Cross had added $950 to its cash gifts to the Red Cross, making a total of $8,003 in two years. Mrs. Joseph P. Varkala is chairman of the unit of 40 Finnish women. Twice as many workers usually appear on the unit's sewing days, however. When the unit first opened, the Red Cross did not have funds to buy materials, so one woman gave $400 to purchase the cloth to get started. The group has made 5,000 articles.

The Chicago chapter of the Red Cross has formed a public relations service to meet the increased number of requests for Red Cross speakers. The service will provide experienced speakers with a thoro knowledge of Red Cross work to address all groups of 30 or more, if given at least 10 days' notice. Arrangements should be made by telephoning or writing the service at 616 South Michigan avenue.

Mrs. Kate Prochaska, 3425 West 54th place, was the 5,000th volunteer to give a pint of blood at the Red Cross blood donor center, 624 South Michigan avenue. She passed thru this week shortly after her 18 year old daughter had volunteered. When Joseph H. King, chairman of the blood donor service, presented Mrs. Prochaska with a bronze pin, she said she valued it next only to her American citizenship papers. The center has been operating at full capacity for five weeks.

A talented group of employés from the Chicago Transformer corporation will present a variety show tonight in the post gymnasium at Fort Sheridan. A program of 23 acts will include pantomime by Elmer Rosensteel, a marionette show operated by Marie Gordon, operatic arias by Carol Kunze, accompanied by Lillian Galla; hillbilly singing, popular music, and a drum and bugle corps stunt for the finale.

Chicago Approaches Four Million Mark in Red Cross Drive

Only $37,462 is needed to push Chicago's Red Cross war fund to the $4,000,000 mark, James B. Forgan, general chairman, announced yesterday as new gifts brought the total to $3,962,538, 6 per cent over the $3,750,000 goal. The oversubscription will be used to help make up the increase of $15,000,000 in the national goal, Forgan said.

Among the gifts received yesterday were: $1,366, ladies' group of the Slovak National alliance; $1,192, the University of Chicago and its faculty; $1,088, Chicago chapter of the Hadassah society, and $1,068, Cook County School of Nursing.

Other contributions included: $5,662, Agar Packing and Provision company; $2,472, Manz corporation; $1,905, the Hub; $1,409, the Glidden company; $500, S. Karpen & Brothers; $1,777, Ford Motor company in Chicago, and $1,000, Johns Mansville Sales corporation.

PTA Outlines Twelve-Point War Program

BY IRENE STEYSKAL.

Recommendations of a special committee appointed by Mrs. F. Russell Lyon, state president, to prepare a statement clarifying the wartime objectives and activities of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers were submitted to the board of managers yesterday, in session at the Stevens hotel.

After studying the war plan suggested by the national Parent-Teacher congress, the committee enumerated 12 points for emphasis in the war effort of Illinois members, their units and the state organization:

[1] Coöperation with state and local authorities in civilian defense, rather than duplication of effort; [2] nutrition study courses; [3] conservation of clothing, household materials and equipment; [4] continuation of book collection for the armed forces; [5] gardens for victory; [6] immunization campaign; [7] prevention and control of social diseases; [8] use of civic local right to control the sale of intoxicants and narcotics; [9] purchase of defense bonds and stamps, but without pressure on children; [10] protection of children and youth; [11] maintenance of educational opportunities in elementary and secondary schools; [12] maintenance of morale thru wholesome recreation.

The committee also proposed the adoption by the Illinois congress at its annual convention here in April the pledge of the national Parent-Teacher congress, "to continue with zeal and devotion our efforts to secure and preserve the good life for all children, even in the face of war and disaster; . . . to protect childhood against all the dangers of war, whether these dangers be physical, mental, or spiritual; . . . and to keep the faith delivered unto us by our forefathers, who hewed this America out of the wilderness and dedicated it to liberty, justice, happiness, and truth for every human being."

The board received the committee's recommendations from Mrs. Charles W. Ball, a Chicago member who served as chairman. Others of the group were Mrs. Elias Freudenheim and Mrs. George R. Ives, both of Chicago; Mrs. Herman Fabry of Evanston, Mrs. E. C. Coatney of Assumption, Mrs. Melvin C. Lockard of Cobden, and Mrs. Ivan Hunzelman of Galina.

Your Handwriting

BY SHIRLEY SPENCER.

That Donald Nelson likes to cut red tape is quite evident in his writing. He has cut down his writing to a few essential strokes and simplified the process by elimination to such a point that he has left practically nothing but a few cryptic marks. Do note, tho, that he makes his signature clear at the end because this shows up a special trait. It shows that, altho Mr. Nelson often is inscrutable, he often is naïve. He is trusting in spite of the shrewdness shown in the rest of his writing.

Mr. Nelson's writing stands straight up and down, so I warn those trying to fathom him to note this point and not take his noncommittal attitude for complacency. Will they be surprised! He is cool and detached—seems indolent and good naturedly unhurried, but watch him cut the corners, just as he has cut them in his writing. He was too impatient to write out Donald and that "M" is anything but slow moving. He wants action from others and he doesn't give any warning—he just lops off the parasite branches coolly without any waste motion. He hates complications and will always take the most direct route with the least effort.

For handwriting analysis send 10 cents (in coin) and a stamped, self-addressed envelope, together with a sample of handwriting to Shirley Spencer, Box 116 General Postoffice, New York City. IMPORTANT: Write 25 words and signature in ink.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY.

Salesmanship.

The mother, father, and little boy stopped before the counter in the toy department where an eastern toy company's sales manager had just finished a pep talk to the sales clerks. Nothing to it, he had been telling them. All they needed was to push sales.

The little boy stood stolidly before the counter, a small, pompous replica of his large, pompous father. So, the sales manager went to work. This wagon—interesting and instructive. Painstakingly he assembled it, piece by piece. Triumphantly he banged it to show how durable it was. An excellent toy! Just the thing for this young man!

The parents smiled and nodded, but the little boy remained unmoved. "No," he said distinctly and definitely. And the salesgirls chuckled.

As Men Prefer Them.

From the masculine point of view, what is the well dressed business girl? Do business men like frills and furbelows, or streamlined simplicity?

An underwriter in a large insurance firm, when asked, cast his vote for simple clothes. "Of course," he hinted, "it depends somewhat on the girl. Some can get away with styles that others cannot." He does not like floral prints in the office, mesh hose, low necked dresses—he thinks high, snug necklines "cuter and younger looking." He doesn't object to toilet water [mild] if "soap precedes it."

A physician said: "Well, I've just had a young woman in my office dressed to suit my taste exactly: a well fitting tweed suit, a white washable blouse, long sleeved with gold buttons and that neat, tailored look."

A radio chain representative does not like sweaters, but does like skirts and blouses, and plain, tailored dresses. He likes, he adds, "white collars which, if they're supposed to be starched, are starched" so as to give that clean, fresh appearance. Bracelets with bangles are out as far as he is concerned . . . in the office, and dangling earrings, altho he rather likes inconspicuous clip earrings.

A manufacturer prefers tailored suits, or blouses and skirts, very simple, he adds. He likes black and dislikes polka dots and large figured prints in the office. He doesn't object to discreet use of make-up and nail coloring; doesn't like perfume but thinks that a girl's attractiveness in business depends for a large part on scrupulous personal cleanliness.

A banker agrees with the rest of the men: simple, tailored clothes are to his liking, skirts and blouses, but he likes colors in the office . . . thinks they are more cheerful. And he likes trim, neat shoes and a moderate use of costume jewelry . . . here, again, he thinks it's cheerful.

Why Girls Don't Eat More.

Objection sustained:

Plain Jane objects strenuously to the service in a restaurant where the portions are not large and the service is all too fast. The waitresses shove your dessert menu in front of your nose before you have finished your roll and butter. Then, after you have obligingly interrupted eating, they grab what's left of the roll and butter and whisk that away, too. Why doesn't the working girl eat more? The waitresses won't let her!

Music Notes

The spring festival of the Catholic Music Educators' association will be held in the Civic Opera house next Sunday evening. Eight hundred boys and girls, both singers and instrumentalists, will take part. The main event will be preceded by a matinée performance today.

The Little Symphony orchestra of Stephens college, Columbia, Mo., will give concerts at Morgan Park High school and York High school [Elmhurst] today, and at Lake Forest High school and New Trier High school [Winnetka] on Monday. The group consists of 30 players from the Burrall Symphony orchestra of Columbia. The director is James Adair.

Woman Scorned

WHEN HER HUSBAND'S love cooled, she was miserable, bewildered. She never suspected the cause—her "ONE NEGLECT", carelessness about feminine hygiene. Few husbands forgive this fault. Modern women avoid it—and so can you. Use Lysol for your intimate personal care. Lysol does more than cleanse and deodorize. It kills millions of germs on instant contact—without harm or discomfort to sensitive tissues. Small bottle makes almost 4 gallons of antiseptic solution for feminine hygiene.

Rising Number of Young Men Entering Army

BY JUDITH CASS.

SOON to be flying thru air with the greatest of ease is a young Winnetkan who was determined to serve his country in one of the most active and dangerous branches of the navy or the army—in a submarine or in one of the newly formed parachute troop units. He is Lloyd A. Schipfer Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Schipfer of that suburb. Young Mr. Schipfer was accepted for parachute duty and started off for his training on Wednesday. So quickly did he depart that there was not time even for him to bid adieu to his father. The recruit is the eldest of Dr. and Mrs. Schipfer's three sons.

The John T. McCutcheons were pleased to hear that their second son, Shaw, has been accepted for an army meteorological course, to begin next Monday. Shaw McCutcheon, who long has been interested in the science of the atmosphere, has left his classes at Harvard university. The McCutcheons' eldest son, John Jr., will report for duty with the navy next week at a southern port. Ensign McCutcheon has been in Chicago for a few days on leave.

Erskine Wilders Have Two Sons in Service.

The Erskine P. Wilders of Winnetka have two sons in the army now. Erskine Jr., better known as Sandy, and David, both are serving. The Warner Bairds' elder son, Lieut. Warner Baird Jr., is at an army air post in the east. He, too, is specializing in meteorology.

It's as easy to march a few dozen miles on our own Navy pier as on any training grounds, the young naval officers stationed there have found. In spite of long hours on the pier, Ensign Ward McNally finds energy for extra-curricular activities and has planned a little party for Saturday night next week at the Onwentsia club. That is the evening of the day of the wedding reception Mr. and Mrs. Knight C. Cowles are giving at the club for their daughter, Miss Edith Cowles, and Joseph Nathaniel Greer Jr. Ensign McNally, who was graduated from Yale, as were Mr. Greene and the best man and ushers, has asked the bridal party to join his guests that night.

Miss Cowles to Wear Family Bridal Attire.

The handsome wedding gown in which Elizabeth Cheney of South Manchester, Conn., was married to Alfred Cowles of Chicago on Nov. 28, 1890, will be worn to the altar of the Church of the Holy Spirit, Lake Forest, by the late Mr. and Mrs. Cowles' granddaughter when she and Mr. Greene are married that afternoon. The lace cap Miss Cowles will wear was worn by her mother, the former Alice Farnsworth when she became Knight Cowles' bride, and is an heirloom in the Farnsworth family.

Miss Cowles' grandmother, Mrs. Francis Drexel Smith, and her daughter, Mrs. George Blagden Hazelhurst, will be here from Colorado Springs for the wedding, as will be the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Nicholas M. Pond of Milford, Conn. Also present will be Mr. Greene's mother, Mrs. Everett W. Pervere of North Andover, Mass., and Mr. Pervere, and Mr. Greene's father, Joseph N. Greene of Birmingham, Ala., and Mrs. Greene.

Miss Bessie Cowles, who is to be her sister's maid of honor, is arriving from Sarah Lawrence college next Thursday. The bridegroom will arrive on Tuesday. Miss Jean Verity of Middleton, O., Mrs. A. Werk Cook and Miss Edith Porter are to be bridesmaids.

Thru the Looking Glass

One of our favorite fragrances is that of a unique "essence," not nearly as well known as it should be. The liquid isn't straight perfume, neither is it cologne, but it has some of the charms of both and can be used in a great many ways.

Its fragrance is definitely sophisticated and elegant and we feel quite certain that only the woman who can carry off a scent that is rich and distinguished can enjoy it and wear it with complete success. It's not what you'd associate with clothes that are the least bit dowdy. It has such verve and such sophistication that it calls for something of the same qualities in the wearer and her costumes.

The formula from which it is compounded is Russian, and it is Russian in flavor—prerevolution Russia, we hasten to add. It isn't calculated to appeal to those who believe that even tastes should be Spartan!

This essence can be used directly in the bath water if you like to be lavish with such stuff, or as an invigorating and highly perfumed body rub. The scent is heady and its qualities develop after it's worn for a bit. It has the trick of heightening your own sense of elegance and you'll find that bystanders love it. Not every one can use it, but those to whom it is suitable are lucky; we don't often find scents so distinguished.

This is lush, lovely and luxurious; if that's what you like in a fragrance it's well worth trying.

Bach's Mass Gives Thrilling Night of Music

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Last night was the night. Bach's B minor mass received its first downtown performance in seven years. Like every other superlatively great work of art, this mass means many things to many people, and Orchestra hall housed an audience that represented a good cross-section of Chicago's concert going public.

There were students with their noses buried in scores, some of them undergoing for the first time the indescribable experience of hearing the dead notes on the paper leap into life and of finding that this music sounds as tremendous as it looks. If these students did not grow chill with excitement at the perfection of Bach's voice leading, then the new generation is a hopelessly phlegmatic group.

There were others with no particular interest in the technical side of the art who wished merely ["merely" is not the word] to come into close contact with a work of such overwhelming expressive power that one is at a loss to name three others that are its equals. These people heard music of shattering eloquence bodied forth in a polyphonic texture of matchless richness and complexity.

Still others accepted this performance as a part of the Chicago Symphony orchestra's Lenten observance, and valued the B minor mass as one of the most august of all expressions of religious emotion. The purity and sincerity of Bach's faith and his deep absorption in the subjects with which he was dealing are apparent thruout the mass.

For this performance the 300 voice Swedish Choral club [of which Harry T. Carlson is the regular director] joined forces with the Chicago Symphony orchestra. Frederick Stock conducted. The soloists were Harriet Henders, soprano; Lilian Knowles, contralto; Frederick Jagel, tenor, and Mark Love, bass. The same groups will give another performance this afternoon and a third next Sunday afternoon.

The chorus threaded with a musicianly accuracy the fearful labyrinths which such movements as the "Cum Sancto Spiritu" offer. What is more, it retained for the most part a round easy tone and a confident sense of command. Sometimes, it is true, accents were too heavy and the music lost its horizontal feeling, but this is a difficulty which should be ironed out by the second performance.

The solos and duets were warmly and expressively sung—except the frightfully florid ones near the beginning, which are almost impossible of execution anyway. The orchestra was a trifle erratic here and there, especially as regards tonal suavity, but on the whole it furnished a reassuringly solid background.

Dr. Stock drew all the threads of the performance into his hands and was responsible for much of its momentum and aliveness.

Bride-to-Be

Miss Jane Nelson's engagement to Private Otto H. Pabst, son of Mrs. Fridolin Pabst of 4042 Greenview avenue, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Nelson of Sauganash avenue, Lincolnwood. Miss Nelson, a contralto, was chosen the "best woman singer" in the 1939 contest of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S Chicagoland Music Festival. She appeared in Soldiers' field on the festival program and has been heard many times on W-G-N. Private Pabst, a baritone singer, is in the army medical corps.

Shoe Clinic Is Newest Aid to Clothes Thrift

BY REA SEEGER.

It's funny, but it seems that it takes a world tottering crisis to make us start to appreciate and give proper care to our clothes. Not since the well supervised days of our childhood have we heard such a chorus of admonitions about hanging up the dresses, brushing our hats, coats, and suits after each wearing, and the loving care due shoes, gloves, and accessories. The din increases daily, but every one has turned out to make things easier . . . or to encourage caring for what we have.

One such aid is the shoe clinic, featured in a Chicago store. It is a spot where you can bring in all your worn footgear, or the problem items that no longer fit, or the favorite numbers that can be rejuvenated. In this clinic, presided over by an expert craftsman, are such services as making short shoes longer, or reducing too long models, or making a wider shoe narrow, or that trick in reverse. They'll likewise lower or heighten a shoe without changing the pitch of the last, which, according to those who know, is some accomplishment!

If you crave eyelets or nail head trim you can order such accents; also any other kind of decoration, bows, stitching, and fringed tongues for your sports brogues. They'll clean, dye, and restore color and tone to old shoes that are otherwise in good wearing condition. They'll cut out the toes for open toe models if you wish, or cover up the open toe apertures. In other words, it's a spot where you'll find all the foot magic in revamping and rejuvenating any old shoes you may find.

Scramble round your attic and wardrobes, round up the old shoes and try this foot clinic for what ails them. Most of the problems can be solved in a couple of days and your old models will be returned in gleaming new array. Prices are moderate indeed for such a slick service.

"Interest Will Be Small Except—"

A cable from a London publisher asking for 500 copies of a book first published in the '80s has caused the University of Chicago presses to rumble. The book was revised in 1924 by Col. J. G. McIlroy of the American army with the foreword, "Interest will be small except in the event of war." The colonel was a true prophet. The 1924 edition of 1,000 was ample for 17 years. In the first 11 months of 1941 only eight copies were sold, but after Dec. 7 American sales swooped to 250. The London publisher stated his request of 500 copies stemmed from the British war office.

It seemed more a group of shades
Which by the sun were fed.

We Understand.

Mrs. William R. Harshe hailed a cruising cab in New York a week or so ago and told the driver to go to the Grand Central station. It developed into an adventure into the unknown. To Mrs. Harshe's amazement the driver stopped three times to ask directions of passers-by, and when they reached the station he opened one door of the cab, walked thru and out the other door, making no effort to take her baggage. When she made a mild protest about the excessiveness of the fare, he hastily assured her he knew he had gone out of his way, but had no intention of trying to cheat her, and added, "I just don't know what's gotten into me today, but something goes wrong every time I get to New York."

Think You Can, Sir?

Excerpt from a letter from a candidate for state senator:

"It is my earnest desire to serve my people in my district and my state in a fine manifesto."

He Must.

James Madson, who operates a rooming house at 2 East Banks street behind the Potter Palmer mansion, lives in one room on the first floor. In that room he has one upright piano, one Hammond organ, one ordinary radio, one FM radio, one phonograph. His friends say he likes music.

The Russians and Sugar.

Mrs. C. M. Gerlach of Sandusky, O., questions a recent statement that the Russians had no sugar until 40 years ago, for Russian novels are replete with characters drinking tea while nursing lumps of sugar in their mouths. She quotes from Tolstoy's War and Peace [setting: 1805], "The servant brought back his empty glass, turned bottom side up, and with the lump of sugar untasted." Paul C. Standley, curator of the herbarium at the Field museum, explains that the Russians of 1890 had two pounds of sugar a year, but its consumption was restricted principally to the aristocracy. And we hasten to add that Curator Standley, taking his cue perhaps from the line in Turgenev's First Love [setting: 1833], "Vonifaty might announce that there was no sugar," already is taking his cereal with salt and his coffee black.

INSTALMENT XI.
CAMPING.

Beth sat down in the chair, and asked simply, "What kind of work have you been doing, Marty?"

"Waiting table. It hasn't been hard. I'm doing all right." While she spoke, she didn't look at Beth. The dead indifference in her voice, in her face, almost terrified Beth.

This wasn't the girl she had grown up with, the girl who could dance a night away with half the men on the western slope, whose favor had caused a hundred fist fights, who had married a steady, reliable man to prove her good sense. Misfortune alone couldn't do this to her; it was something else, and Beth wanted to know what it was.

"Marty, what's wrong?" Beth asked suddenly.

She saw the shock of the question in Martha's face. "Why, nothing, Beth. What could it be?"

Beth made up her mind swiftly. "Marty, you're coming home with me to the ranch. Lord knows how long it'll be for, but you're welcome to stay until we sell. You need a rest."

"I couldn't, Beth. Thanks."

"But you've got to!"

"No!" Martha said flatly, almost harshly. "I couldn't do it."

Beth rose and came over and sat down beside her. "Try it for a week, Marty. After that, maybe things will look better."

Martha shook her head, and when she looked at Beth there was alarm in her eyes. "Please, Beth, I'm all right! I like working. I—I'd be lost without it."

"But what's wrong?" Beth asked gently.

Martha came quickly to her feet. "Nothing, nothing! Why don't you let me alone!"

Beth was silent, and when Martha saw she wasn't going to answer she relaxed a little, and the bitterness crept back into her face.

"I'm sorry, Beth," she said flatly. "Just let me alone. Nothing's wrong. I'm—just different. Don't try to change me."

"All right," Beth said gently.

Martha walked over to the door, opened it, and then turned. She looked as if she were about to speak; there was a softness, almost a pleading, in her eyes, and Beth waited breathlessly for her to speak.

Then it was gone. "Good night, Beth," she said, and she closed the door behind her.

Downstairs, Pete waited until she had gone into the kitchen again, and then he went back, too, passing Hyam, still asleep, on the way.

When he stepped into the kitchen Martha Macy was alone. The cook had gone for the night.

She eyed Pete over her shoulder with quiet hostility, and when he let the door close behind him she straightened and turned from her work.

"What do you want?"

Pete put his shoulder against the wall. "Nothin' much," he said quietly. "There's a man around here lookin' for you. I thought you might want to know."

"Who?"

"Fella' name of Dave Wallace."

The name moved her. Pete could see her breathing slow down, see the bright lift in her eyes. She turned abruptly to her work. "I don't know him," she said.

"He's raisin' a lot of hell around here," Pete murmured. "He's liable to get hurt. I thought you'd better tell him."

Martha looked squarely at him. "I told you I didn't know him."

"Sure."

He didn't move and Martha went on sorting silver. But her pace slowed presently, and then her hands ceased working. She stared at her hands and asked softly, "Who's going to hurt him?"

"Chevron."

Martha looked obliquely at him. "Haven't I seen you with Chevron?"

"I work for it."

Martha looked full at him now, seeing a young, brash puncher with a troubled seriousness in his face. "Did Jess tell you he'd get hurt?"

"No. I can tell."

"I don't know him," Martha reiterated.

Pete shifted away from the wall, and he spoke slowly. "I get to town now and then. Reckon I could see you some time?"

"No," Martha said flatly.

She looked at Pete for a full 10 seconds, and he could not read her glance. A quick grin flashed across his face as he put on his Stetson.

"I aim to change your mind," he said. "Good night."

And he went out thru the dark dining room. Stepping into the lobby, he glanced at Tom Hyam and was surprised to find the hotel owner's eyes open, watching him.

"Come here, you," Hyam said quietly.

Pete stopped, arrested by the tone of Hyam's voice.

"Leave that girl alone," Hyam said flatly. He didn't move, lay slack in one chair with his feet in the other.

"And who says I will?" Pete drawled.

"I do."

"You got to say it louder than that," Pete murmured.

Hyam yawned and closed his eyes and presently Pete, baffled and angry, stepped out into Hilliard's night. This country and its people, he decided abruptly, took some figuring, and he was a man for it.

Dave came awake at bare dawn. He had been sleeping on his side, knees drawn to chest, and he didn't move against the morning chill that was seeping thru his thin blankets. This was the spot he had picked last night in the dark after fleeing Hilliard, and now he regarded it with curiosity. It was a small break in the pine and aspen timber and a thin ground mist still clung to the earth. Beyond, some 40 feet away in a like clearing, he had staked out his stolen Chevron horse, and now he lifted his head off his rolled-up slicker, looking sleepily for the horse.

He could see the whole clearing, and the horse was gone.

He boiled out of his blankets and came to his stocking feet, sleep shocked out of him. The horse wasn't there.

"I staked him out in a little meadow below," a voice said.

Dave wheeled in his tracks. There, hunkered down against the base of a big jackpine, was a man. He was the color of an Indian, and save for his close-cropped gray hair and pale eyes, looked like one. Dave regarded him carefully, searching his memory, and behind thought he was calculating the exact spot where his gun rested under his slicker.

"You were in the saloon last night," Dave said finally.

"That's right." Old Ives paused a moment and then said, "Pick up your gun if it'll make you feel better. I'm alone, tho."

Dave considered him a moment and then asked, "You haven't got anything to eat with you, have you?"

"It's waitin' over yonder where I camped last night."

Dave said quickly, "Where you camped?"

"I found you last night," Ives said idly. "I figured you needed some sleep."

Dave had a moment of feeling foolish, and he covered it by sitting on his blankets and putting on his boots. His hunger was so insistent that it didn't leave much room for anything else, but he was trying stubbornly to find a reason for this visit. His boots on, he strapped on his gunbelt, and old Ives rose without a word and set off into the timber, Dave behind him.

Less than 100 yards away and uphill was old Ives' camp. He had a fire going, and a full two cup coffee pot and a three-quarters of a bannock were warming by the fire.

"I've et," Ives said. "Tie into it."

Benjamin Ayer Fairbanks to Name Son for Father.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Ayer Fairbanks [Virginia Hobart] will name their son, born yesterday at the Lying-In hospital, for his father. They have a daughter, Helen. Mrs. Kellogg Fairbanks and the Ralph H. Hobarts are the children's grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Corwith Hamill [Joan Smith] are being congratulated on the birth of a daughter, Nancy Corwith, last Monday at St. Luke's hospital. The baby, who has a little brother, Jonathan, is a granddaughter of the Alfred E. Hamills, who are in Mexico for a month, and of Mrs. Harold C. Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Corwith Hamill expect to be able to occupy their new Wayne home in June.

Mr. and Mrs. John Allen Kovas [Frances Weary] became the parents of their second son, Ronald Allen, on Feb. 24 at the Passavant hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jules Michelet Jr. of Winnetka are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter on March 1 in the Evanston hospital. The baby, who has been named Michele Faye, is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alexander Fullerton of Tuscola, Ill., and of Mr. and Mrs. Michelet of Wilmette.

If "bad breaks" were not common there would not be much difference between expert and average players. With suits breaking 2-2 or 3-3, and all finesses working smoothly, bridge would be a comparatively simple [and boring] card game. The bad breaks, by providing opportunity for real prowess, supply a decided fillip. Note today's hand.

West opened the club king. Declarer's first lead to the trump ace disclosed the alarming news that two trump losers would be unavoidable and, since there were also possible losers in hearts and diamonds, it was obvious that heroic measures would be required to bring home the contract.

Declarer cashed the diamond ace and led a low diamond toward dummy. When West's queen appeared, declarer realized he had won only half the battle. It was encouraging to have trapped the queen, but on the other hand it was apparent that the suit would not break and that a discard could not be acquired by normal means.

There was just one chance left, and declarer was quick to capitalize it. Cashing the king and ace of hearts, he then led another trump and passed it. West won and could afford no return except a trump. Declarer won and forced out West's last trump. West then could exit safely in clubs, but the respite for the defenders was only temporary. At this point East, who had started out with only two ten spots, found irresistible pressure applied to him. After ruffing the club return, declarer laid down his last trump. At this point, declarer's holding was one trump, the heart eight, and the four of diamonds. West, having been stripped of diamonds and hearts, was out of the running. Dummy still had a low heart and the jack-nine of diamonds. Dummy's discard on declarer's trump was, of course, the heart, and poor East found it impossible to select a safe discard. To throw off the heart ten was merely to promote declarer's eight spot, whereas to discard a diamond was to establish both the jack and nine in dummy.

Don't Force a Child's Taste in Foodstuffs

How can you amuse the convalescent child? What is the most difficut age? How may stubbornness be prevented? These and other problems are discussed in "You and Your Young Child," Mrs. Gladys Bevans' latest booklet, on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Deaborn street and Tribune Tower. Price, 15 cents; postpaid, 18 cents.

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Mealtime should be a looked-for, happy time in the life of a family, but that doesn't seem to be the case in a great many households about which I hear thru my mail. Too much time is spent bickering, and in discussing what foods the children must eat, and meals become a trial instead of a pleasure to old and young alike.

Strange, isn't it, that so many adults feel that all children should like and be made to eat all foods? Many adults shy away from the dishes which don't appeal to them. Why shouldn't children be allowed some latitude in this respect? Try treating your children more like grownups, and see how well it works. They have their likes and dislikes, as do adults, and should be allowed their preferences to a sensible degree, especially when they get past the very little stage when, sometimes, it keeps them in the limelight if they fuss and won't eat unless coaxed.

Food attractively served, and deliciously but simply prepared, goes a long way in the elimination of mealtime difficulties. Avoid monotony, for this kills appetite. Young Jack's repudiation of too frequent baked potatoes and Betty's desire to forego string beans are quite understandable, and they should be given a vacation from them until their taste returns. Fish and other seafoods haven't a natural appeal for all adults and this fact should be borne in mind especially with our children.

Don't be hidebound, and insist that your children's tastes in food must duplicate your own; and above all things let the conversation at your table be pleasant and interesting, and not always on the subject of food.

Use common sense and thoughtfulness in preparing food so that it will appeal to your active growing children, and then adopt a take-it-for-granted attitude that the meals will be eaten.

The Housewife

A great convenience for the business girl who does her laundry in the wash bowl is a neat little washboard made especially for such a job. Its wooden handle is shaped to fit your hand and you hold it upright while you work. Its ridged surface is of metal. This little gadget is light and easy to use and is intended for travel as well as for small apartment use. Its cost is well under half a dollar.

Good Morning!

KIND: Slapstick comedy.

FUNNY?: Sometimes yes and sometimes no. . . . Sometimes-er —NO.

ACTING: Mr. Fields bumbles around in his usual fashion, tangling with scenery and inhabitants. . . . Gloria Jean, playing his niece, sticks by him and sings when the script demands. . . . Her delightful young voice is, to my way of thinking, the best thing about the movie. . . . Other players do the best that could have been expected of them.

DIRECTION: Okay.

DIALOG: Ridiculous.

STORY: Mr. Fields, appearing as himself, writes a script—and the action demanded by this remarkable document is depicted on the screen. . . . It calls for an airplane flight by Fields and others to Mexico. . . . En route and after arrival the strangest things do happen. . . . And dogs, a gorilla, a love bird, goats, and burros do their humble best to help the humans entertain.

REMARK: Mr. Fields wrote most of the scenario.

AUDIENCE APPEAL: You can't discourage a Fields fan.

See you tomorrow.

Crocheted Star Design

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

There are as many crocheted star patterns as there are applique or pieced star quilt patterns. They are designs which may be used for any type of crochet work, from a bedspread to a tablecloth or doilies. The most attractive feature is that they are easy to create and do not require a great amount of time. In the doily the shape is rather unusual, because five motifs are used for the center row, with four on each side.

For instructions in crocheting the star doily, No. 1085, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Board Meeting Today.

Bearer of Bad Tidings Often Loses Friend

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

It's ticklish business conveying bad news to a parent of his own child's doings, as a correspondent has found out. We presume that the last people in the world to believe ill of a young person is that young person's parents. That's why it becomes so dangerous to a long-standing friendship to be the one to carry bad news.

In brief, Mrs. X., we'll call her, is a widow and herself the mother of two girls. She had as a good friend, and, for a time a considered second mate for herself, a widower with three girls and a son. It so happened that an officer of the law, also a long acquaintance of the widow, knowing of her friendship with the widower, asked her to warn this man about the activities of his daughter. The girl has turned out to be a problem child, altho only 16. The officer was in a position to know that the girl needed sterner discipline at her Dad's hands than she was receiving.

"Altho, at the time," the widow confides to us, "I was not seeing the widower regularly, I thought it best to write to him, telling him just what the officer told me. I suggested that he go to the officer and say I told him to go. I felt that he was the girl's father and had a right to know, and that I would be a poor friend if I didn't do something to help put her straight. The result was that the girl's father cut me dead on the street, and I was told by a mutual friend that he said I was a liar. He never went near the officer."

That's the way it invariably turns out, even when the best intentions are behind the impulse to tell. In any event, the problem supplies you readers with a topic for discussion: Would you tell the girl's father, or would you remain quiet?

Hollywood, Cal., March 12.—Hollywoodians who have been entertaining soldiers are going to put on a show for the Mexican army, too. A special trainload of talent, traveling with Washington's official blessing, will go to Ensenada on a Sunday late this month. Passengers penciled in include Hedy Lamarr, Adolphe Menjou, Cesar Romero, Desi Arnaz, and Carmen Amaya. Noncitizens will have special dispensation for getting out of and back into the United States. . . . Sam Goldwyn has hired Fay Thomas, hurler for the Los Angeles ball club, to portray Christy Mathewson in "The Pride of the Yankees." . . . And Sam is bringing Helene Costello out of retirement for a rôle in the picture. Years ago, Goldwyn wanted Miss Costello for the rôle subsequently played by Myrna Loy in "Arrowsmith"—but her husband, Lowell Sherman, wouldn't let her go back to work. . . . Paramount, gratified by the success of its remake of "Nothing But the Truth," will fashion a musical out of another James Montgomery comedy, "Ready Money." Vintage of 1915. No casting yet. . . . Walter McEwen, a production assistant to Hal Wallis at Warners', has quit his job and is going to Paramount as a producer. . . . I didn't know until today that studios have directors of of first aid and accident prevention. Paul McWilliams, Warner first aid and accident man, has invented a splint which is supposed to be the best thing yet. The splint was demonstrated for fotogs today on Alexis Smith, who has the longest and handsomest limbs in town.

A woman on C. B. De Mille's research staff, working on the old boy's forthcoming Mexican picture, "Rurales," called somebody the other day to find out if certain waters in Baja California were navigable. Her source didn't know—but gave her another phone number to call. She dialed this new party and got all the information she wanted. As an afterthought she asked to whom she was talking. It was the Los Angeles branch of a Japanese steamship company.

Metro has had more trouble getting a Diesel locomotive for its picture, "Grand Central Murder." Engines are working 24 hours a day and have no time for movie jobs. The studio finally wangled the loan of a Diesel after shopping all over the country, and it arrived on the siding at Lot 2 yesterday. On it was a bronze plate stating, "First National Bank, St. Paul, Owner." "I wonder," wondered Al Block, "when they're going to get the pink slip."

Movies have standins, but not understudies. Possibly the first cinema understudy is Jennifer Jones, the Oklahoma tent show girl whom D. O. Selznick signed for a secondary rôle in "Claudia." Jennifer has been named Dorothy McGuire's understudy, and if anything happens to Dorothy, Jennifer gets the title rôle. . . . Val Lawton, longtime scenario head for Selznick, goes to RKO as a producer. . . . Oscar Levant gets another movie rôle—in Claudette Colbert's "No Time for Love." . . . William Saroyan has a player-piano in his Metro office, which is a floor below the publicity department. One of the publicity lads yelped at the kind of music Saroyan had been playing. A new kind of racket started, and up came a note from the Wonderful Armenian announcing, "Now playing Tschaikowsky."

"Tulip Time," in which Van Heflin and Kathryn Grayson have the leads, is sort of crazy because all the girls in it have boys' names. Ann Rutherford, for instance, has the rôle of Albert, and Frances Rafferty is George. The plot concerns a reporter-photographer who wants his magazine to assign him to a war job, and instead he is told to cover a tulip festival in New Holland, Mich. He encounters an odd coot who owns a hotel and has staffed the place with his daughters. He wanted boys but always got girls—so he gave his children masculine names.

Fay McKenzie has a nice job in "Remember Pearl Harbor." Script has her kicking five Japs on their lap-backs. . . . Alice Faye's first picture since her retirement for motherhood will be "Coney Island," and George Montgomery will be her leading man. The yarn has been around the 20th-Fox studio a year or more. Basis is Ed Van Every's "Sins of New York," and Sam Hellman is doing the screenplay. . . . Thomas Mitchell gets an important character rôle in Ty Power's "The Black Swan." Darryl Zanuck will produce this Rafael Sabatini number in person.

SUITS { soft softer softest

Why is the 1942 soft suit so well loved? It's chameleon. Its character changes against accessories. It can have the gentle, central calm of the pioneer woman, or, with frankly frivolous accessories, it can be more fatally feminine than all those Southern Belle ruffles. Suits like these are a treasure—you'll wear them everywhere. Suits like these are Carson advocated.

1. Softness around and below a set-in belt. Suit in bright red, soft blue, beige wool; 9-15. Junior Miss Shop. 29.95

2. Beautiful Forstmann pure wool Charmeen gabardine. Natural or navy. 12-20. Casual Clothes Shop. 69.95

OPEN BIG TRACK WEEK WITH AAU MEET TONIGHT

Tech Relays Draw 4 Big Ten Teams.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The Central AAU track meet, which will be held tonight in the University of Chicago fieldhouse, inaugurates an eight day period that is the peak of competition for the sport in Chicago. When combined with the Butler relays tomorrow night, the activity in the midwest will exceed the competition last weekend when the indoor championship meets of the Western conference and the Central Collegiate conference were held.

The Central AAU meet is the prelude to the 14th annual Illinois Tech relays which will be held tomorrow evening in the University of Chicago fieldhouse. The Butler relays will be held tomorrow in Indianapolis and a week from tonight the Chicago relays are scheduled in the Chicago Stadium.

Have Three Prep Relays.

Tonight's program, with the exception of the pole vault, will start at 7:30 o'clock. Eight track and five field events are listed in addition to three invitational 880 yard relays for Chicago high schools. The AAU events are: 60 yard dash, 600 yard run, 70 yard high hurdles, mile walk, 300 yard run, 1,000 yard run, 2 miles, pole vault, 16 pound shotput, high jump, broad jump, pole vault, and 56 pound weight throw for distance.

Six Catholic high schools have entered relay teams in the special event for that division and a like number will compete in the Public high school relays. The University of Illinois will defend its team championship with a 13 man entry but will meet strong competition from the team of 17 entered by De Kalb Teachers, runners-up last year. Also making a strong bid for the team title will be the University of Chicago with a team of seven varsity and eight freshmen; and the Olde Tymers club team of 17.

Park District Has Entry.

The Northwestern university freshman team, Wright Junior college, the Chicago park district, and a large number of unattached athletes complete the entries.

Close competition in the pole vault is expected between Robert Kincheloe of the University of Chicago and Ed Thistlethwaite, competing unattached.

The Illinois Tech relays are a continuation of the meet started by Armour Tech before that institution merged with Lewis institute to form the present technical school. Division of the field into college and university groups has increased the number of entries, particularly in the former class, and a larger array of prizes is offered than ever before. Iowa, Wisconsin, Northwestern, and Chicago of the Big Ten will compete here.

Marquette at Illinois Tech.

Marquette university's track team also will compete in the Illinois Tech games. Coach Melvin Shimek believes his teams will be exceptionally strong in the sprint medley and 2 mile relay events. Marquette's sprint medley team will be Tom Tiernan and Gene Grochowski or Lloyd Skagen, 440 yards, and Howard Millen and Art Egbert or Gil Larson, 220 yards. The 2 mile team includes Skagen, Grochowski, Henry Lorisch, and Bob Paeschke.

Millen, Larson, and Harry Rummel are entered in the sprints. Egbert will seek an individual title in the hurdles and Tiernan is entered in the quarter mile. Other individual entries are Al Klug and Les Kalchik, weights; Emmet Welch, high jumper, and Harvey Baerwald, pole vaulter.

Michigan Defends Title.

The University of Michigan is defending champion in the university section of the Butler relay carnival. Butler and Western Michigan are defending titleholders in the college division. Rivalry will be particularly keen among Michigan, Ohio State, which won its first Big Ten championship last week; Indiana, Illinois, and Notre Dame, winner of the Central Collegiate title. Purdue also is entered and the Boilermakers' principal bid for victory will be made by the mile relay team which finished third in the Western conference. Michigan's squad of 25 will be handicapped by the loss of Frank McCarthy, hurdler.

Hermon Phillips, former Butler track coach and originator of the Butler relays, who now is coach at Purdue, and E. C. Hayes, whose Indiana team won the first Butler title, will serve as honorary officials tomorrow night. Clyde Littlefield, University of Texas track coach, will be the referee.

Indiana Has Strength.

Campbell Kane and Earl Mitchell are the mainstays of the Indiana relay teams. Kane won the half mile and mile Big Ten championships for the second time last week and Mitchell was second to Kane in the mile and won the two miles. Other Indiana men are Harry Price, quarter and half mile; Paul Kendall, second in the conference half mile and fifth in the mile; Larry Falwell, Howard Henry, and Paul Riley. Price was second in the conference 440 yards, trailing Bob Ufer of Michigan, who established an American record of :48.1.

MOON MULLINS—A SET BACK

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

ED SIMONICH, former Notre Dame full back, is the newest addition to the list of former Irish stars who have won success as coaches. . . . Ed has directed Carroll college [Helena, Mont.] athletes to two Montana college conference football titles, one basketball, and one track crown in the last three years. . . . Jim Barber, veteran Washington Redskin tackle, will report to the Norfolk, Va., naval training base on April 8. . . . Paul O. Ridings, new director of the news bureau at the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago, is believed to have been the youngest president of a college athletic conference in the country. . . . Before coming to Tech, the 24 year old Ridings was head of the journalism department at Midland college and also served as president of the Nebraska college conference, which includes five schools. . . . The rubber shortage is proving especially acute in the big league training camps, where the athletes are wondering what they can use to replace the big elastic bands which hold up their stockings. . . . Dick Wakefield, the Tiger rookie, has been tabbed "Whirlaway" by his mates in the Lakeland [Fla.] camp. . . . Dick is said to be one of the speediest players to come up in years. . . . Three clubs—the Cardinals, the Senators, and the Reds—now are using the pitching robot for batting practice. . . . The machine, which propels the horsehide at 240 miles an hour when that speed is desired, is faster than any pitcher and also can be used to fire balls to the outfield for fielding drills. . . .

Ned Mathews, Detroit Lions' half back, who labors as an extra in the films, will be seen briefly in the new Lou Gehrig picture. . . . Frank Leahy's decision to switch to the T formation this year must be quite a blow to scouts for rival elevens whose notebooks are filled with obsolete plays from last year's games. . . . It always happens note: Baseball experts in Florida picked the Giants as one of the teams to beat in the 1942 National league race, so Mel Ott's men go out and drop their first three exhibition games. . . . The Oakland [Cal.] ball club has a catcher, Joe Glenn, who started as a pitcher, and a pitcher, Charley Buttrell, whose first baseball experience was gained behind the bat. . . . Outfielder Jack Graham, Dodger rookie, is a son of Peaches Graham, the oldtime Braves catcher. . . . Ruth Aarons, the eye filling table tennis champion, never has lost a tournament match.

If we but stand together, every wrong
Will soon be righted and the victory won.
Remember, we must each one do his part
And work a little more while talking less;
Be all American with hand and heart,
Then God will give our efforts true success.

Webb to Fight Colan in Garden Tonight

New York, March 12 (AP).—Jimmy Webb of Houston, Tex., and Johnny Colan of New York, will meet in a 12 round fight in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night in a rematch of one of the indoor season's best bouts. They fought eight round to a draw a month ago. The preliminaries include eight round bouts between Lightweights Nick Castiglione and Maxie Shapiro and Welterweights Wickey Harkins and Pete de Ruzza.

WHITE SOX SIGN SAM WEST FOR OUTFIELD DUTY

Veteran Has a Lifetime Average of .301.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pasadena, Cal., March 12.—Just before giving his White Sox their last instructions today, prior to the inaugural of the exhibition program tomorrow, Manager Jim Dykes revealed that he had gone to desperate lengths in an effort to remedy an outfield situation that has had him worried.

He took on Sammy West, who while an old man as baseball standards go, can still get around without the aid of crutch or wheel chair. Sammy, unless the records have been pruned in his favor, is 36 years old, but in times like the present, as Dykes says, you can't be too particular.

Of course, Jim has no illusions about his latest acquisition. He had only three outfielders experienced in big league intricacies, so a fourth was necessary for filler in case something should happen to Myril Hoag, Wally Moses, or Taft Wright. That will be West's job—to fill in at this or that outfield post during an emergency.

Sam Picked the Sox.

West was picked up as a free agent. About 10 days ago he was given his unconditional release by the Washington club, with which he spent most of his long major league career. With a chance to deal for himself, West studied the various big league rosters and came to the conclusion that he would welcome a whirl under the direction of Dykes. He wired Dykes, who sent back a welcoming note. So tomorrow West will turn over his Lubbock, Tex., drug store to the registered pharmacist and head westward, probably arriving in time for work on Sunday.

West came up to the Washington club from Birmingham in 1927 and spent six seasons there before being traded to St. Louis. He was in the Browns' outfield until June 15, 1938. He was traded back to Washington, where he remained until recently. In his prime he was a pretty good batter and a great fly grabber but, naturally, some of his skill has melted down with the years. However, even if he isn't called on for any outfielding, he should help as a pinch hitter until Dykes can locate what he considers a better article.

Don't Forget Philley.

West, who worked mostly as a pinch batter last season, appeared in only 26 games for the Senators and compiled a .276 batting average. His all-time major league figure is .301. Sam also took part in three All-Star games, collecting one hit in four times up for a .250 percentage.

The grabbing of West doesn't mean that Dykes has fully decided his only two outfield rookies aren't worth considering or even that Hoag will be good enough to keep West idle all of the time. Rookie Thurman Tucker, having lacked lustre last spring and hitting only .251 for Oklahoma City last season, may find it hard to attract the manager's attention. But there is that lad, Dave Philley, who was bold enough to hold out on his first big league contract. Dykes and his assistants seem to think the kid knows how to handle a bat but it may take a couple of years to bring out this skill. Anyway, Philley may be called by the army soon.

ILLINOIS WINS; CLINCHES SHARE OF HOCKEY TITLE

Champaign, Ill., March 12 [Special].—Illinois clinched a share of the Big Ten hockey championship tonight by defeating Michigan, 6 to 2. The Illini can win their second straight undisputed title by downing Michigan here Saturday in the season's last game.

Illinois and Minnesota each have defeated Michigan three times, but the Gophers lost once to Michigan. Minnesota and Illinois did not meet.

Amo Bessone, flashy Illini defenseman, paced tonight's victory with two goals and an assist. George Balestri, Clint McCune, Lou Ferranti, and Capt. Joe Lotzer also counted for Illinois. The Illini took a 3 to 0 lead in the first period, and were ahead 4 to 0 before Michigan counted. Bob Collins and John Corson scored for the Wolverines.

Some New, Some Old, but Mostly New

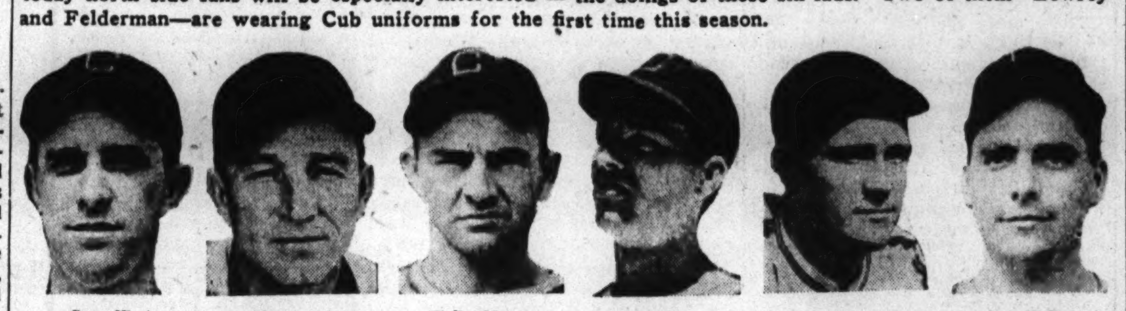
Claude Passeau. Russ Meers. Marvin Felderman. Charles Gilbert. Harry Lowrey. Vallie Eaves.

As the Cubs and Sox square away in Los Angeles for the opener of their 14 game spring series today north side fans will be especially interested in the doings of these six lads. Two of them—Lowrey and Felderman—are wearing Cub uniforms for the first time this season.



Sam West. Ed Weiland. Wally Moses. George Dickey. Orval Grove. Leo Wells.

And here are a half dozen White Sox who hope to clinch regular jobs before the pennant drive opens. Sam West, veteran outfielder, was signed yesterday after having been made a free agent by the Senators.

Yankees Offer Joe DiMaggio $40,000 Plus and He Accepts

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 12 (AP).—Joe DiMaggio came to terms with the New York Yankees tonight in an hour long conference with President Ed Barrow. Altho the salary was not announced, it was believed to be $42,000.

Both men emerged smiling and Barrow said: "We reached a compromise. That's all I can say."

When pressed for details, however, he added that the figure was a little over the $40,000 offer made to DiMaggio last week and described at that time as final.

DiMaggio said: "I came expecting to have to battle but it was very friendly and satisfactory and I am very happy."

He'll Report Today.

The big center fielder, who set an all-time record of hitting in 56 consecutive games last year and was voted the most valuable player in the American league, said he would report tomorrow to Manager Joe McCarthy and would be ready to play or do anything else Joe asked.

He said he weighed 196 pounds.

DiMaggio's salary will be $5,000 more than he earned last year and will be the second largest ever paid by the Yankees—more than Lou Gehrig or any other player except Babe Ruth ever received.

He Won't Play at Once.

This will be DiMaggio's seventh season with the Yankees and he said tonight he never had served a full spring training season with the club, altho he had been signed on time once or twice before. McCarthy is not expected to use his star in exhibition games until early next week.

Altho terms were reached tonight, DiMaggio did not actually sign his contract because no form was available. This detail will be taken care of tomorrow.

Falls in Line

JOE DI MAGGIO.

CARDS BEAT REDS, 7-1.

Tampa, Fla., March 12 (AP).—Bucky Walters was no puzzle to the St. Louis Cardinals today as they battered him for seven hits and as many runs in five innings to defeat the Cincinnati Reds, 7 to 1. Against his successor, Paul Derringer, the Cards collected only one hit, a single in the sixth. Gus Mancuso drove in three of the Cardinal runs and Rookies Jeff Cross and Harry Walker batted in two each. Score:

| | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| St. Louis | 031 300 000 | —7 | 8 | 2 |
| Cincinnati | 000 010 000 | —1 | 4 | 2 |

Batteries—Lanier, Jurisich, Pollet and Mancuso, Cooper; Walters, Derringer and Hemsley.

TIGERS, YORK STILL AT ODDS.

Lakeland, Fla., March 12 (AP).—First Baseman Rudy York was unmoved today by the Detroit Tigers' 24 hour ultimatum ordering him to accept salary terms, and General Manager Jack Zeller quickly barred him at the expired deadline from training camp and the start tomorrow of Grapefruit league competition.

York said he would return to his home at Cartersville, Ga., but he and his family still were registered here. Thru camp sources, however, York made it known that he would seek another conference with Zeller.

Rip Radcliff will be at first base tomorrow when the Tigers open their exhibition series with the St. Louis Cardinals. Lefty Hal Newhouser and Paul [Dizzy] Trout are to share the pitching assignment.

Birdie Tebbetts will catch and Jimmy Bloodworth, Billy Hitchcock, and Pinky Higgins will round out the infield. The starting outfield of Barney McCosky, Roger Cramer, and Bob Patrick probably will be Detroit's regular 1942 combination.

JIMMY FOXX AILING.

Sarasota, Fla., March 12 (AP).—Another sinus attack added to Jimmy Foxx's woes and forced him to forego today's Red Sox batting and fielding workouts. During the last few days Foxx's fractured toe has prevented him from doing everything except take his turns at the plate during hitting drills. After going thru infield drill at top speed, Jim Tabor's bruised left ankle became troublesome and he was ordered to rest until next week.

MIZE WORKS WITH GIANTS.

Miami, Fla., March 12 (AP). — The tape was removed from Johnny Mize's injured shoulder today and the New York Giants first baseman participated in a brisk workout with no further mishap. The tendon which twice has snapped out of place remained in position and Mize reported he was able to throw without suffering pain. Hal Schumacher, Carl Hubbell, and Bob Carpenter are scheduled for action in week-end games with the Dodgers.

BRAVES' REGULARS WIN.

Sanford, Fla., March 12 (AP).—Altho limited to five hits, the Boston Braves' regulars today eked out a 4 to 3 victory over the rookies in a six inning game. Tommy Holmes collected three of the victors' hits, all singles, while the rookies were combing Manny Salvo, Tom Earley, and Jim Hickey for eight safeties, including a homer by Frank Lamanna.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 12.—The White Sox and the Cubs will meet tomorrow afternoon in the first of 14 exhibition games scheduled for the spring series competition between the two teams. The game will be played in Los Angeles' Wrigley field and will start at 4:30 p. m Chicago time.

The Cubs, jubilant at having reached the mainland shortly before noon today—without mishap except for four or five cases of mal de mer—will lose no time in going after victories. In the opener they will start Claude Passeau, who became quite a pain in the neck to the Sox last spring while the American leaguers were losing the touring city series, six games to seven. Manager Jimmy Dykes will counter with a young gent of less experience, Ed Weiland.

Eaves Is No. 2 Hurler.

After Passeau, the Cubs will employ Vallie Eaves, former member of the Sox, tho rather briefly, and Russ Meers, calm and crafty lefty who led the Southern association last year by winning 16 and losing 5 for Nashville. Clyde McCullough, native resident of Nashville who never played for his home town, will be the starting Cub catcher.

Following Weiland for the Sox will be Orval Grove, a familiar figure in Sox-Cub spring series for two years but not so well known in Comiskey park, and Joe Haynes, who wasn't exactly overworked by the Sox last season, his first with Dykes' outfit. Of the six pitchers scheduled to work tomorrow, Passeau is the only one who had a start in the fall city series last year.

Wally Gets Into the Feud.

Among those named for tomorrow's game who never have participated in a Sox-Cub feud are Wally Moses, obtained from the Athletics since last the two teams met. Wally missed the Cub-A's series last spring because he was recuperating from an auto accident. Others are Leo Wells, who will bat in the cleanup position for the Sox; Charley Gilbert, who will play center for the Cubs; Peanuts Lowrey, who has faced Sox pitchers as a member of the Los Angeles Angels, and Meers.

The Sox have had no competitive exercise this year. You know how Skipper Dykes frowns on baseball until he believes his boys are in the pink from calisthenics. The Cubs have been thru seven intraclub games, which may or not mean anything.

Cubs to Visit Sox Monday.

After tomorrow's encounter, the Sox and Cubs will part company until Monday. Then the Cubs will make their first trip in history to Pasadena to engage the Sox on the American leaguers' practice field.

Saturday and Sunday the Cubs will play the Athletics in Wrigley field. Last year the A's drubbed the Cubs five straight before losing one to them in the final in Tucson, Ariz. Sam Chapman was the boy who made them suffer. Sam now is in military service. While the Cubs are playing the Athletics, the Sox will be in Hollywood, seeing how they get along with the Stars, of the Pacific Coast league, now managed by their old pal, Ossie Vitt.

The Cubs left their base on Catalina Island at 8:30 o'clock this morning, led by that rugged tamer of Neptune, General Manager James T. [Portage Jim] Gallagher. They cleared the submarine nets and the immigration barge without any delay and were relaxed in their Los Angeles headquarters, the Biltmore hotel, before 1 o'clock this afternoon.

BIG10 WRESTLERS TO OPEN TITLE EVENT TODAY

Purdue Is Favorite for Team Crown.

Preliminary bouts to cut the entrants in the Big Ten wrestling meet to eight men at each weight will be held in Bartlett gymnasium at the University of Chicago this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Quarter-final bouts will be held tonight at 7:30, further to shrink the field to the four men in each bracket who will fight it out for the respective individual titles tomorrow.

Pairings in the closely matched field were decided last night at a meeting of coaches. The strong Purdue team is given only a slight edge over Illinois, Michigan, and Iowa.

Two Out of Title Running.

Minnesota's defending champions and Indiana, which had only a single man entered, were the only teams conceded virtually no chance at the championship. Purdue, with a brace of five undefeated men ranked as the favorite. The Gophers, weakened by graduations and inductions into the services, received a crushing blow in the loss by injury of Butch Levy, heavyweight.

Indiana entered only Harry Traster, who is capable of taking the 165 pound title, but without teammates this left the Hoosiers out of the title competition. Indiana has won four of the eight team titles since the meet was made the conference championship event in 1934.

Capt. Casey Fredericks, Purdue's 121 pound champion last year, Malcolm MacDonald, 121 pounder, Bob Britt, capable 145 pound competitor, Jim Paratore, at 155 pounds, and Frank Ruggieri, heavyweight, are the undefeated Boilermakers.

Other Outstanding Performers.

Other outstanding performers in the meet include Ted Seabrooke, 155 pounds, and Norm Anthonisen, 165 pounds, of Illinois; Jim Galles, defending 175 pound champion, and Bill Courtright, 165 pounds, of Michigan; John Roberts of Wisconsin, 175 pounds; and Leonard Humphreville, Maroon 155 pounder.

Iowa's bid will be made primarily in the lighter weights, where the Hawkeyes have a strong group including Roy Pickett at 121, Russ Miller, 128, Capt. Loy Julius, 136, and Dick and Ralph Geppert at 155 and 165 pounds. The Gophers' best bets are Cliff Perizzo, 128 pound runner-up last year, and Jack Morton, 145 pounds.

City Squash Meet Opens Tomorrow at Lake Shore

The Chicago Amateur Singles Squash Racquets tournament will open tomorrow on the courts of the Lake Shore club. Seventy-five entries are expected, representing such clubs as the Dartmouth Alumni, the Chicago Athletic association, the Dearborn club, the John Marshall club, Town and Tennis club, the Alman club, and Lake Shore. Fred Flores, Lake Shore coach, is manager of the tournament.

Chicago Roller Derby Team Triumphs, 13-10

Several hundred Tribune home delivery carriers watched the California entry in the roller Derby defeat the Chicago skating team, 13 to 10, last night at the Coliseum. Tom Atkinson assured the Californians of victory when he won the final 2 point sprint. Wes Arsonson, captain of the Chicagoans, scored six points to bring his individual total to 43. Monta Jean Kemp sustained injuries that will keep her out of the race for several days.

Seeks Title

Raymond Deane of Michigan, who will compete for the 136 pound title in the Big Ten wrestling meet which opens today at the University of Chicago.

Open Prep Mat Meet Today in Champaign

Champaign, Ill., March 12 [Special]. —Headed by sectional championship squads, 33 high schools, represented by 100 athletes, will compete for the state wrestling championship at the University of Illinois tomorrow and Saturday.

Proviso of Maywood, whose three year hold on the title was broken by Champaign last year, led the Blue Island section and qualified eight wrestlers, the largest number from any section.

Three other sectional winners, Tilden of Chicago, East St. Louis, and Champaign qualified seven contenders each and Stockton, five.

East St. Louis is led by two individual champions from last season, Littlefield, 95 pounds, and Abramovich, 145. Pinckstaff, Lawrenceville, 135 pound champion, also returns.

Schools represented are:

CHICAGO SECTIONAL—Tilden, Calumet, Bowen, Fenger, Lindblom, Parker, and Chicago Vocational.

GRANITE CITY—East St. Louis, Granite City, Belleville, Quincy, Madison Highland.

BLUE ISLAND—Proviso [Maywood], Blue Island, Morton [Cicero], La Grange, Calumet City, East Aurora.

STOCKTON—Rock Island, Geneva, Elgin, Savanna, Ottawa, Fulton, Durand, Rockford, Stockton.

CHAMPAIGN—Champaign, Lawrenceville, Urbana, Danville, Woodruff [Peoria].

IRISH RALLY TO HAND DETROIT 43 TO 41 SETBACK

Detroit, Mich., March 12 [Special]. —An aggressive Notre Dame basketball team handed the University of Detroit a 43 to 41 defeat tonight in Ferndale fieldhouse. It was Notre Dame's 16th victory of the season. Frank Quinn, substitute center, provided the winning basket with two minutes to play.

Joe Mader scored 12 points for the Titans, who were ahead at half time, 26 to 23, and led, 31 to 26, when Notre Dame spurted in the last few minutes to win. Lineup:

THOMPSON PICKS RANGERS, WINGS AND HAWKS, IF—

Hurt Players Are Key to Chicagoans' Hopes.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Mr. Paul Thompson, who has enough immediate worries, yesterday was taxed by a couple of inquisitive citizens as to his personal hunches on the forthcoming National Hockey league playoffs for the Stanley cup. Instead of being annoyed by this challenge to his prophetic powers, Paul let on he enjoyed second guessing, if only as a furlough from fretting about his Blackhawks.

Skipping the Hawks' last two regular games—Sunday night against the New York Rangers in the Stadium and next Thursday against the Red Wings in Detroit—Thompson first took up the series between the Rangers and the Toronto Maple Leafs, bringing together the first and second place finishers.

Likes Rangers' No. 1 Line.

"I think the Rangers have the edge here," he allowed, "in spite of the fact that the Leafs have one of the league's greatest forwards in Syl Apps and last year's Vezina trophy winner in Turk Broda. New York has one of the best lines in history, with Lynn Patrick, Phil Watson, and Bryan Hextall. The real answer to this series should be the work of Jim Henry, the Rangers' goalie. If he can play steady hockey thru the series, it should be the Rangers because Broda will have a time of it trying to stop that Watson line. They've scored over 150 points, and have run one-two-three in individual scoring most of the season."

And how about the Hawks' third-and-fourth place duel with the Boston Bruins, the same Bruins who trounced the Hawks, 9 to 1, in Boston last Tuesday night? Mr. Thompson grimaced momentarily at mention of that distressing business, but indicated that if he can keep all of his lads in a team piece, they may choose the playoffs to get even with the Bruins.

Brimsek Is the Answer.

"This series of ours [it opens in the Stadium March 22, and continues in Boston the 24th, and the 26th, if a third game is necessary] comes down to one word — Brimsek. Playing against Frankie is like sending a baseball club against a pitcher like Bob Feller. Give him a goal, and you'll have a time matching it. They've lost Dit Clapper for the season with a cut tendon, but that fractured jaw of Bill Cowley's has mended, and he's a fine team player."

"We will go into the playoffs, I hope, I hope, with 10 forwards and four defense men, but we still are not 100% able at four positions. Joe Cooper's broken rib is still wrapped up in a harness. Doug Bentley's trick knee and that twisted arm of Art Wiebe's are not right yet, and Bill Mosienko's ankle is not in top shape. We had two really bad breaks in the cases of Mosienko and Cully Dahlstrom. Cully, of course is lost for the season, and will need a knee operation if he's going to play hockey ever again. Both he and Billy were going like houses afire when they were hurt. Biggest consolation to me is the return of Earl Seibert. He's our key man."

Picks Red Wings.

Thompson didn't overlook the third series, bringing together the fifth place Detroit Wings and the sixth place Montreal Canadiens. The winners of this will meet the victor of the Chicago-Boston set for the right to play the Ranger-Toronto winner in the cup final.

"This might be the toughest series of all," he pointed out. "I like Detroit, because they not only will have the advantage of two games at home if the are a better balanced team."

ST. STANISLAUS BEATEN, 54 TO 38, BY ANNUNCIATION

Annunciation, defending senior champion, advanced to the semi-final round of the Catholic Youth organization basketball tournament last night. Annunciation defeated St. Stanislaus B. & N., 54 to 38. # MICHIGAN HEAVY FAVORITE TODAY IN BIG 10 SWIM

Wolverines Bid for Fourth Straight Title.

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 12 [Special].—It will be Michigan against the field this week-end when the Wolverine swimming team puts its Western conference title on the line for the third time in three years in the championship meet which opens here tomorrow. The Wolverines are favorites to capture their thirteenth title in 16 years, with only Ohio State, perennially the strongest challenger, putting in a major threat.

On the basis of best performances this year, the Wolverines should win every event but two. Ohio appears likely to take the 50 yard sprint and the diving events.

Leitt Outstanding Sprinter.

John Leitt, the Buckeyes' sprinter, has been timed in 23.9 seconds for the 50 yard course, which time, tho a full eight tenths of a second off the conference mark, is nevertheless the best registered this year. Capt. Dobson Burton of Michigan, and Dick Fahrbach and Bob Amundsen, both of Northwestern, are tied for second best clockings with 24 seconds flat.

In the diving, some of the keenest competition of the entire meet is anticipated, with four men expected to battle for top honors. The Ohio State springboard twins, Charles Batterman and Frank Dempsey, against Michigan's Strother [T-Bone] Martin and Howie Jayne of Northwestern constitute the pick of the field.

Expect New Relay Records.

Three conference records are expected to fall. Michigan's medley relay and free style relay teams have already bettered existing Big Ten standards in dual competition, clipping nearly a full second in the former an dmore than three seconds in the latter. The Wolverines posted a 2:55.6 in the medley against the old mark of 2:56.8 and in the free style relay turned in a 3:29 as contrasted to the accepted mark of 3:32.4.

Jack Patten, Wolverine middle-distance stylist, already has a 2:11.7 clocking in the 220 yard race, which betters by nearly two seconds the present mark of 2:13.6.

Diving preliminaries will be held tomorrow afternoon and in the evening the trial heats will be run off in all events. Final races will be Saturday night.

Senators Beat Indians, 10-7; Pound Rookies

Clearwater, Fla., March 12 (AP).—The Cleveland Indians hit three home runs today and Washington made one, but the Senators walked away with a 10 to 7 Grapefruit league decision.

The Indians picked up a six run lead against the offerings of Arnold Anderson. Bill Kennedy and Bill Zinser, however, held them to one run in the remaining six innings as the Senators rallied against Rookie Charles Embree and Al Milnar.

The Senators' biggest punch was Jim Vernon's three run homer in the sixth, when Washington went ahead to stay.

DODGERS FORGIVE ALLEN.

Daytona Beach, Fla., March 12 (AP). —Three fold developments in the Brooklyn Dodger camp today included the selection of a team to meet the Giants in week-end exhibitions, a trade of trainers with the Montreal farm club, and the reinstatement of Pitcher Johnny Allen.

Allen, who received an indefinite suspension yesterday for breaking training rules, was restored to good standing and took his turn on the mound. Manager Leo Durocher and 18 players will make the trip to Miami for games with the Giants Saturday and Sunday.

Pabst Bowlers Invade Chanute Field Tomorrow

Rantoul, Ill., March 12 [Special].—Chanute's bowling team faces the Chicago Pabst Blue Ribbons here Saturday night in the first of a series of special matches by the Chicago team in the Hale America program.

Defends Title

Mrs. Wilma Shortz will defend her singles championship in the Midwest badminton tournament which opens tonight in the Evanston High school gymnasium. The entry list totals 304.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

304 Entered in Badminton Play Tonight

The Midwest Badminton tournament will open tonight in the Evanston High school gymnasium with 304 entries from seven states. Sixty clubs will be represented. Competition will continue tomorrow and will be concluded Sunday with semi-finals in the morning and finals in the afternoon.

Play in Six Divisions.

Matches will be run off in six divisions—men's singles, women's singles, men's doubles, women's doubles, mixed doubles, and veterans' doubles.

The leading contenders among the men, in order of seeding, are Clayton Hayley, Altgeld Badminton club of Chicago; John Prest, Chicago Badminton club; Bernard Goldwasser, University City club, St. Louis, and Dr. Carl Lange, Missouri Athletic club, St. Louis.

Champion Defends Title.

Highest rated in the women's singles are Mrs. Wilma Shortz, defending midwest champion, from the Ogden Badminton club of Chicago; Betty Agnew, Chicago B. C.; Irene Klores, West Allis B. C., West Allis, Wis., and Eleanor Coambs, Ogden B. C.

Jerry Burns of Detroit, last year's midwest men's champion, is unable to compete because he is occupied with defense industry. The runner-up, Steve Warren, also of Detroit, is in the army.

Shaughnessy Back Home; Doesn't Want Job at Yale

Los Angeles, Cal., March 12 (AP).—Clark Shaughnessy, Stanford football coach, returned from the east today and stated that he would not give further consideration to a job at Yale. He implied that he wanted none of the alumni factional squabbles and didn't want to attempt to fit himself into Yale's ivy traditions.

ZALE TO CONFER ON ENLISTMENT IN NAVY TODAY

May Head Boxing Program at Great Lakes.

Tony Zale, world middleweight champion, will go to Great Lakes Naval Training station today to confer with Lieut. Comm. J. Russell Cook, athletic officer, about his probable enlistment in the navy next month. Zale would enlist as a boatswain's mate first class, as a boxing instructor.

The navy intends to assemble a score of sailor fighters at Great Lakes for intramural, interstation, and AAU competition and for matches with civilian organizations. It would be Zale's job to develop the bluejackets into a strong boxing unit.

Seek Eight More Fighters.

Twelve candidates already have been recruited and a search is being made for at least eight more promising prospects. Such a team would be a formidable entrant in the 1943 Golden Gloves tournaments, sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

Zale, member of the 1934 intercity Golden Gloves squad, will be taken on a tour of the station, including a trip to the gymnasium where recruits will participate in practice bouts at 1 p. m.

Veteran Returns to Duty.

Jack Gall, member of the Great Lakes team in the last war, has resigned his job with an insurance company to return to the navy as an instructor at the far north station.

East Chicago amateur boxers will meet a Chicago delegation in a series of bouts tonight in Madison Athletic club, 4711 Madison street. Lou Seprodi, East Chicago welterweight, is paired with Jesse Walker of Chicago in a five round contest. A five round secondary feature will bring together Vern Alvarez, East Chicago, also a welterweight, and Jimmy Williams, Chicago. Other encounters arranged by Matchmaker Dick Mastro follow:

Dale La Bounty, East Chicago, vs. Stanley Berg, Chicago [3], 126; Bob Leiva, East Chicago, vs. Mike Trizk, Chicago [3], 140; George Hayden, East Chicago, vs. Matt Walton, Chicago [3], 135; Harvey Collins, East Chicago, vs. Gene Dunat, Chicago [3], 126.

Georgia Tainter Advances in East Florida Golf

St. Augustine, Fla., March 12 (AP).—The favorites today reached the semifinals of the annual Florida East Coast Women's Golf tournament. Georgia Tainter, Fargo, N. D., defending champion, won from Marjorie Row, Detroit, 4 and 2. Southern Amateur Champion Louise Suggs, Lithia Springs, Ga., eliminated Sally Sessions, Muskegon, Mich., 3 and 2. Georgia's champion, Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, defeated Mrs. Thomas E. Nolan, New Castle, Pa., 3 and 2.

THE GUMPS—ASLEEP AT THE SWITCH!

PICK LOCATIONS FOR TOMORROW'S TWO PREP FINALS

Seniors to Play on South Side, Juniors North.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

City high school basketball championships will be decided tomorrow afternoon. August Pritzlaff, board of education physical director, announced that agreement had been reached yesterday to play the senior final between Lindblom and Kelly at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in Chicago Teachers college gymnasium, 6800 Stewart avenue, while the junior title event between Marshall and Tilden is being run off at the same time at Lane Tech, Addison street and Western avenue.

The winner of the senior game will go on to the state championship tournament which will be held in Champaign next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. The junior engagement will mark the close of competition in this division for the year. Marshall will be shooting not only at the junior title but also at its 58th consecutive victory.

Officials Are Picked.

The officials also were decided upon yesterday. These will be George Boyle and Martin Morley for the senior game and Leonard Sachs and Sam Pecararo for the junior.

In reaching the final, Marshall's juniors continued to demonstrate that they're such a well balanced bunch of players that they can keep going without their sensational point maker, Izzy Acker. Acker, who was graduated at midyear, had been an outstanding factor in Marshall's unbroken success thru three seasons. Many thought that when he went, the string might be broken. But the others have been going right along and now have run the total to 57 victories in a row.

Reserves Are Good, Too.

Coach Lou Weintraub's willingness to trust his reserves is considered an important circumstance in the continued success of the team. Marshall carries a large squad—about 20 boys—and the team plays a fast breaking game from start to finish. Whenever a youngster shows signs of tiring under the strain, Weintraub immediately withdraws him and sends in a substitute. Thus in the course of several seasons, many thoroly dependable reserves have been developed.

It is generally believed, however, that Marshall faces its greatest test of all in the final with Tilden. Followers of Chicago high school basketball agree that, if any team in the league has enough on the ball to beat Marshall, that team is Tilden.

With John Perkovich and Bob Burke distinguishing themselves repeatedly, this team won eight games and lost none, to win the central section championship, running up 394 points against its oponents' 210. Meanwhile Marshall had been taking the west sectional title with nine straight victories, getting 417 points to 197 for its opponents.

The Kelly seniors have been the surprise team of the league. After finishing in third place in the central section, these boys weren't conceded a very strong chance in the playoffs. But, with Capt. Bob Pelster and Al Misevich leading the way, they blazed right along. In the semi-final they beat Crane, 36 to 28.

Lindblom Five Is Ready.

Lindblom, which was runner-up to Du Sable in the central section competition, continued to show good form in winning its semi-final with Wells on Wednesday. Lindblom finished the regular schedule with six victories against two defeats. Its opponent, Kelly, had a record of five victories and two defeats.

Morton Takes the Ball and the Game

A team which controls the ball most of the time is apt to win in basketball. For example, Malecec (32) of Morton High school of Cicero leaps high in the air to take the ball under the basket and start a play for his team in last night's semi-final game of the Maywood sectional tournament. Teammates Tourek (35) and Gutschick (36) are lending a hand while Simonini (26) of Dundee stands by in hopes of a break. Morton, the defending state champion, won, 30 to 25, and will meet York for the sectional title tonight. York defeated Wheaton last night, 32 to 30. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Loop Bowlers Go to Tribune School Today

The Chicago Tribune Free Bowling school packed the house again yesterday, this time at Dominick De Vito's Park Manor at 100 East 75th street. South siders crowded in to see and hear Andy Varipapa lecture, to reap the benefit of his coaching, and to watch Twinkle Watts demonstrate the delivery Andy teaches.

Today the school returns to the loop, this time to the Bensinger centers. The afternoon class is scheduled at the Adams-Wabash alleys, 131 South Wabash, where Andy will start his lecture at 1:30 and remain thruout the afternoon. At 11 o'clock tonight the teachers will be at the 29 West Randolph center. The visit there will be a repeater for Andy, as he helped members of the Chicago Tribune Nite Hawk league between 2 and 3 o'clock Wednesday morning.

It was the same at Park Manor as at Ted Lyon's, Congress Arcade, the Lawrence Bowl, Schalk's Evergreen Towers, and at Congress Recreation center. Each of these establishments filled up before the afternoon lessons were to begin, remained filled for some time afterward, and again filled up for the night's trick shot exhibition and matches. In each case the crowd was limited either by the capacity of the house or by the room made available by spectators behind and down the alleys.

N. U. TEAMMATES SELECT GRAHAM MOST VALUABLE

Northwestern University basketball players last night chose their star sophomore forward, Otto Graham, as the Wildcats' most valuable and placed his name before the 23 man board which will vote on the most valuable player in the Western Conference for the 1941-'42 season. The winner will receive the second annual W-G-N trophy.

At the same time, Minnesota players announced Don Smith, senior forward, as their candidate, and thus brought to eight the schools which have selected their individual most valuable. Other players selected are: Andy Phillip, Illinois; Tom Chapman, Iowa; Frosty Sprowl, Purdue; Andy Zimmer, Indiana; John Kotz, Wisconsin; Jack Fons, Chicago. Each individual most valuable receives a miniature gold basketball suitably enscribed, while an actual sized gold basketball goes to the Big Ten most valuable.

The panel of ten names will be completed tonight with announcement of the Michigan and Ohio State candidates. The announcement will be made by Guy Savage on the 6:15 sports review over W-G-N.

WARMERDAM WILL ATTEMPT 16 FOOT VAULT TONIGHT

San Francisco, Cal., March 12 (AP).—Pole Vault King Cornelius Warmerdam, trained and tested for the greatest leap of his life, will try to clear the unprecedented height of 16 feet tomorrow night.

The 26 year old Piedmont High school teacher, first and only one ever to vault 15 feet or more, will be the featured attraction of an all-star athletic cast in the Olympic club indoor track meet.

Warmerdam first cleared 15 feet in April, 1940. Since then he has gone to that or greater height 16 times. Last month in the east on two consecutive week-ends, he upped the indoor record three times, the last to the amazing height of 15 feet 7¼ inches. It made his outdoor record of 15 feet 5¾ inches, set last year, almost incidental by comparison.

To facilitate the record attempts, his coach, Charley Hunter of the Olympic club, has provided a 140 foot runway in the civic auditorium.

MORTON TO MEET YORK IN ENCORE OF REGION FINAL

Suburban Rivals Will Play Tonight in Maywood.

It's Morton of Cicero vs. York of Elmhurst in a replay of last week's regional final when these rivals meet tonight in Maywood.

And in Joliet it's once beaten Streator vs. once beaten Sheldon. They battle for sectional titles and the right to enter the state tournament in Champaign, starting next Thursday. Finals also will be played tonight in 13 other sectionals.

Morton, defending state champion and again the Suburban league champion, won last night from Dundee, 30 to 25; while York beat Wheaton, 32 to 30, in the Proviso High gymnasium. York, the West Suburban conference title holder, nosed out Morton last Friday, 29 to 28, yet Morton carried on in the state race because runners-up as well as champions advanced from the 60 regionals.

Sheldon Wins Again.

Sheldon, a school of only 39 students, gained its 29th victory in 30 games by whipping West Aurora, 40 to 19, and reached the Joliet finals against powerful Streator, the Big 12 conference champion. Streator beat Joliet of the Big 8, 56 to 37, for its 29th triumph in 30 games.

Elsewhere in the state, most of the favorites advanced with the exception of Johnston City, which previously had won 29 out of 33 games. Centralia cooled off Johnston City, 64 to 39, as Dwight Eddleman scored 19 points and then retired at the end of the third quarter.

Mount Vernon made it 31 out of 35 by beating Duquoin, 59 to 47, and set up its third meeting of the year with Centralia. Twice already Mount Vernon has beaten Eddleman and his mates.

Paris Wins No. 36.

Paris, the only unbeaten team in the state race, gained victory No. 36 by beating Vandalia, 53 to 36, and reached the Casey final along with Mattoon, 67 to 40 conqueror of Shelbyville.

Wood River hung up its 19th straight victory and 26th in 28 games by beating Litchfield, 57 to 35.

Decatur, runner-up to Streator for the Big 12 title, accomplished its 30th victory in 34 games, defeating Benld, 40 to 21.

Freeport, Big 8 conference champion, and East Rockford qualified for their third meeting of the season by stopping two formidable foes. Freeport beat Sycamore, 26 to 23, for its 20th victory in 25 games. East Rockford eliminated Hebron, 40 to 32.

Champaign and Urbana, twin cities and Big 12 conference rivals, also arranged for a third meeting of the season. Champaign achieved its 22d triumph in 28 games, beating Clinton, 37 to 24. Urbana, last year's state runner-up, squeezed past Hoopeston, 36 to 35.

Pekin of the Big 12 and Quincy reached the finals in Canton. Pekin beat Lewistown, 39 to 37, while Quincy won its 22d in 25 games by stopping Canton's defending sectional champs, 40 to 38.

Kewanee Is Eliminated.

La Salle-Peru of the Big 8 eliminated Kewanee, 46 to 28, and Dixon won from Hall of Spring Valley, 39 to 33, in Ottawa. Kewanee bowed out after winning 24 out of 27.

East Peoria snapped Maquon's 17 game winning streak in Peoria, 46 to 40, qualifying to meet Normal, 40 to 39 victor over Havana.

Cathedral of Springfield, first Catholic school ever to reach a sectional final, beat Pittsfield, 33 to 31, for its 25th victory in 28 games.

Rock Island and Moline meet for the 4th time this year in the Moline sectional and for the second time in the tourneys, with Rock Island attempting to avenge last week's regional final defeat. Moline won from Sterling last night, 38 to 24, and Rock Island whipped Geneseo, 51 to 31.

Madison, Wis., March 12 [Special].—Neenah, Shorewood, Superior Central, and Marinette moved into the semi-final round of the Wisconsin High school basketball tournament today.

Superior edged out a 28 to 25 victory over Madison Central which yesterday had run its winning streak to 15 games by eliminating Two Rivers, the defending champion.

Shorewood made 14 of 17 free throws to beat Johnson Creek, a village of 511 population, 30 to 26. Johnson Creek was the last undefeated team left in the tournament and had won 25 straight games. Altoona and Chetek, the two other unbeaten teams, were eliminated yesterday.

Neenah walloped Prairie du Chien, 38 to 23, and Marinette whipped Wisconsin Rapids, 42 to 26.

Neenah will meet Shorewood and Superior Central will oppose Marinette in tomorrow's semi-final games. The consolation semi-finals will send Two Rivers against Wisconsin Dells and Chetek against Spring Valley.

PT. HURON PAIR'S 1,210 TAKES 3D PLACE IN ABC

Columbus, O., March 12 (AP).—A 10th frame foul cost Elmer and Sam Abdoo, brother chiropodists of Port Huron, Mich., the doubles lead in the American Bowling Congress tournament here today but their 1,210 was good enough for third place.

Elmer fouled in his last game, costing him 16 pins, but scored 579. He originally was scheduled to roll with Francis Wellman but when Wellman was drafted recently, Sam substituted and got 628.

Bert Stanger and Edmund Westbrook of St. Louis hold the doubles lead with 1,219. Simmons Industrial of Elizabeth, N. J., still is out front in the five man team event with 2,790. Vincent Gries of Elizabeth, N. J., has 690 for the singles lead and Howard Dammel of Cincinnati tops the all-events with 1,830.

Hold Private School Swimming Meet Today

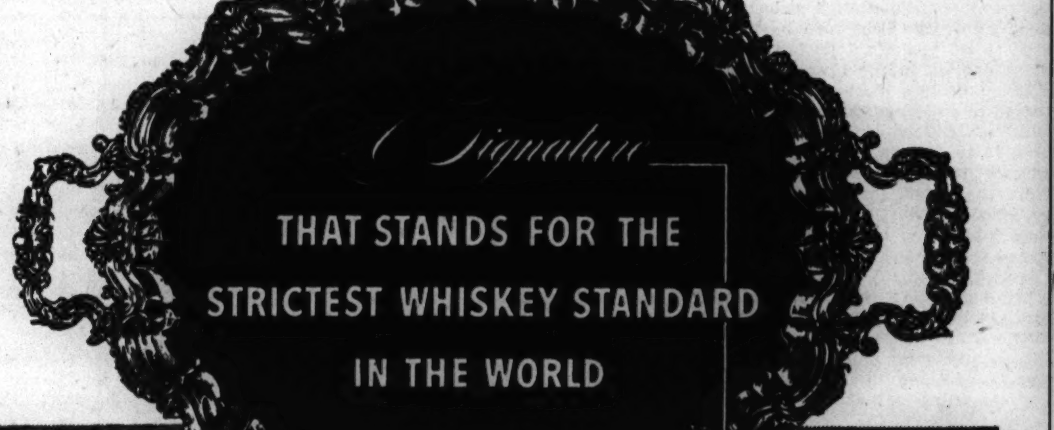
The Chicago Private School league swimming meet will be held this afternoon in Bartlett pool at University of Chicago.



THE MAN whose handwriting appears today on every bottle of Old Taylor is generally known as "the father of bottled in bond whiskey."

It was he who led the crusade to have the strictest whiskey standard in the world written into law—a standard which nothing less than 100 proof straight whiskey can meet.

And since the day this came about, no other kind of whiskey has ever been made in the Old Taylor distillery.

Such whiskey is costlier to make. There's no short-cut to age or excellence. These can be obtained only by art and skill and the passage of time, investment in barrels and bonded warehouses.

But we believe the result is worth its cost to us and to you. For it is the finest bottled in bond whiskey which the late Col. E. H. Taylor Jr. knew how to make—or which we can make today.

Try it and you will see how fine that really means.

WPB BARS TWO CHICAGO FIRMS FROM ALUMINUM

Charged with Violating Priority Rulings.

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—The War Production board today issued two-month suspension orders against two Chicago companies, the National Parts corporation and the Atlas Brass and Aluminum foundry, charged with violation of aluminum priority regulations.

The orders forbid either company from handling or processing any aluminum, aluminum scrap, aluminum products, or any alloys made principally of aluminum. They are prohibited from accepting any orders for aluminum or entering into contracts for deliveries.

Delivered to Each Other.

The orders also contain a provision enjoining any person from delivering aluminum to the two firms during the two-month period.

The WPB charged that the National Parts corporation delivered 68,343 pounds of aluminum scrap to the Atlas foundry, that Atlas accepted this scrap, to which, the board said, no priority rating had been assigned, and later delivered to the National Parts corporation automobile radiator grills containing 35,550 pounds of aluminum.

Both Termed Violators.

"Thus each party to the transaction had violated priority provisions by receiving and delivering the scrap on unrated orders," the WPB statement said.

In addition, it was charged, National Parts corporation accepted illegal deliveries totaling 67,347 pounds of aluminum scrap in the period between June and December, 1941.

LIVE HOGS RISE DESPITE CUT IN WHOLESALE PORK

Hog markets advanced yesterday despite the fact that wholesale prices for some cuts of fresh pork were reduced below the "ceiling" which is to become effective March 23. Live costs of pork went up 10 to 15 cents early in the session, settling back to a level about 5 to 10 cents above Wednesday near the close.

Extremely narrow demand from retail butcher shop owners caused a 50 cents a hundred pounds break in fresh pork loins.

Some smaller buyers paid up to $13.65 a hundred pounds, a 15 cents higher top, for a few hogs early in the session, but most refused to pay over $13.50, last week's top price.

Trading in steers and yearlings was draggy on a mostly steady price basis.

OPA TO QUESTION PORK PRICES IT REGARDS AS HIGH

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—The Office of Price Administration, it was learned today, intends to challenge any artificially high prices established in anticipation of the government's pork price ceiling.

Under terms of the emergency ceiling announced Tuesday, prices are pegged at the highest list prices in effect between March 3 and March 7.

If these lists appear to reflect "unwarranted increases," each seller involved will be required to show that the prices approximate those at which he actually sold during the base period.

Industrial Ad Men to Hear Wayne C. Taylor Today

Wayne Chatfield Taylor, undersecretary of the department of commerce, will address the midwest regional conference of the National Industrial Advertisers' association at a luncheon today in the Hotel Sherman. About 300 advertising managers of industrial companies and executives of agencies handling industrial accounts are expected to attend the conference. Association chapters from St. Louis, Milwaukee, Rockford, Indianapolis, Minneapolis, St. Paul, and Chicago will be represented.

Big Boost in General Motors Arms Output Listed by Sloan

New York, March 12 (AP).—Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman, predicted today General Motors corporation would increase deliveries of war material 50 per cent in the first quarter of this year compared with the final three months of 1941.

The corporation, Sloan said in a message to stockholders, was making an important proportion of the country's total requirements for such items as machine guns, army trucks, Diesel engines, aviation engines and several types of tanks, as well as substantial amounts of anti-aircraft guns.

Sloan said General Motors' share of the tremendously accelerated war production expansion plan was multiplied 2¾ times within 60 days following the attack on Pearl Harbor.

But, he warned, "because the mass production technique, to an extent not generally realized, requires machinery and tools specially designed for the manufacture of a specific product, such facilities are relatively inflexible.

"Their adaptability for production work other than that for which they were designed is correspondingly limited.

"Therefore, when a new product is to be produced there is required a very definite period of preparation for retooling existing machinery, for procuring essential new machinery and for laying out and establishing the production process and procedures."

PLANS TO TEACH FARM GIRLS HOW TO RUN TRACTORS

International Harvester company and its dealers are going to train farm women and girls how to operate and service tractors and other machinery. Fowler McCormick, president of the company, announced the program yesterday and said letters and descriptive literature have been sent to Harvester's 6,500 farm equipment dealers in the United States.

Many dealers already have volunteered to conduct the free instruction courses, McCormick said. The purpose is to train women so they can replace men who are being taken from the farms for military service or who are shifting into arms factory jobs. The company expects to enroll thousands in the program, McCormick said.

The course will require a minimum of eight lessons, with 12 to 16 recommended. It will include basic training in repairing and servicing tractors, diagnosing mechanical trouble, and handling attachments such as power plows.

Engineering Awards Drop Slightly, but Top '41 Week

New York, March 12 (AP).—Engineering construction awards in the seven days ended today amounted to $133,267,000, a slight gain over the comparable 1941 period but 8 per cent lower than in the preceding week, Engineering News-Record reported today. A tabulation of the awards follows: [000 omitted]:

SAYS SCRAP SALE TO JAPS MAY BE ALL TO THE GOOD

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—Edwin C. Barringer, president of the Institute of Scrap Iron and Steel, declared today that large scale shipments of American scrap metal to Japan "may work out to the benefit of the United States in the present war."

He told a house military subcommittee that the ready supply of United States scrap metal available to Japan prior to the embargo of 1940 may have prevented large scale development of Japanese blast furnace facilities for exploiting iron deposits of Manchukuo and other Japanese controled areas.

Agreed on Policy.

Chairman Charles I. Faddis [D., Pa.] of the subcommittee agreed that "it was the opinion of those acquainted with the situation that it was good policy to keep the Japanese dependent on us because they were not then developing their own facilities."

"That sounds like a whitewash of this appeasement policy," protested Rep. Thomas E. Martin [R., Ia.]. "I don't think I can agree with that reasoning."

New Steel Is Shipped.

Barringer said the scrap industry had shipped metal to Japan only when sales were consistent with government policy, but that even after the embargo American steel mills continued to ship new steel to Japan, which also still received iron ore from the Philippines.

E. R. Wimmer Quits Post with Montgomery Ward

Eugene R. Wimmer yesterday announced his resignation, effective immediately, as operating vice president and director of Montgomery Ward & Co. He came to Montgomery Ward from a position with W. T. Grant company and was made vice president and director in April, 1940.

UNEMPLOYMENT TAXES.

Are state unemployment taxes deductible by an employé? Are proceeds from unemployment compensation taxable? What about federal social security?—K. J.

Answer: An employé may deduct any state unemployment taxes withheld from his wages, but he may not deduct federal social security taxes. State unemployment compensations and social security payments are not taxable as income.

TRADEMARKED PRODUCT.

I've noticed that the Bon Ami company has been advertising one trademarked product for many years and would like to know what sort of profits the company has realized. Any other data on this company would be appreciated.—B. K. S.

Answer: The Bon Ami company manufactures a cleaning and polishing compound trademarked "Bon Ami" and widely distributed in the United States, Canada, Australia, and other foreign countries. The product generally reaches the consumer thru retail grocers. The company also sells glycerine, feldspar, and mica. Plants are in Manchester, Conn.; Montreal, Canada, and Sydney, Australia. The present company was incorporated in 1915, but the business was established in 1886.

Earnings have been exceptionally stable for many years. From 1927 thru 1940 annual net income kept within the narrow range of $1,003,000 to $1,481,000. Gross profit has been increasing in recent years. The company also has a long record of continuous dividend payments.

Net income declined moderately in 1941. Gross profit increased but taxes were higher. Comparative earnings follow:

| | Gross profit. | Net income. | Earn. per B share. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1941 | $3,285,680 | $1,262,949 | $3.46 |
| 1940 | 3,078,184 | 1,339,593 | 3.65 |
| 1939 | 3,117,203 | 1,481,772 | 4.01 |
| 1938 | 2,801,594 | 1,389,113 | 3.78 |
| 1937 | 2,724,720 | 1,391,282 | 3.78 |

Bon Ami's capitalization is two classes of common stock of no par value, both traded on the New York Stock exchange. There are 94,583 class A shares and 200,000 class B shares outstanding. Class A stock is entitled to preferential dividends of $4 a share annually, not cumulative, and after the B stock has received $2.50 a share all further dividend payments for the year are divided equally between the two classes. The $4 and $2.50 rates have been maintained since initial payments were made in 1927 and extra distributions have been made since 1929. Class A and B dividends totaled $5.50 and $3.25, respectively, in 1941. Similar amounts were paid in 1940.

NATIONAL DAIRY EARNINGS RISE ON PEAK SALES

Company's Profits Reach $1.97 a Share for '41.

Business volume of the National Dairy Products corporation rose to a record level during 1941 and earnings exceeded those of 1940 by more than a million dollars, the company's annual report showed yesterday.

Last year's net earnings were $12,334,000, equal to $1.97 a share, compared with $11,094,406, or $1.66 a share, in 1940.

To meet the problem of rising inventory values, a source of concern to many corporations, $3,600,000 was set aside "against a possible decline in the price of cheese." Due to wartime demands the cost of cheese purchased last year increased sharply, stockholders were told in a report issued from New York headquarters of the company, which maintains important operations in Chicago.

Inventories Increase.

The total of all inventories Dec. 31 was $55,337,000, against $33,797,000 a year earlier. The 1941 volume of business totaled $431,049,000, an increase of 24 per cent over the 1940 level.

Direct taxes paid by the company increased from $9,984,000 to $15,696,000, absorbing 56 per cent of consolidated earnings before taxes. Pay rolls rose from $68,098,000 to $72,991,000, and the average number of employés increased from 35,565 to 36,697.

From its sales dollar about 58 cents was paid to dairy farmers and other materials suppliers, against 53.5 cents in 1940. Of other principal items, 16.9 cents went for wages and salaries, 5.4 cents for containers and bottles, and 3.6 for taxes. The stockholders' share was 2.9 cents.

The report showed investments and advances to continental European subsidiaries have been written down against reserves to $1.

Celotex Earns Less.

The Celotex corporation, Chicago manufacturer of building materials and other items, reported net profit of $278,290, equal to 37 cents a share, in the three months ended Jan. 31, first quarter of its fiscal year. This compares with $456,865, or 66 cents a share, in the corresponding quarter a year before.

McWilliams Dredging company, Chicago, announced its 1941 profit, based on unaudited figures, was $426,869, compared with a net loss of $162,142 in 1940. Work uncompleted on Dec. 31 amounted to about $10,900,000, against $1,627,000 a year earlier, the report showed.

Kimberly-Clark corporation, large Neenah, Wis., paper products manufacturer, reported 1941 profits of $2,904,170, equal to $4.72 a share, against $2,278,961, or $3.44 a share, in 1940.

Standard Oil Company of Ohio reported 1941 earnings of $6,249,443, equal to $7.47 a share, compared with $6,209,008, or $7.44 a share, in 1940. W. T. Holliday, president, told stockholders that gasoline consumption had "substantially increased" in the first two months of 1942 but predicted the trend would be reversed later in the year.

NAM ASKS SALES TAX OF 8% TO MEET WAR AIMS

Offers Plan to Yield 7.6 Billions.

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—The National Association of Manufacturers proposed a new tax schedule today featuring a sales tax or consumers' tax of 8 per cent. It asked for increased individual income taxes, but proposed that the levies be held substantially below the scale proposed by the treasury.

It proposed a 90 per cent excess profits tax with modifications of the method of computing what constitutes "excess profits." The treasury had asked a rate ranging from 50 to 75 per cent. Where the treasury had called for combined normal corporation rates and surtaxes ranging from 31 to 55 per cent, the NAM asked that this rate be 40 per cent.

J. Cheever Cowdin, spokesman for the association before the house ways and means committee, estimated that the program would yield the treasury some 7 billion 600 million dollars of increased revenue.

Urges Cut in Spending.

The treasury had proposed rates estimated to yield 9 billion 600 millions and Cowdin suggested that the gap be bridged by a 2 billion reduction in governmental expenditures not related to the war.

Of the estimated 7 billion 600 million yield of the NAM program 4 billion 400 millions would come from the sales or consumers' tax. This proposal was in two forms. Cowdin suggested that the government levy a 4 per cent manufacturers' tax, plus a 4 per cent consumers' tax, or a "straight 8 per cent war tax on general consumption at the point of sale."

The administration has long been opposed to sales taxes, on the ground that they deal too severely with small incomes. In presenting the treasury program last week Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau reiterated this opposition.

Termed Only Method.

"Granting all the objections to a war tax on consumption," Cowdin said today, "how else can you meet the nation's need for tremendous amounts of new revenue?"

He said congress should "increase corporate taxes to the limit—taking from industry every last dollar of taxes that can be taken consistent with the tremendous war production program of the government."

The treasury proposal on individual income tax rates would leave the present normal rate of 4 per cent unchanged. It would impose a graduated surtax starting at 12 per cent of the first dollar of taxable income [the present figure is 6] and increasing to 86 per cent in the topmost bracket. In effect it would double payments in the low income groups.

Cowdin proposed that the surtax rates start at 8 per cent instead of 12 and go to 79 per cent.

PRICES ADVANCE AGAIN IN FIRST WEEK OF MARCH

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—Wholesale commodity prices rose 0.1 per cent during the week ended March 7, the bureau of labor statistics reported today. The increase brought the bureau's index to a new 13 year high at 96.9 per cent of the 1926 average.

The bureau said that prices had risen 20 per cent during the last year, are now 29 per cent above their prewar level, 12.5 above the same week of 1937 and 0.8 per cent above March, 1929.

RULES AMERICAN AIRLINES GOT TOO MUCH MAIL PAY

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—The Civil Aeronautics board ruled today that American Airlines, Inc., had received approximately 4 million dollars in excess mail pay since March 1, 1939.

The government, the board said, "stands to recover" this amount. And American Airlines, it added, will be entitled to recover a substantial amount of money from the government for income taxes paid on the sum now held to be excessive.

WHISKY PRICES RISE; DISTILLERS RUN FULL BLAST

Louisville, Ky., March 12 (AP).—Kentucky's liquor distilling business is running full blast.

Prices on bulk whisky are 30 to 35 per cent higher than last year and still climbing.

Distillers said war in the Atlantic pinching off European liquors, war in the Pacific cutting off other supplies, and bulging pay rolls creating heavy domestic demands had caused the boom.

Roads' January Profits Contrast with '41 Losses

The Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad yesterday reported January net profit of $547,595, compared with a loss of $79,408 a year ago. The Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville had net profit of $32,440, against a $19,692 loss in January, 1941.

Grain Futures Rise in More Active Trade

BY PHILIP WARDEN.

In the most active trading of a month or more grain prices rose ⅝ to 2⅝ cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday. Buying resulting from house approval of legislation to curb selling of government owned farm commodities at less than parity prices largely accounted for the advance.

Expansion of industrial demand for grains on the upturn lifted corn prices to the highest levels in more than a month, and wheat to a new peak for two weeks. Cash grain dealers reported the sale of more than 130,000 bushels of corn and 53,000 bushels of oats for eastern shipment.

Close Near Day's Highs.

Wheat finished within fractions of its best levels of the day at an advance of 1½ to 1⅝ cents a bushel. May contracts closed at $1.30¼. May corn at 89 cents was up ⅞ cent, and other corn contracts finished as much as 1¼ cents a bushel higher. Oats rose ⅝ to ⅞ cent; rye, 1⅜ to 1⅝ cents, and soy beans 1⅜ to 2⅝ cents a bushel. Lard remained at the federal ceilings.

Flour mills increased their activity in the grain pits as eastern chain bakers purchased 20,000 barrels of flour. Pit traders said southwestern mills also were buying futures. The mills likely will be dependent on grain available in the open market after tomorro wsinbe the government has withdrawn its offerings of milling wheat after March 14.

Ship Half Million Bushels.

Elevator operators estimate that they have loaded close to a half million bushels of milling grade wheat out of Chicago storage bins in two weeks. The grain was the property of the Commodity Credit corporation and has been sold to eastern poultrymen and other consumers of wheat for feeding purposes.

Shipment of this grain, government owned corn, and the movement of corn sold more than a month ago but for which no shipping orders had been received until recently, accounted for an increased movement of grain and grain products by rail last week, the dealers said.

NORTH WESTERN HOLDERS MAY BE PAID UNDER PLAN

The North Western railway will ask the federal District court on March 24 for authority to pay security holders $8,034,923 out of 1941 earnings, Charles M. Thomson, trustee, announced yesterday. The amount equals all fixed and contingent charges earned by the road in 1941.

Payment would be made to certain security holders under terms of a pending reorganization plan on the basis of new securities to be issued in exchange for the old.

The payment would be the second using the proposed reorganization plan as the basis for determining the amounts paid.

MORGAN BANK APPLIES FOR FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM MEMBERSHIP

New York, March 12 (AP).—J. P. Morgan & Co., Inc., has applied for membership in the federal reserve system, it was learned today.

The historic banking firm, which rose to eminence primarily as an investment banking concern, ceased operation in that field in June, 1934, and since has continued business as a commercial bank doing a regular lending and deposit business. It was chartered as a New York state bank in the spring of 1940, having operated formerly as a partnership.

The application automatically carries with it a request to join the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, the agency which insures all deposits up to $5,000 in each account in the event of failure.

This brought some smiles in Wall street, where doubt was expressed that the Morgan bank, primarily a bank for bankers and for big corporations, had any accounts as small as $5,000.

PURE OIL SEEKS RE-ELECTION OF FOUR DIRECTORS

The Pure Oil company, Chicago, yesterday sent stockholders a statement soliciting proxies for reëlection of four directors at the annual meeting in Columbus, O., on April 11. The statement showed that remuneration paid in 1941 to directors and officers by the company and subsidiaries totaled $470,077. The amount paid Henry M. Dawes, president, was $65,000, the same as in 1940.

One of the four directors is Charles S. Cheston, partner of Smith, Barney & Co., the successor to two firms which in 1937 participated in the underwriting of a $44,244,300 stock offering to Pure Oil shareholders. Cheston, on Feb. 1, was the beneficial owner of 1,889 shares of 5 per cent cumulative convertible preferred stock and 10 shares of common.

As of last Nov. 15, 46,000 shares, or about 10 per cent, of the preferred stock offered in 1937 still were in the hands of the underwriters. The number has shrunk since then.

DEFENSE BONDS HELD STABILIZING FACTOR IN POSTWAR CREDIT

Possession of defense savings bonds by individuals will bolster consumer credit after the war when goods again become plentiful and buying becomes heavy, the Chicago Association of Credit Men was told yesterday at a luncheon in the Hotel Sherman.

Willard Becker, credit manager of the Norton Door Closer company, said the defense bond program also is helping the current credit situation by easing the tax load carried by business. He said some companies would be unable to survive if all of the war costs had to be borne by taxes now.

Bid for Space Hints New U.S. Unit Shift Here

The social security board is making new inquiries for office space in Chicago, it was learned yesterday. Most of the activities of the board, which administers the federal social security program, are now centered in Washington and Baltimore.

The Merchandise Mart is one of the large Chicago buildings which has received inquiries for space. Frederick D. Corley, president of Marshall Field & Co., owner of the Mart, said that the board had renewed its inquiries for space but he denied knowledge of reported government plans to purchase the building.

Purchase Plans Discounted.

The office of the federal security administration in Washington confirmed that the board is seeking more space here. An assistant of Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator, said, that surveys were being made in Chicago and other cities. He added that the board does not have the power or the money to buy the Merchandise Mart. Other sources in Washington said it was "highly probable" that the board will soon merge the Washington and Baltimore branches of the old age and survivors' insurance bureau.

The bureau employs about 6,000 persons, more than two-thirds of them in Baltimore where its extensive files of pay roll records and heavy tabulating machinery are located.

The plan to move the bureau to Chicago was first considered last August. It was abandoned, however, officials explained, because it would cost more than a million dollars to transfer the records and machinery. The plan is being revived, it was reported, because the war department needs the building that the board occupies in Baltimore.

Has Million Feet of Space.

When the plan was originally considered the board made inquiries here for 650,000 square feet of space. The Merchandise Mart, rated as the world's largest office building, has about 3 million feet of rentable space. It is 93 per cent occupied at present but many of the leases were made at comparatively low rates and may be terminated on 30 days' notice. Government agencies now use about 12 per cent of the Mart's total space. Among them are the Home Owners Loan corporation, treasury procurement division, National Youth administration and the Works Progress administration.

The Mart was completed in 1930 at a cost of approximately 31 million dollars. Marshall Field & Co. carried the property on its books at 23½ million dollars at the end of 1941. There are 13½ million dollars of bonds on the building outstanding, all of which are held by the Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

INDIANA UTILITY BODY ASSAILED BY STATE COURT

Brazil, Ind., March 12 (AP).—Circuit Judge John W. Baumunk today voided an order of the Indiana public service commission authorizing the sale of Indiana Gas Utilities company properties to the Terre Haute Gas corporation.

Judge Baumung upheld the contention of Mrs. Lenora Johnson of Terre Haute, a consumer, that fraud was involved in issuance of the order on Dec. 31, 1940.

He further enjoined the commission from enforcing the order and directed that the properties, valued at $1,500,000, be transferred back to Indiana Gas. The properties are in Terre Haute, Clinton, and Brazil.

FOOD RESERVES STILL NEAR PEAK AS PRICES SOAR

Year of Lend-Lease Buying Ended.

The department of agriculture reported yesterday at the end of its first year of lend-lease buying that the nation's reserve supplies of meat, dairy and poultry products, and fruits and vegetables on March 1 were still at or near record levels.

Meanwhile bureau of labor statistics figures showed that wholesale food prices have risen 30.6 per cent in the last year despite the large accumulation of storage supplies.

From March 15, 1941, to Feb. 1, 1942, the department spent approximately 700 million dollars for foods to send to Britain and other allied nations. Altogether during the year just closing it is estimated to have spent close to 1 billion dollars.

Many Reserves at Peaks.

And stored in refrigerated warehouses as a reserve as the new year's production gets started, the department reports, are the following products:

MEAT—More than 893 million pounds of beef, pork, lamb, etc., the largest storage stocks since June of last year and the third largest March 1 reserves in the last decade. Lard stocks have been exceeded only twice on March 1 since the department has kept records.

DAIRY PRODUCTS—More than 63½ million pounds of butter and 132 million pounds of American cheese. Commercial butter stocks and reserve cheese supplies set a new March 1 record.

EGGS—In excess of 15½ million dozens of shell eggs and almost 74 million pounds of frozen eggs. Holdings of shell eggs were a March 1 record. Frozen egg stocks were third largest for the date.

POULTRY—More than 178 million pounds of dressed chickens, ducks, geese, turkeys, and other poultry, a peak reserve for March 1.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES—Frozen fruit and vegetable stocks exceed all previous holdings for the date. Included were 139½ million pounds of fruit and 72½ million pounds of vegetables.

Spends 150 Million for Pork.

From last year's production the department purchased from March 15, 1941, to Feb. 1, 1942, more than 150 million dollars' worth of pork and pork products, 42 million dollars' worth of lard, 70 million dollars' worth of dried eggs, 16 million dollars' worth of frozen eggs, 14 million dollars' worth of shell eggs, and almost 8 million dollars' worth of canned chicken and turkey.

Production of most of these items, the department reported, is establishing a record pace. February meat production was the second largest on record. Output of poultry, eggs, and cheese is at an all-time high. The nation's granaries are filled with stocks of wheat and corn.

| | 1942. March 1. | 1942. Feb. 1. | 1941. March 1. |
|---|---|---|---|
| *All meat | 893,747 | 887,715 | 983,685 |

SALES INCREASE AT FASTER RATE OVER LAST YEAR

Approach of the deadline for payment of federal income taxes didn't halt the rise in department store sales in the 7th federal reserve district last week, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday.

Sales were 6 per cent larger than in the preceding week and 26 per cent larger a year ago, a better gain over 1941 than in any week of February. Chicago sales gained 4 per cent during the week and were 22 per cent larger than a year ago.

The federal reserve board estimated that department store sales nationally were 28 per cent larger than a year ago.

Switch to War Brings Banner Year in Armco Sales, Profits

A graphic story of how a large steel company with 100 million dollars of plant facilities and 20,000 workmen went to war was related yesterday in the annual report of the American Rolling Mill company, sent to stockholders by George M. Verity, chairman, and Charles R. Hook, president.

From the same mills which fashioned steel for automobiles, refrigerators, and bathtubs, the company began to manufacture in a swiftly rising tempo steel for military trucks, ambulances, tractors, helmets, kitchens, bomb shelters, shot forgings, torpedo boats, and a myriad of other products, according to the report issued from Middletown, O.

Shipments for the war program rose from about 12 per cent of total shipments in January, 1941, to well above 60 per cent a year later.

All Under Priorities.

"Now, practically every pound of steel ordered from us has been put on a priority rating by the government," the report said.

The shift to war was accompanied by steeply increased taxes, pressure for speed and total use of facilities, a 51 million dollar combined company and government expansion program, and accelerated research to conserve vital metals.

The company reported 1941 was a banner year in its 41 year history in sales, shipments, and earnings. Sales rose to $169,178,239, from $112,363,529 in 1940. Shipments of finished and semi-finished goods rose 44.5 per cent.

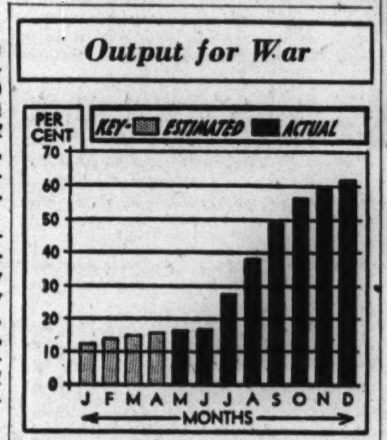
After providing $16,053,000 for taxes the company realized consolidated net income of $11,228,475, equal to $3.21 a share on common stock. The tax provision in 1940 was $4,734,000 and consolidated net income was $7,642,714, or $1.96 a share.

Armco paid 54 per cent of its 1941 net income in dividends to stockholders. The report emphasized, however, that a strong cash position is vital in wartime and implied that the future dividend policy would be conservative.

The plant expansion and improvement program includes a 17 million dollar Texas plant partly financed by the government and 23 million dollars of facilities to be owned by the Federal Defense Plant corporation.

The number of employés increased 14 per cent in 1941. Pay rolls reached a new high of $43,046,000.

"Thruout the steel industry one bottleneck still exists," the report said. "In the last year many open hearth furnaces have been forced to shut down because scrap iron is scarce and precious. This shortage daily grows more serious, threatening to become a sharp thorn in the side of the national war program."



How percentage of arms shipments to total shipments was increased by American Rolling Mill company in 1941.

Inland Steel Executive Pay 'Frozen' During War

Edward L. Ryerson, chairman of Inland Steel company, announced yesterday the pay of the company's executives will not be increased during the war. He said that because of income tax increases, the executives hence will have "very substantial reductions in net income."

'Mechanized' Army Still Uses Pack Mule, It Seems

Davenport, Ia., March 12 [Special].—Who said Uncle Sam's army has been entirely mechanized? At the Rock Island arsenal today, bids were opened for 2,334 draft cincha for pack mules. Cincha, it was explained, are "glorified belly bands."

JOINT DELIVERY PLAN PUSHED TO CONSERVE TIRES

Washer Production to Be Stopped.

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—The Office of Defense Transportation urged today that stores and other businesses pool their delivery services or take other joint steps to conserve tires. It requested, however, that any proposed pooling arrangements be submitted to the ODT.

These proposals will be forwarded to the department of justice which will "indicate in advance its approval of programs which appear to be lawful under the anti-trust laws," the agency said.

First Government Move.

The announcement appeared to be the first government move to induce drug stores, milk distributors, fuel dealers and other business groups in every community to set up joint delivery services to eliminate trips over the same routes by the vehicles of several companies.

The justice department said it would be alert to see that group arrangements were not "abused or perverted" to freeze out competitors, increase prices, or accomplish selfish purposes unrelated to tire and vehicle conservation.

Halt Washer Output.

The War Production board meanwhile announced tentative plans for halting the manufacture of household washing machines to conserve metals needed for war, and to hasten plant conversion to war production. The stop-order is effective April 15 for large manufacturers and May 15 for small producers.

The announcement was made by M. G. Burleigh, chief of the office machinery and services branch of WPB. The industry has been operating under a severe curtailment program for

THRIFT . . .
A Vital Part of Winning the War

Thrift is a vital part of winning the war—and what is equally important winning it with the minimum wastage of American lives.

The difference between wastefulness and thrift in civilian life may mean the difference between life and death for some boy on the fighting fronts. It might even mean the difference between success or stalemate in decisive battles. Thrift can shorten the war. Waste will definitely cause its prolongation.

The primary expression of thrift as a means of helping to win the war is saving money, buying Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps. The public can and will be expected to do its part mightily on the Defense Savings front. But all savings will help. The savings that go into insurance companies, into banks, will go into United States Government bonds or into loans and investments in industries vital to the war effort. More people need to save more. That is the short and simple message that needs to be preached.

But the need for savings goes deeper than money savings. We need to save in every way in our civilian goods production and to do without everything we can get along without. On the part of the civilian consumer, this means learning to be careful with what he uses. Electric lights turned off where they are not needed by 100 million hands mean tons of coal saved that can go into blast furnaces and steam plants. Motor cars which are kept running at minimum gas consumption, or not used at all for useless trips, release materials, needed to swell Army, Navy and aviation stores. Paper, hitherto burned, can be repulped and reused. Metals rusting on junk heaps or gathering dust in attics are needed for the production of new alloys.

New England has an old quatrain which expressed the spirit of civilian thrift which we need to keep in mind in all our daily life:

Use it up,
Wear it out,
Make it do,
Or Do without.

There are three reasons for civilian thrift. One, of course, is to add to the money savings out of which Defense Bonds can be bought. Another is that the diminishing of civilian demand by thrift will tend to offset the inflationary effect of the war spending. Finally as our war production climbs in a crescendo of effort, we will need to spare every man possible from civilian production and shift him into lines of war output. The less we waste, the fewer men will be used in industry for civilian purposes.

The importance of thrift is no less in peace-time than in war-time, although in the abundance of our national wealth, we have tolerated tremendous wastes of resources and man-power. Now, in war-time, we need to reverse our tolerant thinking about waste. It is an almost traitorous luxury.

Now the need of the times is to understand the vital importance of thrift to victory. There are other things that are important also—morale and health, adequate food and housing. It is poor economy to save at the expense of these.

Still there are a thousand ways that by making sacrifice and taking thought, we can back up the men in uniform with our savings and thrift.

STOCKS GO BOTH WAYS AFTER DIP TO NEW '41 LOWS

Final Gains and Losses Range to 3 Points.

New York, March 12 (AP).—Stock market prices swung widely today after many leaders had dipped to new 4 year lows at the start.

Bids then came in for steels and motors, along with some recently weak specialties, and improvement spread to other groups. At the best gains for favorites ranged from 1 to 3 points altho many issues continued to lag. At the close 231 issues were up, 285 down, and 199 unchanged. There were scattered losers of 2 to 3 points.

Price Index Unchanged.

The Associated Press average was unchanged at 34.3. Transfers of 455,263 shares, compared with 413,690 Wednesday.

Mild speculative support was attracted, brokers said, mainly on the idea the market had overdone the retreat, even tho tax clouds persisted and there were fears of more dividend casualties because of mounting costs.

Nothing much in the way of stimulation was derived from the war news. A bit chilling to sentiment was the opposition of the treasury to proposed liberalization of capital gains treatment in forthcoming tax legislation.

Eastman Kodak came back 2¾ and du Pont 2. Dow Chemical was off 3 and Allied Chemical and American Tobacco B 2½ each at the finish, all at new lows for a year or longer.

CHICAGO LIST WEAK.

Prices declined unevenly again yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange in transactions of 19,000 shares. Of 101 issues traded, 21 advanced, 59 declined, and 21 closed unchanged. Commonwealth Edison, volume leader with 2,300 shares traded, advanced ¼ to 19¼.

Central and South West declined 1/16 and Merchants and Manufacturers preferred advanced ⅛. In the last half hour, after the close in New York, Commonwealth Edison and Illinois Central advanced ⅛ and Studebaker and Walgreen declined ⅛.

ORDER DIVIDEND ON FOLLANSBEE STEEL'S SHARES

The Follansbee Steel corporation, Pittsburgh, Pa., which succeeded the Follansbee Brothers company July 1, 1940, yesterday declared a dividend of $1.25 on preferred stock. The payment will be the first since the reorganization. No dividends had been declared by the predecessor company since 1932. The preferred stock is cumulative from Jan. 1, 1942.

The Cleveland Graphite Bronze company announced a reduced first quarter common stock dividend of 25 cents a share. Payments last year were 40 cents each during the first three quarters, plus a final of 80 cents. Ben F. Hopkins, president of the company, said the reduction was decided upon to conserve cash during the transition to war work.

several months, and is already turning out 17 direct war items ranging from anti-aircraft machine gun mounts to bomb fin assemblies.

The producers are permitted to step up output to one and one-half times their February quotas for the remaining period in which production is permitted, in order to consume fabricated or partly fabricated materials on hand.

However, Burleigh said the companies need not expect priority aid in obtaining materials needed to manufacture the expanded quotas "The order is not in final form and is subject to revision," he added.

The war board ordered that 80 per cent of top grade leather soles be set aside for the manufacture and repair of military shoes. It estimated the order would earmark 3,840,000 pairs a month for army, navy, marine corps and lend-lease requirements.

The action will "relieve a shortage of soles for military shoes and create a surplus to guard against interruptions in manufacturing," the board said.

Rest for Civilians.

The WPB noted that the directive would leave 20 per cent of the top grades—fine, semi-fine, imperfect-fine, and No. 1 scratch—and the entire output of lower grades for civilian use. More than 4 million outer soles of the lower grades will be available for men's civilian shoes.

Cutters of shoe leather were instructed to reserve the specified soles for sale only to manufacturers filling military orders. The cutters were instructed to report to the Boston quartermaster depot by March 27 the amount of their reserve stocks and to make full reports of such stocks each 60 days thereafter.

During the day, the Office of Price administration urged citizens to dispose of worn-out tires to junk dealers to help fill a pressing demand for scrap rubber.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC LOWER AS COAL MOVEMENT SAGS

Railroad car loading of revenue freight dropped to 770,697 during the week ended March 7, or 10,722 cars less than the preceding week's total, the Association of American Railroads reported yesterday. A decrease of 17,127 cars in coal loadings was largely responsible for the contra-seasonal decline. The week's total was 3.8 per cent above the corresponding period a year ago, and was the largest of any parallel week since 1930.

The association's report classified the loadings as follows:

| | Wk. Mar. 7. | Change from Prec. wk. | Change from Yr. ago. |
|---|---|---|---|

A NEW INCOME TAX PAYMENT PLAN

We have established a special Tax Financing Department to serve you. Now you can pay your taxes when due and repay in convenient monthly sums. Examples of finance charges are shown below. Other amounts in proportion.

| If Your Total Tax Is: | Am't Borrowed Each Tax Pay't Date. | Monthly Loan Pay't. | Total Finance Cost. |
|---|---|---|---|
| $ 100 | $ 25 | $ 8.76 | $ 5.04 |
| 300 | 75 | 26.26 | 15.16 |
| 600 | 150 | 52.43 | 29.20 |
| 1,200 | 300 | 104.53 | 54.32 |

NO EXTRA CHARGES. NO DEDUCTIONS

Charges figured at 2¼% a month on amounts up to $100 and 2% a month on that part of balance over $100 to $300.

Finance your Income Taxes thru this new plan by borrowing each quarterly tax payment as it becomes due. The amount you borrow each tax payment date is paid in full by equal monthly installments, at the date the next quarterly tax payment falls due.

FREE NOTARY SERVICE.
We will gladly notarize your tax returns—no obligation.

FAMOUS NEWS PHOTOS IN COLOR—THE CAPSIZED LINER NORMANDIE

THIS IS A reproduction of a Tribune Color Studio photograph of the giant French liner Normandie, renamed the U. S. S. Lafayette, as it lies on its side in the Hudson river. Ravaged by fire, this 83,423 ton steamship toppled over on Feb. 10. Sailing on its maiden voyage in 1935, the Normandie was the last word in superliners. It was caught at New York City when war broke out in Europe. In May of last year it was placed under the protective custody of the United States, and on last Dec. 12, after America had gone to war, it was taken over by this government, designated a naval auxiliary, and renamed the Lafayette. As a troop carrier its capacity would have far exceeded that of the German liner Vaterland, which, as the transport Leviathan, carried American soldiers to Europe in the first World war. It is 1,029 feet long, and originally cost 60 million dollars.
